NIKE

The University of North Carolina and Nike extended their agreement for eight more years beginning in July 2002. The agreement provides each varsity team with shoes, apparel, equipment bags and other product. It also pravides $100,000 annually to the Chancellor's Academic Enhancement Fund for undergraduate teaching and $100,000 annually to the athletic department ta reward Olympic sport programs and caaches for academic and athletic excellence.

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA STATEMENT ON GAMBLING

The mission af the Department of Athletics is to sponsor a broad-based athletic program that provides educatianal and athletic opportunities for young men and women to grow and develop. In keeping with the Department's mission and the University's commitment to educational interests, competitive athletic programs, and integrity in all areas, the Department of Athletics strongly candemns the influence of gambling on intercollegiate athletics.

Student gambling is a significant issue on college campuses. Student-athlete involvement in gambling has produced many tragic situations, both for student-athletes and the universities they represent. Student-athletes often compete in contests that generate interest from those involved in gambling and, possibly, arganized crime. If given the opportunity, those interests will not hesitate ta explait the pasitian student-athletes hold on callege campuses. As such, the University af Narth Caralina is firmly opposed to all forms of gambling and bribery related to intercollegiate athletics.

To fulfill its educatianal obligatian, the Department provides a gambling education program to all its student-athletes and departmental staff members. This statement and the educational program are reflections of the Department's commitment to keeping intercollegiate athletics free from the influences of gambling and its related activities.

The Department requires its staff members and student-athletes to adhere to NCAA, state and federal laws regarding gambling. In the interest of fair campetitian and the growth and develapment af student-athletes, the Department strongly urges its friends and supporters to refrain from gambling/betting on contests involving collegiate competitian and to abide by state and federal laws.

CAROLINA FOOTBALL 2006 PREVIEW

North Carolina returns 36 letterwinners and 12 starters in 2006 to a team that is 9-7 in the recently expanded Atlantic Coast Conference over the last two seasons. That is the fourth-best record in the league, trailing only Virginia Tech, Florida State and Miami.

With 14 seniors, five returning starters on offense and seven on defense, many observers feel Carolina is ripe for success. The Tar Heels also face a schedule that is more favorable than the previous two seasons when the strength of schedule was ranked No. 1 (2004) and No. 5 (2005). However, Carolina still faces nine teams that made bowl appearances last year and must travel to Notre Dame, a consensus preseason top 10 pick.

Since 2004, the Tar Heels have posted several impressive wins, but have failed to capitalize on the momentum of those victories. Carolina recorded back-to-back wins over archrival NC State, posted a memorable upset of No. 4 Miami in 2004 and last year had consecutive home wins over Virginia and Boston College. The Tar Heels still came up one win shy of earning a bowl game invitation last year and are anxious to return to postseason play in 2006.

"We are in the so-called new ACC, with Boston College completing it last year," says head coach John Bunting. "We know that Virginia Tech is 14-2, Miami and Florida State are 11-5 and we are next at 9-7. I can't believe there are a couple of games we lost last year, like Maryland. We know how competitive we can be. Our fans are very appreciative of how competitive we were. The expectation on us now is that we compete and we win."

Carolina signed a top 25 recruiting class in February, but the most important newcomer this season is offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach Frank Cignetti, who was hired from Fresno State after the retirement of Gary Tranquill. Cignetti coached with Bunting briefly with the New Orleans Saints and most recently helped lead Fresno State to four-straight bowl games. It was his offense that provided the backdrop for one of the most exciting games of the 2005 season, a thrilling 50-42 loss by the Bulldogs to then-No. 1 Southern California.

Bunting also hired Fresno's Mark Weber to replace Hal Hunter as offensive line coach and added Virginia Tech's Danny Pearman to coach defensive ends. Weber coached two seasons with Cignetti at Fresno and their relationship should help ease the transition to a new offense.

"It was a very positive spring, with two new offensive coaches coming in in very prominent roles," says Bunting. "That was a very big emphasis of the spring, getting a new system in place and getting a couple of concept changes, along with a mentality change. We have really worked hard, throughout my five years here, to change the culture of this program to make it a mentally tougher football program.

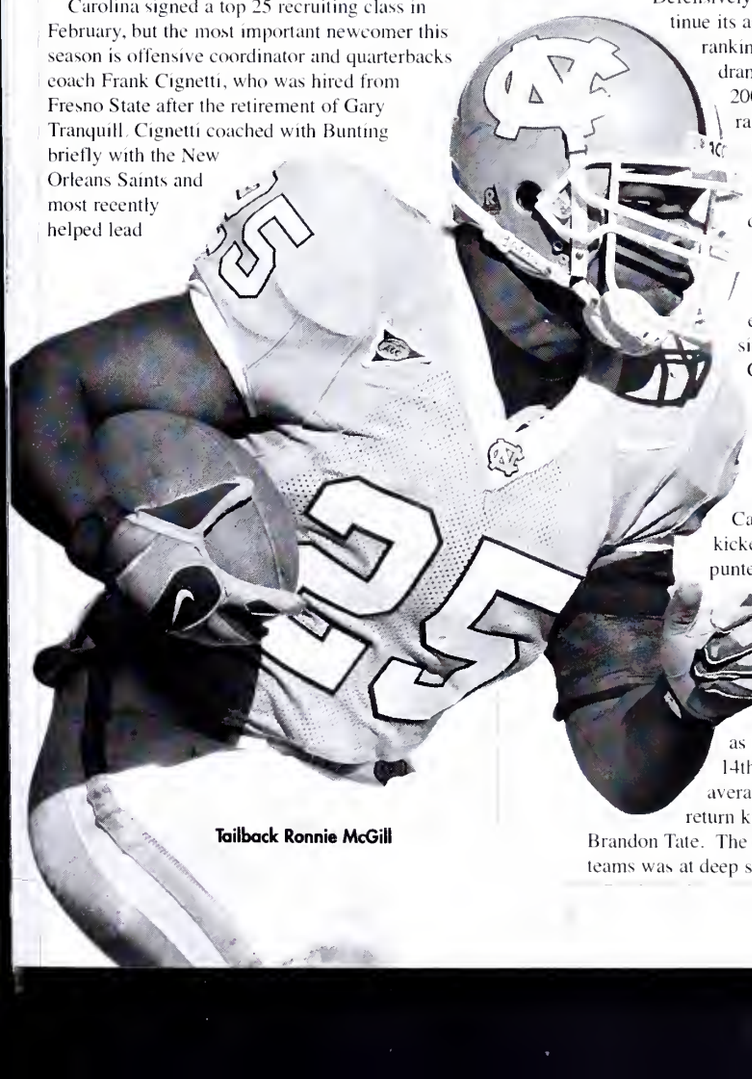

"It is the most fun I have ever had coaching spring ball. The newness, the freshness was part of it. Knowing that our defense played a lot better last year and believing that we could even play better this year with better depth at most positions."

Offensively, several Carolina seniors will play key leadership roles. Tackle Brian Chacos returns to anchor an offensive line that must replace three starters, tailback Ronnie McGill is one of the top rushers in the league when healthy and wide receiver Jesse Holley is a vocal leader who makes big plays.

The Tar Heels' most pressing need is at quarterback where junior transfer Joe Dailey and redshirt freshman Cam Sexton will battle for the spot. Carolina is breaking in a new quarterback for the second straight year.

Defensively, Carolina hopes to continue its ascent in the national ranking after last season's dramatic improvement. In 2003 and 2004, Carolina ranked 100th or lower in the national defensive statistics. Last season, under the guidance of defensive coordinator Marvin Sanders, the Tar Heels improved to No. 42 and posted several impressive defensive performances. Carolina allowed just five points in a victory over Virginia and held Boston College to just 14 in a win.

On special teams, Carolina returns placekicker Connor Barth and punter David Wooldridge. Barth looks to regain his form after struggling some last year as a sophomore. Wooldridge is in his fourth year as the starter and ranks 14th in ACC career punt average. The Tar Heels also return kick and punt returner Brandon Tate. The only loss on special teams was at deep snapper.

Tailback Ronnie McGill

HEEL PRINTS

• North Carolina's 2005 schedule was ranked the fifth most difficult in the country according to Sagarin. It is the second consecutive year the Tar Heels have faced a schedule ranked in the top five. In 2004, Carolina's strength of schedule was the toughest in the country.

• The Tar Heels have faced 14 ranked opponents over its last 23 games, including six in 2005.

• Since John Bunting became head coach in 2001, Carolina has played 22 ranked teams. Nearly 37 percent of (22 of 60) Bunting's opponents have been ranked.

• Nine of Carolina's 2006 opponents played in a bowl game last year, including Rutgers, Virginia Tech, Clemson, Miami, South Florida, Virginia, Notre Dame, Georgia Tech and NC State. Furman lost to eventual national champion Appalachian State in the semifinals of the Division I-AA playoffs.

• Carolina has finished .500 or better in ACC play in three of John Bunting's five seasons at Carolina.

• Seven defensive starters return with at least six career starts, including last season's leading tackler Larry Edwards (91) and the team's top two leaders in interceptions – Trimane Goddard (3) and Kareen Taylor (2).

• North Carolina was the only school in the ACC and one of only six schools in the country to score twice on kickoff returns. The Tar Heels ranked second in the league and seventh in the country averaging 24.9 yards per kickoff return.

• Jesse Holley led the Tar Heels and ranked sixth in the ACC in receiving yards per game at 60.9. He also led the team in receptions (47) and receiving yards (670). The senior from Roselle, N.J., is averaging 14.5 yards per reception in his career.

• After missing the first four games of the 2005 season with a torn pectoral muscle, tailback Ronnie McGill averaged 75.7 yards per game over the remaining seven games, the fifth highest average in the ACC. McGill had two 100-yard games in 2005 – 118 in a win over Virginia and 146 in a victory against Duke. McGill has four 100-yard rushing games in his career.

• Brandon Tate was the only freshman in the ACC to rank in the top 10 in both kickoff and punt return average last season. Tate registered 809 total return yards (542 kick return, 267 punt return), the second highest return combination in the league.

• Larry Edwards tallied a team-high 91 tackles in 2005. He posted 10 or more tackles in five games last year and has done so 12 times over his three-year career with the Tar Heels.

POSITION-BY-POSITION ANALYSIS:

Quarterback: For the second consecutive year, Carolina opens the season without a quarterback who has ever started a game in Chapel Hill. Last season, the Tar Heels turned to Matt Baker who had an outstanding season in his only year as a starter. Baker's lone backup, Joey Bozich, saw limited time, and was moved to fullback this spring.

Vying for the starting spot are Joe Dailey, a transfer from Nebraska, and Cam Sexton, a redshirt freshman who was unable to play last year after breaking his ankle in March 2005.

Both quarterbacks played well in spring workouts and Bunting said both would continue to compete for the spot in the fall. He does not expect to name a starter until the first week of the 2006 season.

"Coach Cignetti did a terrific job with two new quarterbacks introducing the system," Bunting says. "They did an awful lot of work on the field and a lot of work off the field. It developed into a tremendous competition. Each day, you could see one quarterback start to seize the opportunity and the other one have the off day. Then, the next day the guy who had the off day the day before would come back. It was fun to watch."

Dailey has the edge in experience after starting 12 games at Nebraska in 2004, but Sexton was one of the most highly-recruited quarterbacks in the Southeast coming out of high school and will continue to push for the starting nod.

"There is a lot of mental toughness to this game," says Bunting. "The position that requires the most mental toughness is the quarterback. I have a good feeling about both of these young men. I think they both can contribute. It's going to be competitive until the end and we may even play both of them in a game."

Needing depth at the position, Carolina signed three players in the 2006 recruiting class, including T.J. Yates, B.J. Phillips and Anthony Parker-Boyd.

Running Back: Senior Ronnie McGill headlines a group of running backs that hopes to return to the top of the ACC rushing charts. After finishing fourth in the league in rushing offense in 2004, Carolina dipped to 11th last year, partially due to McGill's absence from the lineup. McGill missed the first four games of 2005 with a torn chest muscle, but when healthy, McGill has proven to be one of the league's best power runners. Three years ago as a freshman, he ran over Wake Forest for 244 yards, the ninth-best single-season mark in school history. Last year, he rushed for 118 yards in a win over Virginia and finished the season with 75.7 yards per game, which ranked fifth in the league. Despite playing in just seven games, he led the team in rushing and scored five touchdowns.

"I know what Ronnie can do," says Bunting. "If we can keep him healthy, he can be a 1,000-yard rusher. The question has always been whether we can run Ronnie 20 to 25 times a game. To date, that has not happened for one reason or another."

Behind McGill are junior Barrington Edwards, sophomore Justin Warren and redshirt freshman Richie Rich. Edwards transferred from LSU in 2004, sat out one season and started the first four games of the 2005 campaign before McGill's return. His most impressive performance came against NC State when he rushed for 129 yards in a Carolina victory and was named the ACC's Offensive Back of the Week. Edwards saw his playing time decrease as the season unfolded, but made a strong bid in the spring to earn back the No. 2 running back position.

Warren is a walk-on who played well in limited time in 2005, rushing for 27 yards against NC State and 43 yards against Duke. Like Warren, Rich saw significant time this spring while the staff worked on developing depth.

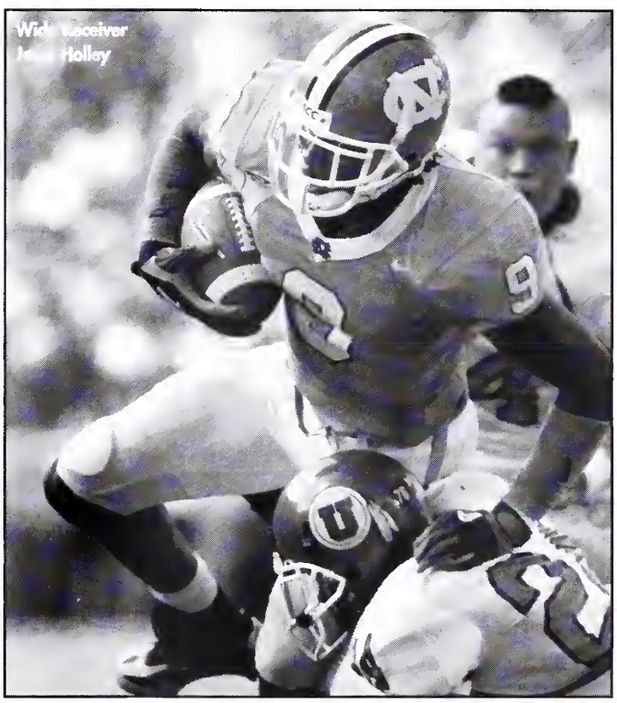

Johnny White and Anthony Elzy are two incoming freshmen with a chance to crack the rotation this year. White was the nation's No. 11 all-purpose back in the country and rushed for 5,133 career yards to break the 63-year-old Asheville High School record held previously by legendary Carolina back Charlie "Choo-Choo" Justice.

Fullback: Carolina has received outstanding fullback play in Bunting's five previous seasons and that continued last year with the performance of freshman Nick Starcevic. Despite missing the spring with an injury, Starcevic should be the starter this fall. Last season, he scored on his only carry of the year, a 1-yard plunge against Louisville. After moving to fullback in the spring, Bozich surprised the coaching staff with his quick transition and is currently listed second on the depth chart.

Wide receiver Jesse Holley

Offensive Line: Carolina returns just two starters to a position Bunting believes is the most important on the field.

"It all starts up front on the offensive and defensive lines," he says. "Since I got here, one of my goals was to develop an offensive line, a position that had been struggling. I think we've done that, but we need to continue making progress."

The most welcome offseason news was the announcement that Brian Chacos had been granted a sixth year of eligibility by the NCAA. Chacos has started 23 consecutive games, mostly at left tackle to protect the quarterback's blind side. Also returning is 2004 freshman All-America Charlston Gray, who will line up next to Chacos at left guard. The other positions are up for grabs this fall.

"I am comfortable with the depth, I am a little bit more concerned about the experience," says Bunting. "I think we have some talented offensive linemen. We just have to continue to train them and get them to play and to perform so they can gain some confidence."

Sophomore Garrett Reynolds played at right tackle as a true freshman last season and that experience should pay dividends in 2006. He will compete for the starting job with redshirt freshman Andre' Barbour, who may be the most athletic lineman on the team. Barbour saw extensive action this spring at left tackle while Chacos continued to rehab a shoulder injury.

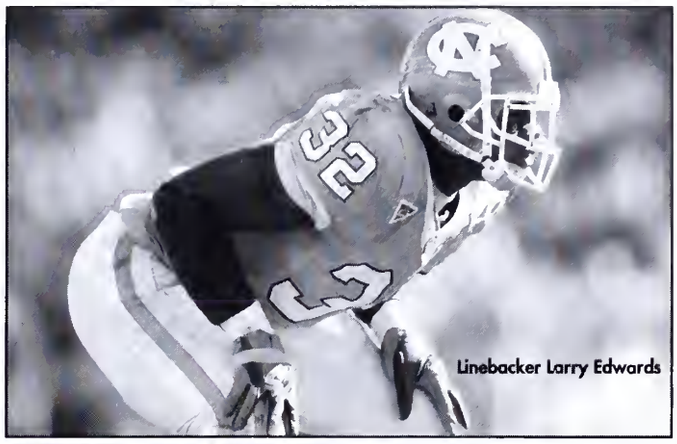

Redshirt freshman Kyle Jolly will contend for the starting job at right guard. Jolly has the size to play the position, but has no experience at the college level. Sophomore Ben Lemming, slated to be the starting center last year before a shoulder injury ended his season, may also see playing time at guard, along with sophomore Calvin Darity. Lemming is penciled in as the starter at center, but junior Scott Lenahan excelled in the spring and provides the Tar Heels with some versatility along the line. Senior tackle Kendall High and redshirt freshman guard/center Aaron Stahl provide depth. Sophomore Bryon Bishop has battled a back injury since arriving in Chapel Hill, but saw extensive playing time this spring.

Wide Receivers: Like the offensive line, Carolina's wide receivers were hit hard by personnel losses. The Tar Heels said goodbye to all-time leading receiver Jarwarski Pollock and solid contributors Derrele Mitchell, Wallace Wright and Mike Mason. That leaves Jesse Holley as the only proven wideout on the team. Holley was an honorable-mention All-ACC performer last season who ranked among the top 10 in the league in receptions (6th) and yards per game (6th). Holley caught 47 passes for 670 yards and one touchdown. He enters the season 14th all-time at Carolina with 89 catches.

Behind Holley, Carolina will count on sophomores Brooks Foster and Brandon Tate. Foster played sparingly last year as a reserve and Tate was strictly a kick returner. Bunting also made it clear this spring that several true freshmen would get a chance to make an impression this fall at receiver.

"We lost three guys who played a lot of football for us," notes Bunting. "I am really looking forward to getting a couple of true freshmen in here – Hakeem Nicks and Deunta Williams. They could play really important roles for us next year. They are not going to redshirt. They won't sit on the bench, they will play."

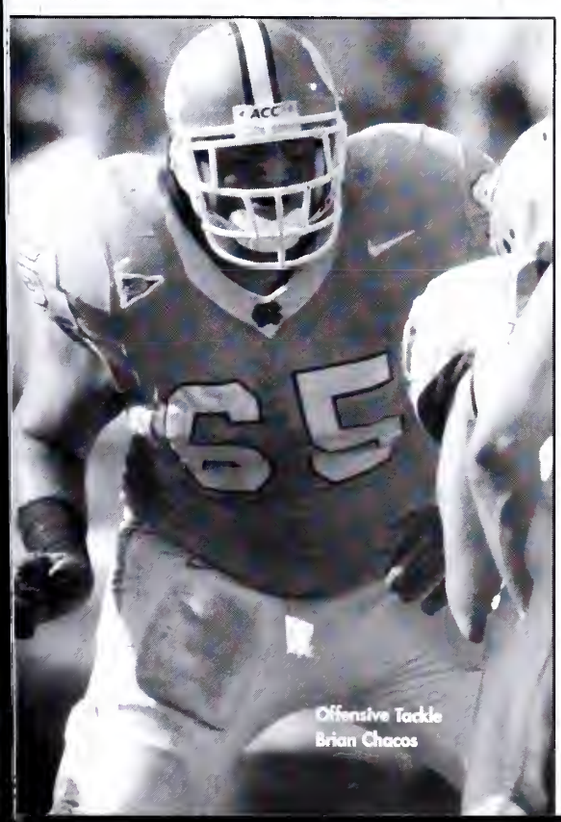

Linebacker Larry Edwards

Nicks and Williams were both SuperPrep High School All-Americas. Nicks played at powerful Independence High School in Charlotte and was named MVP in the state championship game. Williams was the defensive MVP for North Carolina in the Shrine Bowl, but is expected to start his Carolina career at wideout.

Tight Ends: What Carolina lacks in depth at tight end it makes up in front-line talent. Senior Jon Hamlett has put together a solid career and could contend for all-conference honors with another outstanding season. A starter since his freshman year, Hamlett is Carolina's best receiving tight end and has dramatically dramatically improved his blocking. Last year, Hamlett had 21 receptions for 212 yards and one touchdown.

Sophomore Richard Quinn is listed second on the depth chart, but Carolina typically employs a two tight end set. Carolina inked four tight ends in February and playing time is available for anyone who steps up early in the fall.

"Hamlett has done a total change in terms of his body, his quickness, his strength and his blocking ability," says Bunting. "I feel real good about what is going on with him and with Richard Quinn."

Offensive Tackle
Brian Chacos

Defensive Line: Carolina returns two starters on the defensive line, but must also replace two players who are now in the NFL. Defensive tackle Chase Page was drafted by San Diego in the seventh round of the 2006 NFL Draft and defensive end Tommy Davis signed a free agent deal with New Orleans. Those two combined for a third of Carolina's sack total and had 16.5 tackles for losses.

Returning are senior tackle Shelton Bynum, junior tackle Kyndraus Guy and senior end Brian Rackley. Bynum and Guy shared the starting role at tackle opposite Page last season. Carolina's coaches felt Bynum played extremely well and is often overlooked by opposing offenses. He is good against the run and can bust up a play by penetrating the line. Guy has started 16 games in his career, while Rackley is entering his third season as the starter on the left side.

Kentwan Balmer and Melik Brown are the most likely candidates to take over for Davis. Balmer saw significant action last season and can also play tackle. He has good quickness and is a natural at end, where he can chase down the quarterback. Last year, Balmer had 17 tackles and five tackles for losses. Brown, a slightly undersized defensive end at 260 pounds, needs to beat opponents with his quickness and speed. He has missed several games over the last two years due to nagging injuries.

Hilee Taylor and Garrett White both played as pass rush specialists last season. Taylor will again fill that position, while White should see more time at linebacker. Taylor made several big plays as a freshman, including a sack and fumble return for a touchdown against Georgia Tech.

"It makes a difference, having juniors and seniors up there instead of freshmen and sophomores," says Bunting. "Brian Rackley and Melik Brown, two seniors, had great springs. Kentwan Balmer is a guy who can play both inside and outside. He had a very good spring. Hilee Taylor, who will be a true junior next season, had his best spring by far. Our end position has some talent and some experience. We need to see who will be the leaders of this defensive line."

Linebackers: Carolina still lacks depth at linebacker, but Larry Edwards provides the Tar Heels with one of the best players in the ACC. Last year, he led the team with 91 tackles and had eight tackles for losses. Edwards did not play this spring while concentrating on academics, but will start at outside linebacker. White backs up Edwards and will see time in the linebacker rotation.

DEFENSIVE IMPROVEMENT

Year	National Rank	Int.	Sacks
2005	42 (349.2 ypg)	11	31
2004	109 (446.5)	8	20
2003	116 (505.3)	2	16
2002	108 (452.4)	6	20

"I think Larry Edwards has pro potential," says Bunting. "He had a tremendous year. He is very fast, very aggressive. He has learned to play and concentrate and learn the position of linebacker."

Durell Mapp, a former walk-on, stepped into a starting role midway through last season and played well. He finished the season with 46 tackles in just six starts. Although he played at middle linebacker last season, he will move to the outside this year to take advantage of his speed.

"There will be great competition between Mapp and Chase Rice, who was a backup player last year," says Bunting.

Senior Victory Worsley and sophomore Mark Paschal will compete for the starting position at middle linebacker. Worsley started three games last year and Paschal played primarily on special teams.

"The big surprise was Mark Paschal, whose dad played ball here as a fullback and played in the NFL," says Bunting. "Mark was a guy we played on special teams as a true freshman. We thought he would probably become a great special teams player, but he demonstrated this spring that he has a nose for the ball. He gets downhill in a hurry as the mike linebacker. He has some skills in pass coverage."

Defensive Backs: Competition at cornerback will be fierce this fall as Carolina looks to replace Cedrick Holt, who signed with the NFL's Tennessee Titans. In addition, senior Jacoby Watkins is coming back from a broken leg suffered against Virginia. His injury allowed for the development of cornerbacks Quinton Person and Bryan Bethea. Carolina also redshirted two players with outstanding potential in Jermaine Strong and Jordan Hemby.

"We have corners who have played a lot of football," says Bunting. "We have to see if we can get Jacoby Watkins back out there on the field. He missed most of last year. Jermaine Strong and Jordan Hemby are two young players who have all the talent in the world to play, we just have to continue to coach them and get them to be at their best when the season starts."

Watkins was the Tar Heels' top cover corner as a sophomore, leading the team with two interceptions and finishing fourth with 61 tackles. Person can play either corner or the nickel position. Last season, he blocked a punt for a touchdown against NC State.

Senior Kareen Taylor has developed into a leader this offseason and is entering his third season as a starter. Trimane Goddard assumed the starting position early in the 2005 season and led the team in interceptions with three.

"Those guys are solid players and are the backbone of our defense," says Bunting. "They have made big plays in the past and we need them to continue to do that this season."

Holley Leads By Example

by Adam Lucas

Jesse Holley hos never hod trouble talking.

But now he wants to make sure everyone is listening. Holley has always been one of the more loquacious Tar Heels. As he enters his senior season, though, he's intent on playing a major leadership role with his teammates.

"I worked out extra hard this summer," he says. "I spent a lot of time with Joe Doiley trying to get my timing down. At this point it's about the little things. I'm constantly telling the young guys thot it doesn't motter what you do with the lights on ond everyone watching. It matters whot you do when the cameras aren't on you."

The cameras always seem to find Holley. He charted team highs in catches (47), receiving yards (670), and yards per game (60.9) lost season. But when he looks back on his junior compoign, he doesn't remember the catches or the broken tackles or the touchdown he scored against Utah.

He remembers the drops.

Specificolly, he remembers a bobble in the end zone ogainst Georgio Tech. He remembers a similor muff against Virginia Tech that could have been a momentum turner.

He remembers...and he doesn't like the memory.

"I didn't have those drops because I can't cotch," he says. "I know I can catch. So that means I wasn't focused all the way. Some of those balls were easy catches ond I just took my eye off the ball. I thought it wos a sure catch and took it for granted. I con't do thot anymore."

In addition to sharpening his focus, Holley spent the summer trying to improve his speed. His speed isn't a negative, but it also isn't overwhelming. That's part of the reason why he has 89 coreer cotches but just four touchdowns.

Many of those catches have come over the middle, a place the fearless Holley has absorbed numerous blows during his Tar Heel coreer. Under new coordinator Fronk Cignetti, Holley expects to incorporote some diversity into his playmoking.

"I move oround a lot more now," he soys. "I'm playing o lot of different positions. I've ployed at the X, H, and Z (positions). Rather than teams focusing on me in one spot on the field, I'll be oble to move oround much more."

Teammotes should have an easier time locating him than Tar Heel opponents. After all, they merely have to listen for him.

"I've always been o guy who will soy something," he says. "But it's a little bit of a jump this year becouse people are really looking up to you. Peaple wont you and need you to be that guy. Thot's fine with me, because I've wanted to be that guy for a long time."

FOOTBALL

KENAN STADIUM

North Carolina plays football games at Kenan Memorial Stadium, home of the Tar Heels since 1927.

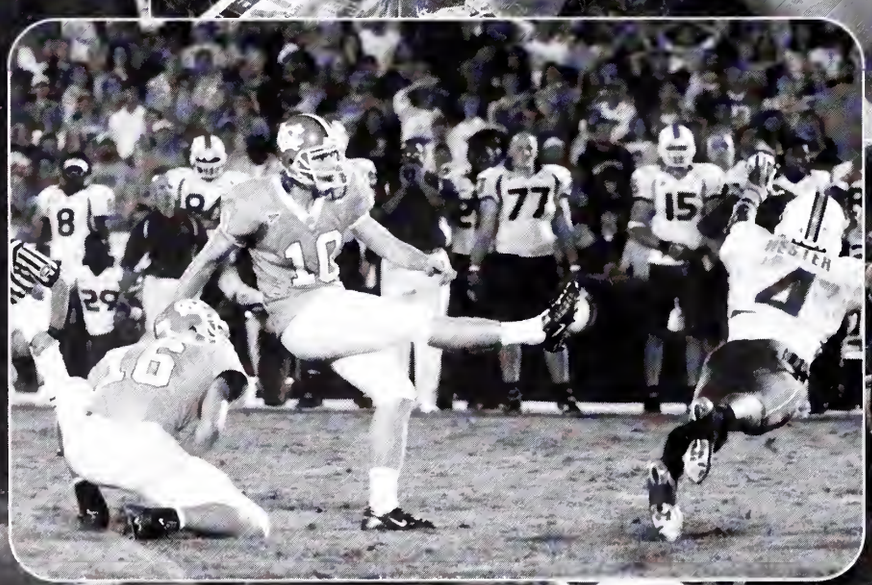

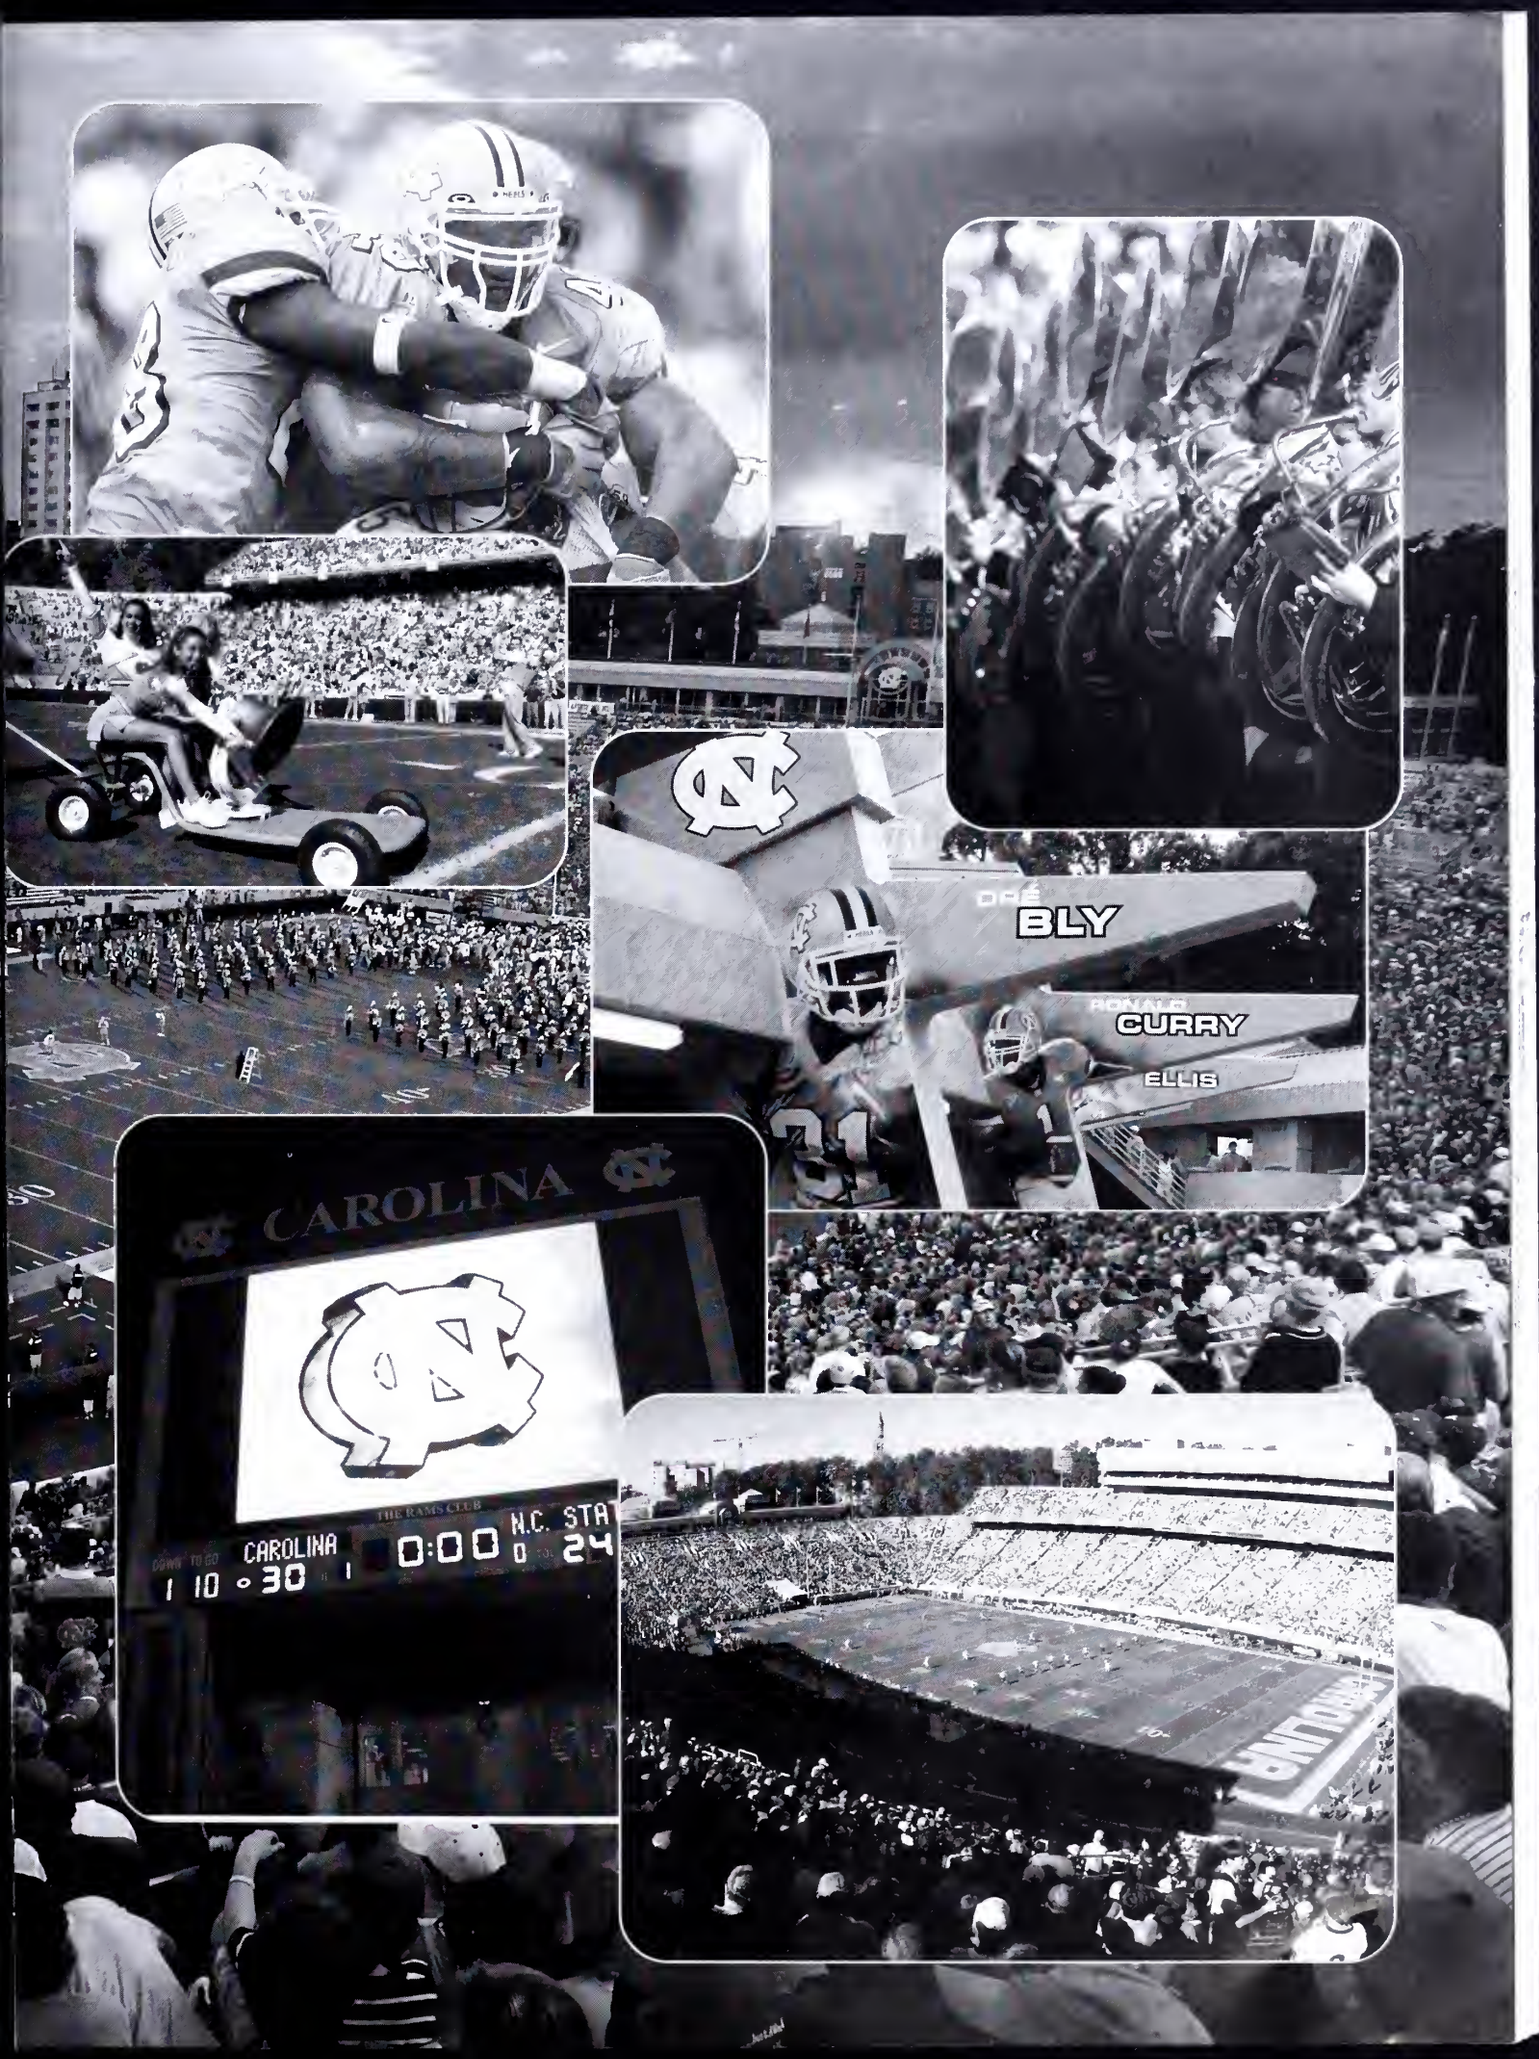

The Kenan Football Center was added in 1997 as part of a $50 million expansion to the venerable stadium. The Center houses the Carolina football program, including the locker rooms, weight room, training room, equipment room, players' lounge, study areas, 100-plus seat auditorium, coaches' offices and the Charlie Justice Hall of Honor.

North Carolina has scored two of the most exciting wins in stadium history since 2000. The Tar Heels knocked off No. 6 Florida State, 41-9 in 2001 and No. 4 Miami 31-28 in 2004.

"With all the pine trees surrounding Kenan Stadium, this is a picture postcard setting any time of the year."

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHAPEL HILL

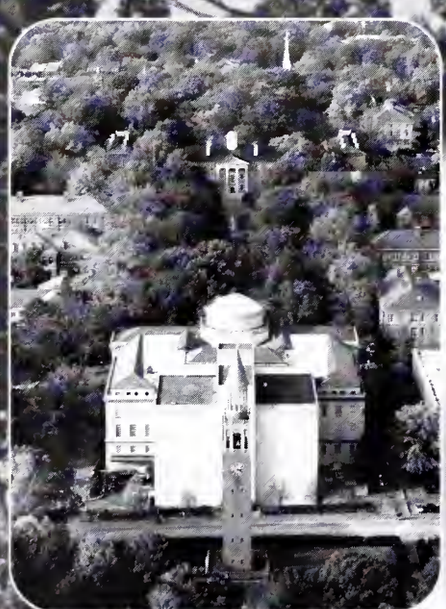

North Coralina ranked the fifth-best public university in U.S. News & Warld Report's 2006 "Best Colleges" guidebook.

Corolina ranked 14th—the highest ranking for any major public research university—in the 2004 "Black Enterprise-DayStar Top 50 Colleges and Universities for African Americans" list. This is the most recent ranking based an responses to questians about which schools were both a good academic and social fit for African-Americans.

Kenan-Flagler Business School ranked 11th in BusinessWeek magazine's first-ever ranking of the best undergraduate business programs. That stacked up as fifth best amang the pragrams at public universities and included ratings af 7th for academic quality, 10th for student satisfoctian and straight "A" grades in teaching quality, facilities and services, and job placement.

Kenan-Flagler appeared in several other best MBA program lists. They included BusinessWeek, 16th ; Forbes, 14th; The Wall Street Journal, 9th, bosed an a survey af carporate recruiters; and 8th for providing environmental and social impact management skills, in a global ranking by the Aspen Institute. Entrepreneur magazine ranked Kenan-Flagler third for educatianal pragrams, and The Princeton Review and Farbes.com ranked UNC first for fostering entrepreneurship acrass the campus. BusinessWeek also ranked the Executive MBA Program fifth, and the school's executive educatian programs were ranked 12th in the United States and 21st in the world by The Financial Times.

• In labeling Chapel Hill, "American's finest college town," Sports Illustrated said it is "the purest example we could find of a college town that is defined by a university – and a good university."

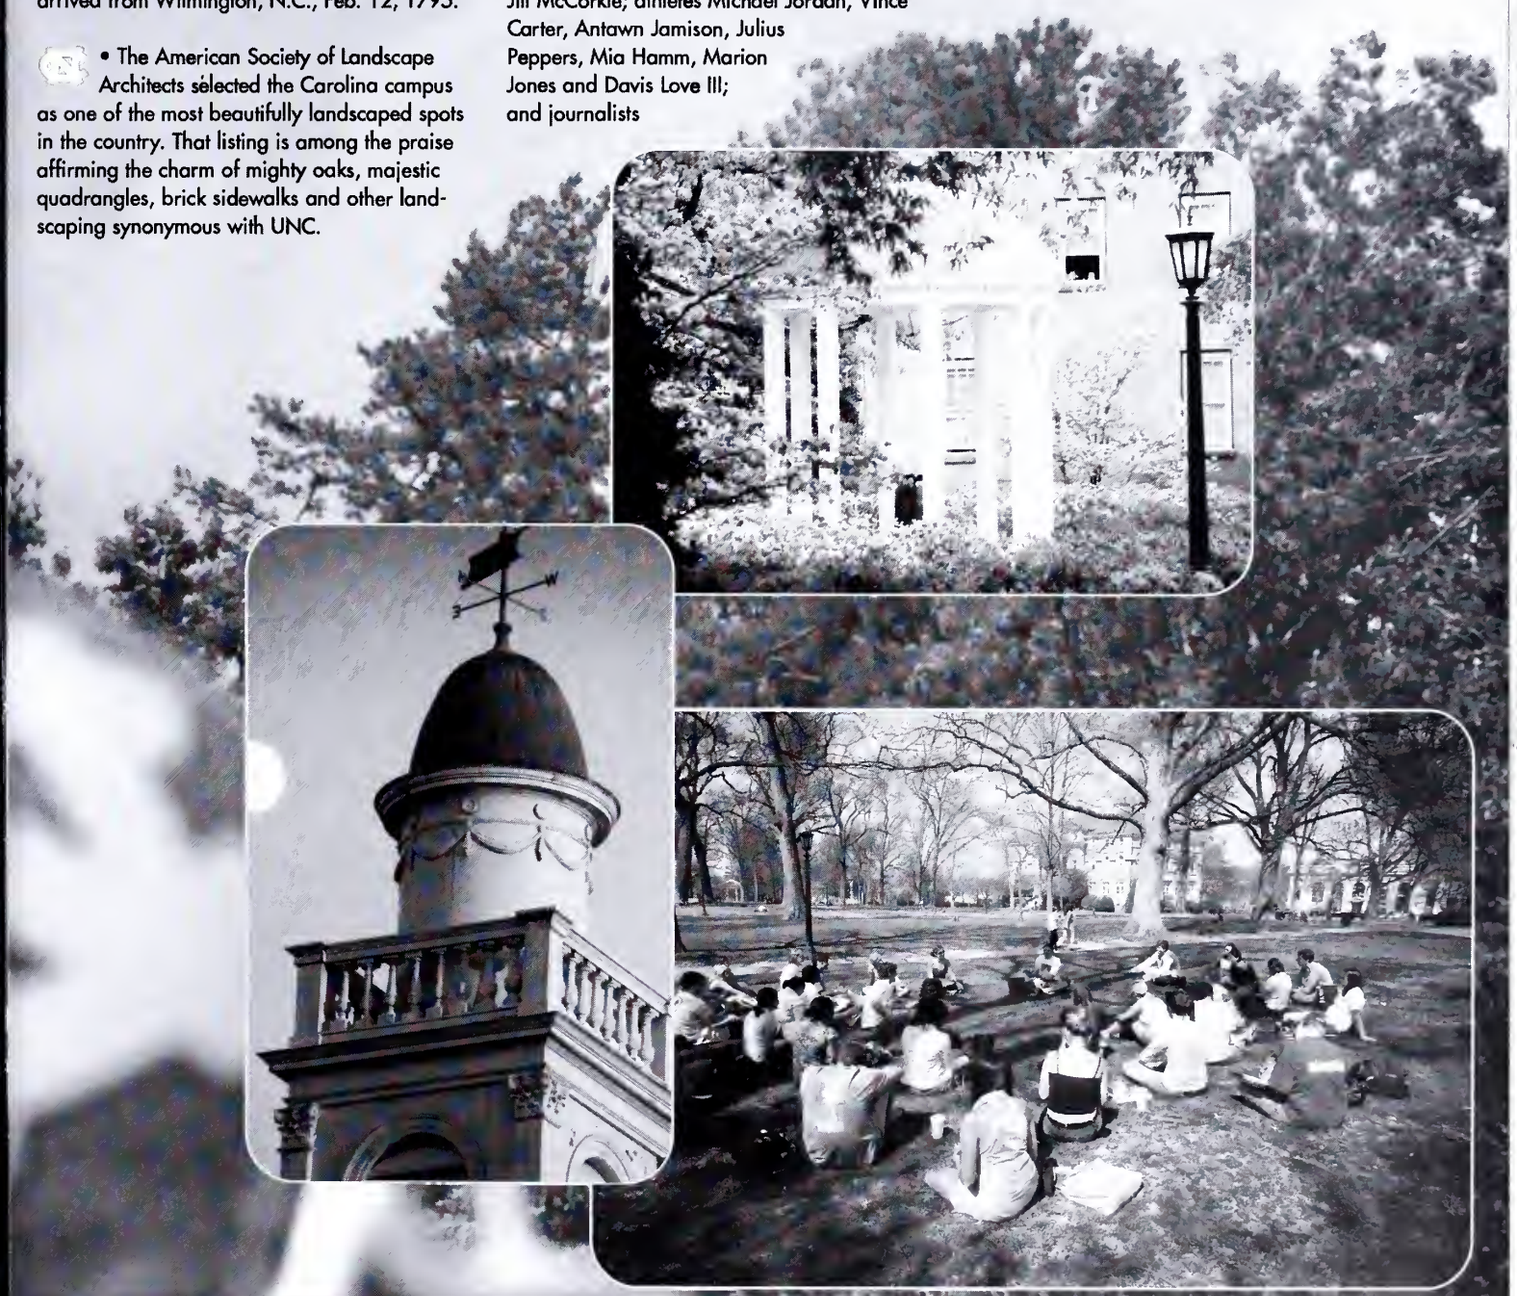

• The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill was the nation's first state university to open its doors and the only public university to award degrees in the 18th century.

• The cornerstone was laid for Old East, the nation's first state university building, Oct. 12, 1793. Hinton James, the first student, arrived from Wilmington, N.C., Feb. 12, 1795.

• The American Society of Landscape Architects selected the Carolina campus as one of the most beautifully landscaped spots in the country. That listing is among the praise affirming the charm of mighty oaks, majestic quadrangles, brick sidewalks and other landscaping synonymous with UNC.

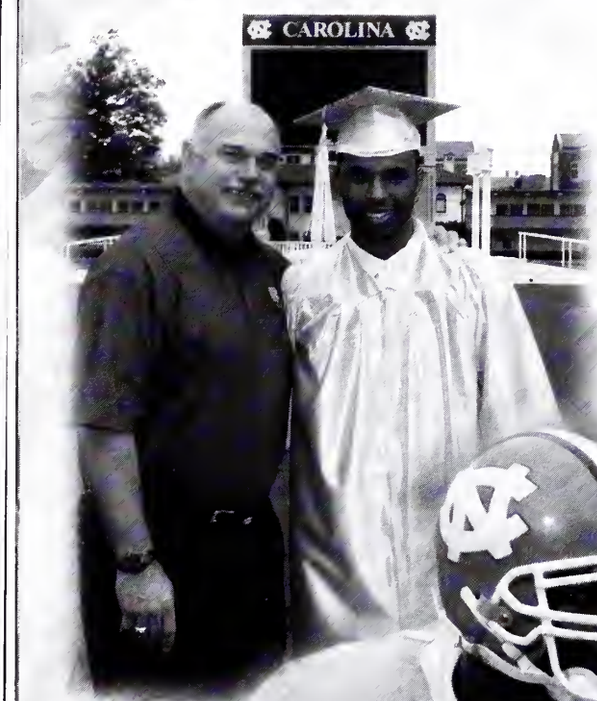

• The Sonja Haynes Stone Center for Black Culture and History opened in, becoming one of the few such facilities nationwide combining cultural programs, research, community service, teaching and learning under one roof. Funded by private donations, the Stone Center contains classrooms, a 10,000-volume library, seminar rooms, an art gallery, dance studio and spaces for performances, lectures, meetings and offices.

• Notable alumni include writers Thomas Wolfe, Shelby Foote, Russell Banks and Jill McCorkle; athletes Michael Jordan, Vince Carter, Antawn Jamison, Julius Peppers, Mia Hamm, Marion Jones and Davis Love III; and journalists Alan Murray, Roger Mudd, Charles Kuralt, Stuart Scott and Tom Wicker. Others include former White House Chief of Staff Erskine Bowles; former U.S. Sen. John Edwards (now director of UNC's new Center on Poverty, Work and Opportunity); Ken Thompson, chairman and chief executive officer of Wachovia Corp.; U.S. President James Polk; Hugh McColl, retired chairman and chief executive officer of Bank of America Corp.; and fashion designer Alexander Julian.

The University of North Carolina has been called "the perfect college town," making its tree-lined streets and balmy atmosphere what a college should look and feel like. Chartered in 1789, Carolina is the oldest state university in the nation, and its nickname of Tar Heels stems from the tar pitch and turpentine that were the state's principal industry. The nickname is as old as the school, for it was born during the Revolutionary War when tar was dumped into the streams to impede the advance of British forces.

LEADERSHIP CAROLINA ACADEMY

ACADEMIC SUPPORT PROGRAM

• The Academic Suppart Pragram assists student-athletes in exploring their interests and abilities, enjoying a braad educational experience, and reaching or exceeding their academic gaals. "Our young people are students first and athletes second and that will always be the case at the University," says UNC Director of Athletics Dick Baddour. "That is a credit to our coaches, administrators and support staff, but most of all, our student-athletes. Their accomplishments in the classroom are very impressive."

• During the 2004-05 academic year, 298 Carolina student-athletes made the ACC Academic Honor Roll, which requires a cumulative GPA of at least 3.0 for the year. In the fall of 2004, 176 student-athletes made the Dean's List, and 163 did so in the spring of 2005.

• The Academic Suppart Program helps freshmen transition from high school to college through a variety of academic programming which include: academic counseling, individual tutoring, group review sessians and supplemental instruction.

CAROLINA LEADERSHIP ACADEMY

As the natian's premier leadership development program in collegiate athletics, the Carolina Leadership Academy develops, challenges and supparts student-athletes, coaches and staff in their cantinual quest to become world class leaders in athletics, academics and life. The Carolina Leadership Academy provides comprehensive and cutting edge leadership development programming through interactive workshops, 360 degree feedback, ane on ane coaching, peer mentoring and educatianal resources. The Academy consists of three pragrams:

• CREED PROGRAM

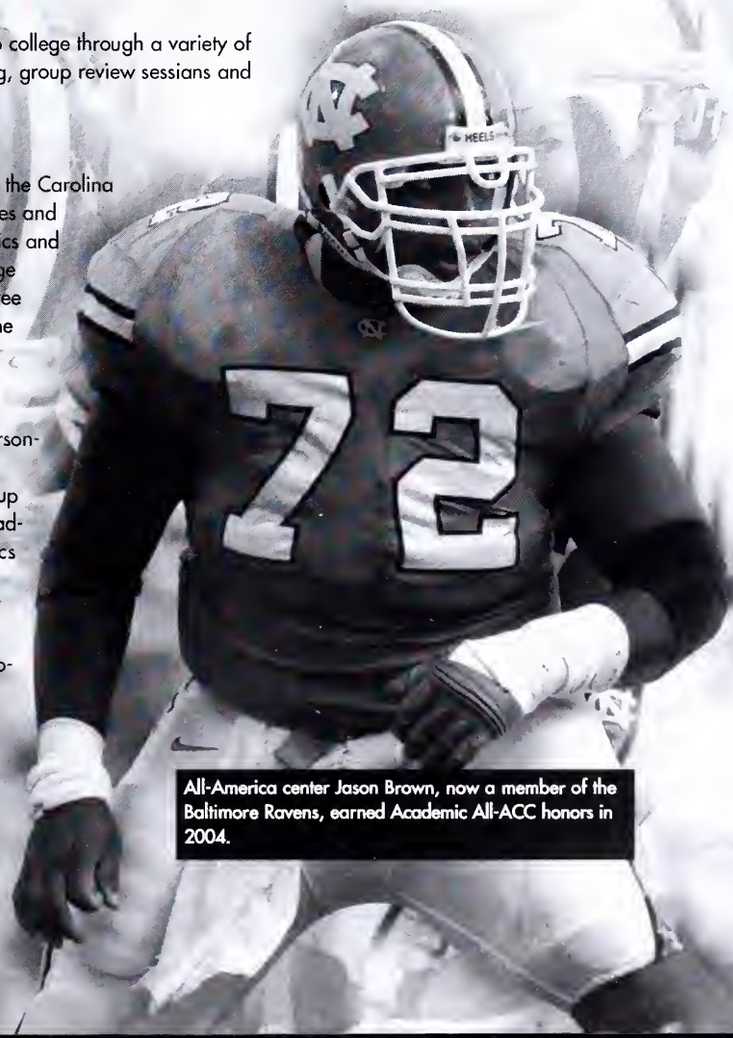

Leadership training begins in the freshman year. All leadership begins with personal leadership, therefore freshmen are taught skills to effectively lead themselves. Training consists of monthly meetings featuring keynote speakers and small group discussion. Upperclass student-athletes serve as peer mentors and discussion leaders. Special focus is on responsibility, accountability, making good choices, ethics and character building.

• RISING STARS PROGRAM

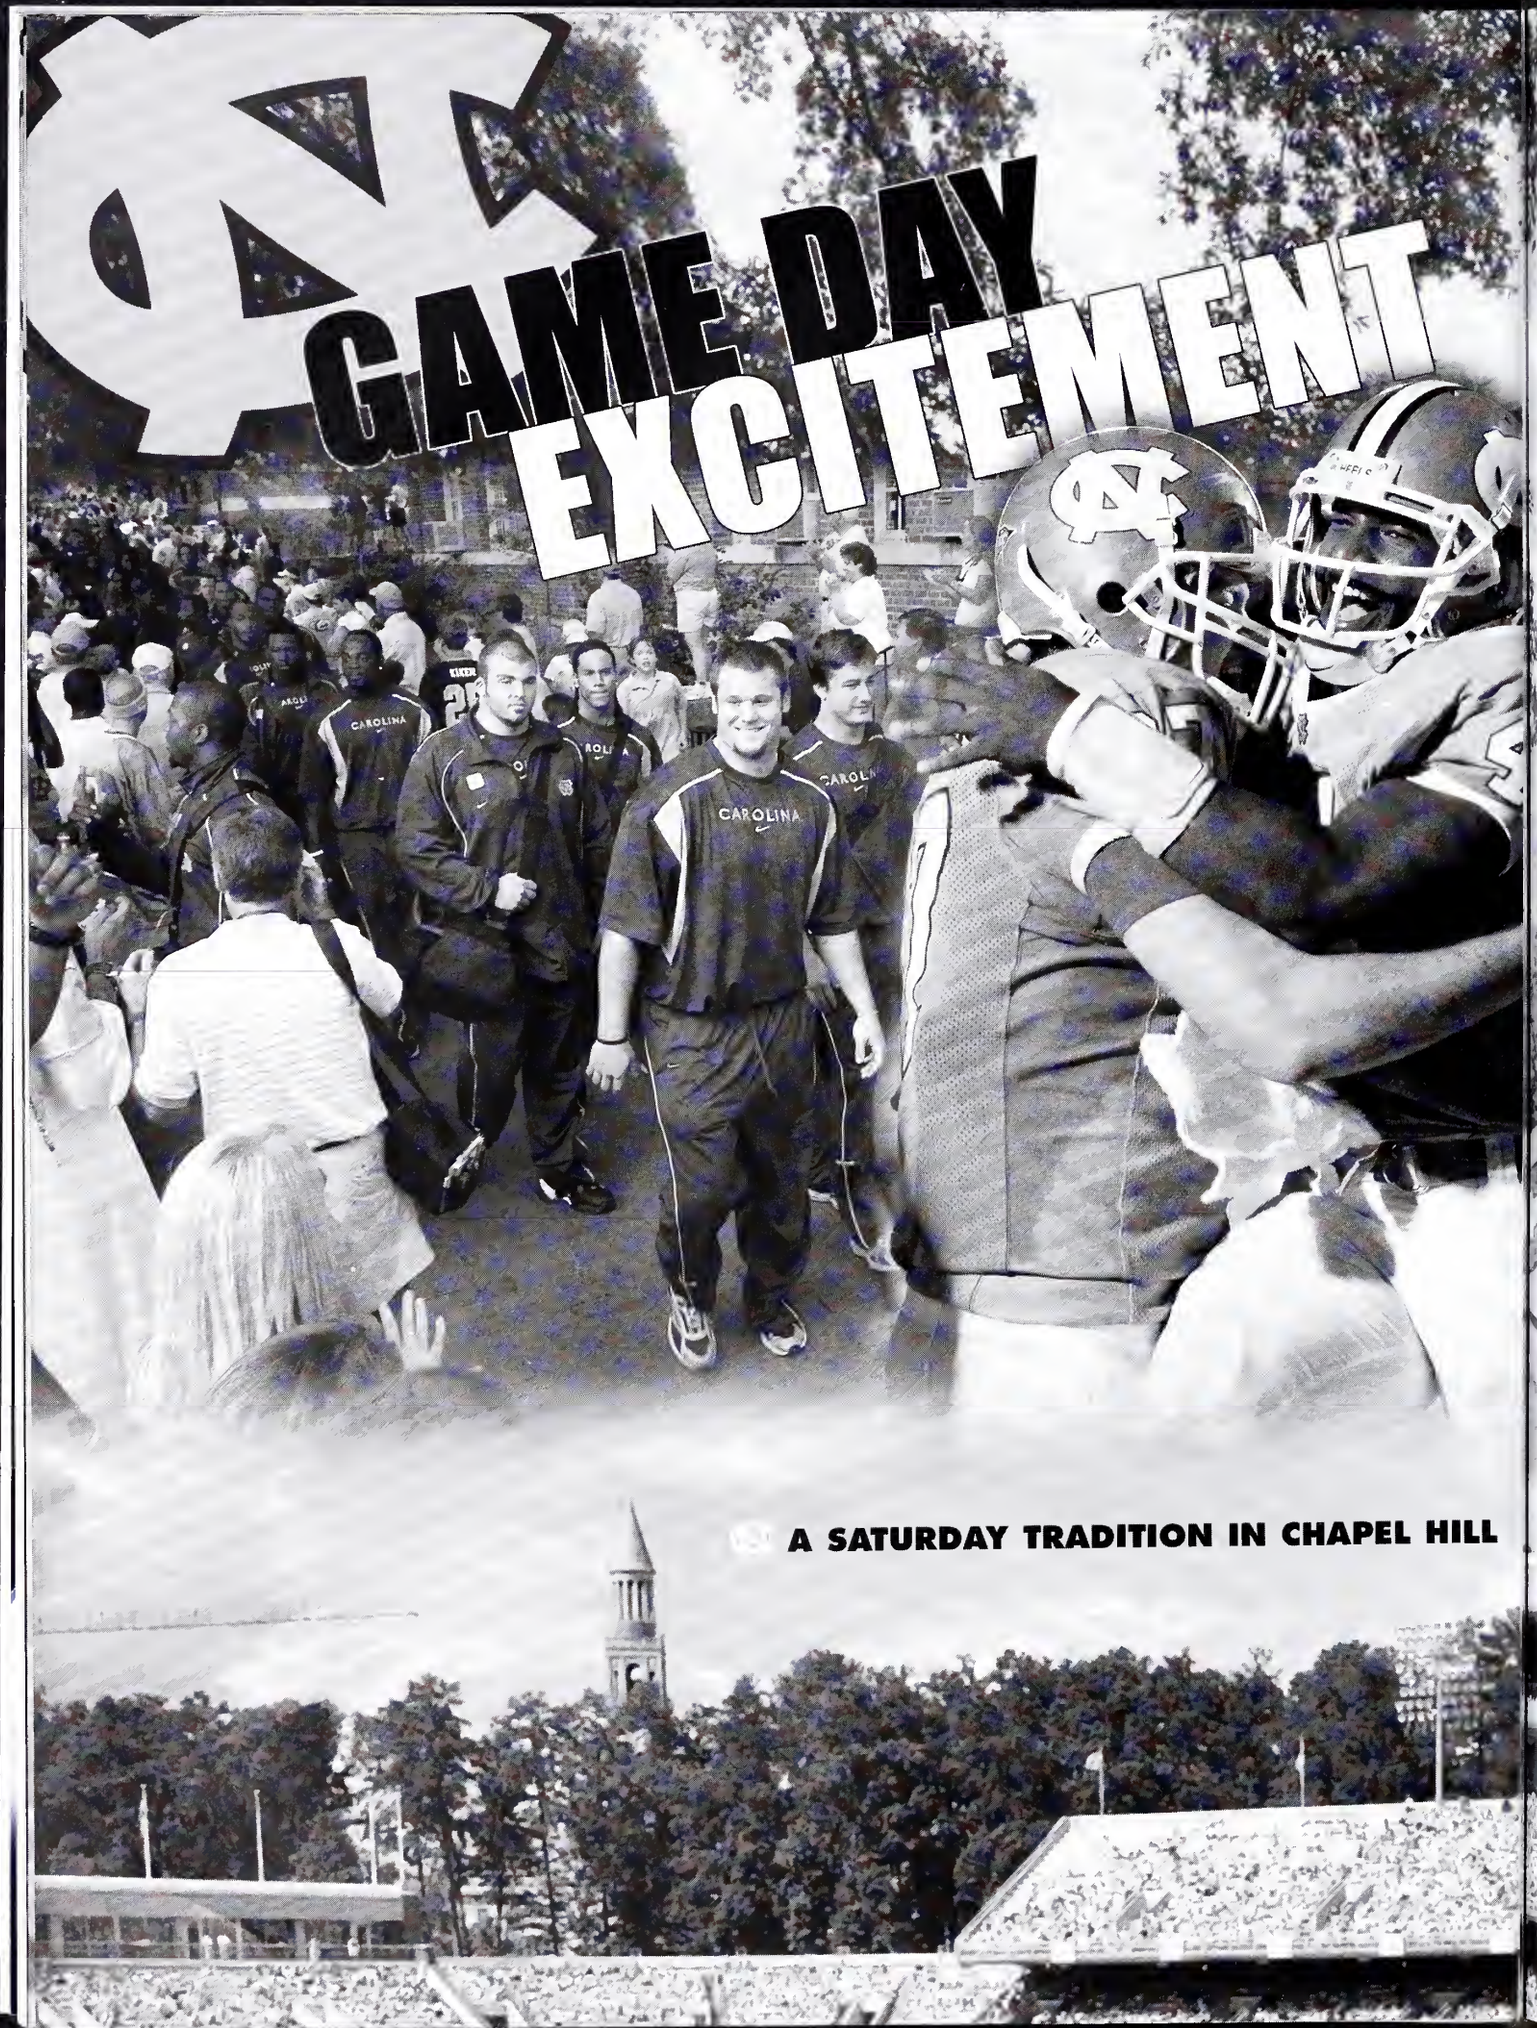

Designed for a select group of "high potential" sophomores and juniors, the program provides future leaders with insights, strategies and skills necessary to become effective leaders. The program includes monthly meetings, interactive exercises and action learning experiences.

• VETERAN LEADERS PROGRAM

This program is designed for team captains and veteran student-athletes. It provides advanced leadership training and support, teaches the critical skills and insights necessary to be effective vocal leaders and provides a strong peer network. Student-athletes meet regularly to learn and reinforce leadership principles and share successes, frustrations and lessons.

COACHING EXCELLENCE

• North Coralina head coach John Bunting played 11 seasons with the Philadelphia Eagles from 1972-82. Despite being selected in the 10th round of the NFL Draft, Bunting storted at outside linebacker in 119 of 133 career games. He helped lead Philadelphia to to the 1981 NFC Championship and an appearonce in Super Bowl XV against the Oakland Raiders. Bunting played with NFL notables Ran Jawarski, Harold Carmichael, Wilbert Montgamery, Bill Bergey, Jerry Sisemore and Carl Hairston. After his playing career ended, Bunting coached eight years as an NFL assistant cooch – four with Kansas City, three with St. Louis and one with New Orleans. In 1999 he won a Super Bowl title with the Rams as the co-defensive coordinotor. Bunting's impact on the NFL can still be felt. In the 2002 NFL Draft, Carolina had seven players selected, including two of the tap six selections.

• Under head coach John Bunting, Corolino has ochieved two af the biggest victories in school history. In 2001, Caralina smashed No. 6 Florida State, 41-9, and in 2004, the Tar Heels beat No. 4 Miami, 31-28. Miami is the highest ranked team Corolina has ever defeated.

ACC "TRADITION OF EXCELLENCE"

The Tradition

Consistency. It is the mark of true excellence in any endeavor.

However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 54th year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 100 national championships, including 52 in women's competition and 48 in men's. In addition, NCAA individual titles have gone to ACC student-athletes 130 times in men's competition and 71 times in women's action.

The conference had an immediate impact on the national college football scene in the fall of 1953 when the University of Maryland captured the first of what would eventually be five national football titles for the ACC. Clemson laid claim to the league's second national title in 1981 while Georgia Tech followed suit in 1990. Florida State pocketed national titles No. 4 and 5 in 1993 and 1999, respectively.

In addition, Miami has laid claim to five national gridiron titles over the past 22 seasons. Four of the Hurricanes' five national titles (1983, 1987, 1989, 2001) were unanimous with both the sportswriters and coaches polls in agreement, while in 1991 Miami (AP) shared the national title with Washington (coaches).

This past season an all-time high 14 ACC players earned first team All-America recognition while two others garnered second team honors. The 12 institutions that take to the field this fall under the ACC banner have produced 513 first or second team gridiron All-Americans and 71 first-team academic All-Americans.

The ACC set an NCAA record with 12 players selected in the first round of the 2006 NFL draft. Seven of the top 15, and 15 of the first 37 players drafted were from the ACC and the conference led all conferences with a league-record 51 players selected over the seven rounds.

The 12 current ACC schools have had 2,093 players selected in the annual professional football draft, including 204 first round selections.

If success is best measured in terms of wins and losses, then the ACC over the years has proved itself to be among the elite in Division I-A football. The ACC is the nation's winningest bowl conference as the 12 current league teams are a combined 139-119-5 (.538) in post-season play.

Following its 5-3 bowl mark in 2005, the ACC is the only conference to post a .500-or-better record in post-season play in each of the past five seasons. Since 2001, the ACC is 21-12 in post-season play and has the best bowl winning percentage (.636) among all BCS conferences.

In 2002, the ACC set an NCAA record when seven of its nine teams (78%) received bowl bids.

Georgia Tech and Boston College are tied for the second-best bowl game winning percentages in Division I-A history. The Yellow Jackets are 22-12 (.636) while the Eagles are 11-6. Florida State 20-13-2 (.600) is eighth.

For the first time in ACC history, league schools surpassed the 3.8 million mark in total attendance in 2005. Over 73 home games, ACC teams drew 3,835,260 fans, breaking the existing record of 3,693,032 set in 2004.

The Championships

The conference will conduct championship competition in 25 sports during the 2006-07 academic year - 12 for men and 13 for women.

The first ACC championship was held in swimming on February 25, 1954. The conference did not conduct championships in cross country, wrestling or tennis during the first year.

The 12 sports for men include football, cross country, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, wrestling, baseball, tennis, golf and lacrosse. Fencing, which was started in 1971, was discontinued in 1981.

BOWLS

The ACC is the nation's winningest bowl conference as the 12 current league teams are a combined 139-119-5 (.538) in postseason play.

Women's sports were initiated in 1977 with the first championship meet being held in tennis at Wake Forest University.

Championships for women are currently conducted in cross country, volleyball, field hockey, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, tennis, golf, lacrosse, softball and rowing.

A History

The Atlantic Coast Conference was founded on May 8, 1953, at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, N.C., with seven charter members - Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina and Wake Forest - drawing up the conference by-laws.

The withdrawal of seven schools from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953, during the Southern Conference's annual spring meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleigh, N.C., where a set of bylaws was adopted and the name became officially the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Suggestions from fans for the name of the new conference appeared in the region's newspapers prior to the meeting in Raleigh. Some of the names suggested were: Dixie, Mid South, Mid Atlantic, East Coast, Seaboard, Colonial, Tobacco, Blue-Gray, Piedmont, Southern Seven and the Shoreline.

Duke's Eddie Cameron recommended that the name of the conference be the Atlantic Coast Conference, and the motion was passed unanimously. The meeting concluded with each member institution assessed $200.00 to pay for conference expenses.

On December 4, 1953, conference officials met again at Sedgefield and officially admitted the University of Virginia as the league's eighth member. The first and only, withdrawal of a school from the ACC came on June 30, 1971, when the University of South Carolina tendered its resignation.

The ACC operated with seven members until April 3, 1978, when the Georgia Institute of Technology was admitted. The Atlanta school had withdrawn from the Southeastern Conference in January of 1964.

The ACC expanded to nine members on July 1, 1991, with the addition of Florida State University.

The conference expanded to 11 members on July 1, 2004, with the addition of the University of Miami and Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University. On October 17, 2003, Boston College accepted an invitation to become the league's 12th member starting July 1, 2005.

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

Old Guy Chacos Has Seen It All

by Adam Lucas

When the freshmen affensive linemen repart far the first day af training camp this August, they will-as usual-have ta carry the bags af the upperclassmen araund campus.

It shauldn't be taa hard ta figure aut which bag belangs ta Brian Chacas. It will be the anly ane with an AARP card inside.

That's what Chacas's razar-witted teammates have been telling him. Exactly haw lang has the affable seniar fram Darien, Cann., been in Chapel Hill?

Let's put it this way: he's the anly player left wha has seen every game Jahn Bunting has caached at Caralina in persan. Chacas signed with Caralina just 58 days after Bunting was annaunced as the team's new caach. On signing day, Bunting described the new recruit as a "tight end/defensive end."

But a mind far the game and versatility, plus a still-grawing bady, led Chacas ta the affensive line. That's where he's been part af a dramatic transitian, as the line has gane fram a perennial Tar Heel weak paint ta a saurce af strength. Haw far has Caralina came? Last year's squad allawed 33 sacks af Matt Baker...and considered it a completely unacceptable figure.

Anything belaw 40 wauld have been cause far celebratian during Chacas's redshirt freshman seasan, when the line caughed up 46 sacks.

"Offensive line play is abaut the cansistency af being taugh," Chacas says. "Mentally and physically taugh. We might nat have had that when I first gat here. But naw we knaw that it daesn't matter haw big and strang yau are. If yau have a motar and make the ather guy quit first, that's all it takes."

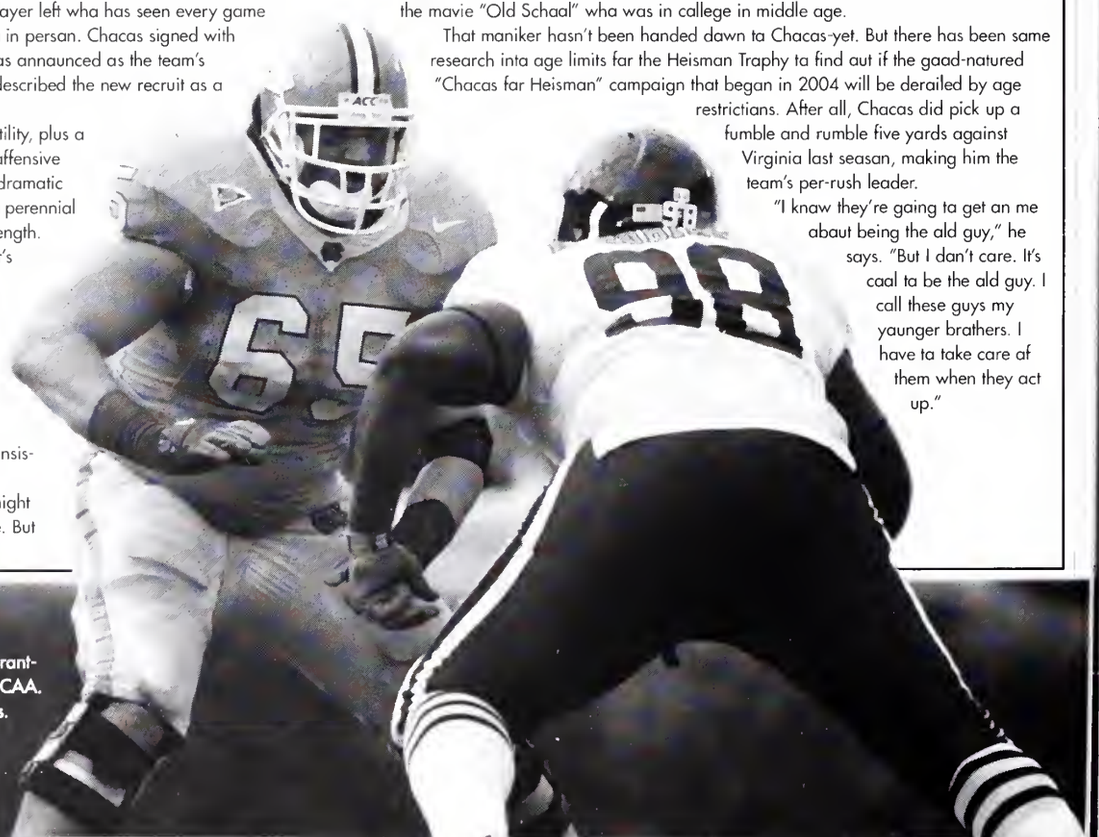

It's nat exactly that simple, af caurse. Ta refine same af thase details, Chacas will be warking under the tutelage af a new affensive line caach, Mark Weber. The line alsa benefited fram a summer visit by farmer Pra Bawl lineman Tunch Ilkin.

"We'll be caming aff the ball a lat mare this year," Chacas says. "Last year we were a little bit canservative. This year we're gaing ta let it all hang aut and ga after same peaple. We've gatten taugher as an affensive line."

Taugher, but still capable af delivering a gaad zinger in lighter times. Last seasan, sixth-year lineman Skip Seagraves was knawn as "The Gadfather" ta his linemates. Nat because af a resemblance ta Marlan Branda, but in hamage ta a character fram the mavie "Old Schaal" wha was in callege in middle age.

That maniker hasn't been handed dawn ta Chacas-yet. But there has been same research inta age limits far the Heisman Traphy ta find aut if the gaad-natured "Chacas far Heisman" campaign that began in 2004 will be derailed by age restrictians. After all, Chacas did pick up a fumble and rumble five yards against Virginia last seasan, making him the team's per-rush leader.

"I knaw they're gaing ta get an me abaut being the ald guy," he says. "But I dan't care. It's caal ta be the ald guy. I call these guys my yaunger brathers. I have ta take care af them when they act up."

Offensive tackle Brian Chacos was granted a sixth year of eligibility by the NCAA. He has started 23 consecutive games.

McGill Takes Over Leadership Role

by Adam Lucas

Rannie McGill has been leorning lessans in leodership ever since his orrivol on the Caralino compus.

His first neighbor in the Tor Heel lacker raom wos Dexter Reid. McGill wos jersey number 25, Reid wos 24. That was the extent of their similorities.

But the inquisitive notive of Clover, S.C., didn't let the differences stop him.

"It wos o great experience ta see how you're supposed ta push yourself," McGill says. "I wos young ond Dex molded me into what I've became now."

He also cites the influences of Joson Brown ond Dorion Durant during his Corolino coreer. And with on expected morquee rale during his senior seoson, he decided ta toke his leadership studies off-compus.

McGill opplied ond wos selected far the NCAA Leadership Conference held in Orlonda fram Moy 28-June 1. Simply being chosen is o prestigiaus honor; applicants must submit on essoy focused an leadership ta be eligible ond only one student-athlete fram each school is chosen.

"I wrote mine obout a former cooch af mine, David Adams," McGill soys. "He made o big difference in my life ond I've tried to leorn from that and hove the same impoct on some other kids."

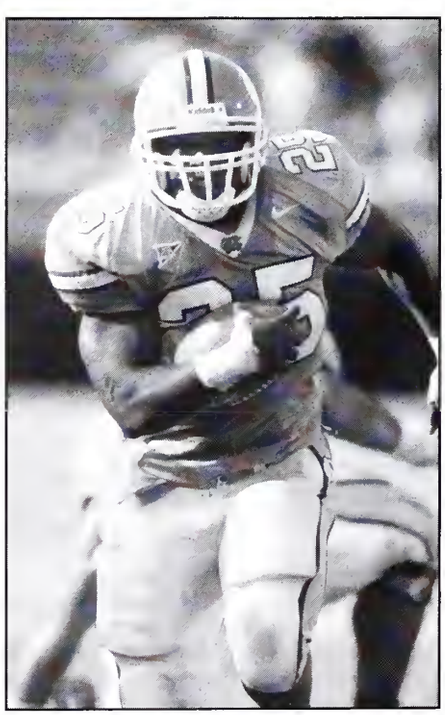

He's put what he leorned from Adoms into motion with o yaunger cousin, Antwan Cobb. The teenager accasianally faund himself in trouble before McGill sow him heoded down o dongerous poth ond intervened. The most importont difference he can make in Adams's life, McGill says, is ane af the simplest-yet sometimes hordest-things to do: "It's omozing how much of o difference you con moke by just being oround."

The life of o college student-athlete isn't olwoys filled with blacks of unscheduled time to "be oround." So McGill hos brought Cobb to him, offering tickets to gomes and counseling him an chaosing friends wisely.

"It feels reolly good to hove someone look ot you that woy," McGill says. "When I wos growing up, I wosn't even one of the most populor people. But then I got into football ond noticed people were wonting to do things the woy I did them."

He'll try to corry thot philosophy over ta this yeor's Tor Heels, os he's moking mare af an effort ta be a vocal leader. And o lesson he learned in Orlando has shoped the woy he relotes to his teammates.

"One of the big things we talked obaut wos how everyone on the teom has an impartont position," McGill soys. "Na matter haw low an the hierorchy they might seem, they're nat here far no reason. If you push them to the curb, that cauld eventuolly bring the teom down. I want to bring everybady together ond find out what it is that braught everybody here. And that will make us o better teom."

CAROLINA 2006 FOOTBALL

JOHN BUNTING

HEAD COACH

By Lee Pace, Extra Points

Five years into his tenure as head coach at the University of North Carolina, the picture of John Bunting has come into sharp focus. The 1972 graduate of Carolina has resurrected the Tar Heel program from the depths of the 2002-03 seasons to a program that has the fourth-best cumulative record within the 12-team ACC over the 2005-06 seasons.

The brushstrokes in the Bunting portrait begin with the handshake and the eyes.

Jason Brown, a three-year starter at center for the Tar Heels and today a member of the NFL's Baltimore Ravens, remembers first meeting Bunting on his recruiting trip in early 2001.

"He got my hand in that vise-like grip and looked me dead in the eye," Brown says. "He didn't say a word at first. He's got that passionate look that demands respect. Then and there I decided this was the man I wanted to lead me for four years. You feel his electricity."

Adds John Anderson, a teammate of Bunting's at Carolina from 1969-71: "John's got linebackers' eyes. The intensity burns through. It's like you can see them a mile away."

There is a discipline and loyalty Bunting shows toward his alma mater, the school where Bunting earned All-ACC honors and helped the Tar Heels earn the ACC title in 1971. His most treasured ritual is walking from the Old Well to Kenan Stadium with his players two and a half hours before every home game, sometimes fighting back tears when he spots an old teammate along the avenue of musicians, cheerleaders, kids and old grads. He stands at attention facing the UNC student section, cap over his heart, for the post-game playing of Hark The Sound after every game. During difficult back-to-back losses to Maryland and Clemson late in the 2002 season, Bunting found solace anchoring himself by frequent glances at the Bell Tower, the 172-foot landmark that looms just beyond the northernmost gate to Kenan Stadium.

"I drew on the Bell Tower," Bunting says. "I just fixed on the Bell Tower. It was a beacon for me those two years. It's still a focus for me. When I go out in that stadium, if I look at one thing, it's the Bell Tower."

The Bunting image is one of directness, sincerity and candor. There's never a song and dance. What you see is what you get.

"He's genuine," says Gordon Walters, a mid-1980s Tar Heel, a 1988 Carolina graduate and today head coach at South Brunswick High in Southport, N.C. "When you meet as many college coaches as I do and have as many come through your school as I have over the years, you learn to read them pretty well. You can tell who's genuine and who's not, who'll stick and who won't. Coach Bunting is genuine. He wants to win, but he wants to win the right way and he cares about the kids. He's a guy all Carolina fans and grads should support because there aren't many of them like that."

Intelligence has long been a quality associated with a player who took a "coach-on-the-field" persona into years of battle as a linebacker with the Tar Heels and later with the Philadelphia Eagles of the NFL.

"John not only knew his assignment, but he knew the assignments of 10 other positions on the field," says former Tar Heel teammate and current ACC Commissioner John Swofford.

"John Bunting as a player knew more about our defense than our coordinator, Marion Campbell, who was a defensive genius," Eagles linebacker Bill Bergey adds.

But his five years running the Carolina program has added the word "teachable" and "quick study" to the Bunting portfolio. When he took the Tar Heel job in December 2000, Bunting knew all the X-and-Os and blocking-and-tackling fundamentals he needed. What he had to develop were the skills of hiring assistant coaches, recruiting at the most competitive levels of college football and running a high-profile program within the context of a public university.

"There was so much to learn," Bunting says. "We made mistakes along the way. But we constantly reviewed and improved every aspect of this program. Our first year in recruiting, we were trying to catch up on the current seniors in high school. Today we have our fingers on the top prospects for two and three years down the road. In July of 2006, we'll have 20 to 25 of the top prospects for the class of 2008 on our campus. We've never been this far ahead of the game in recruiting."

Most important is the confidence and security Bunting has as a natural leader, a man whom Tar Heel players and fans can easily rally around.

"We believe in this man, we believe in this program, it's headed in the right direction," Chancellor James Moeser said after the 2004 season finale when Bunting's contract was extended through the 2009 season. "This team represents Carolina at its best."

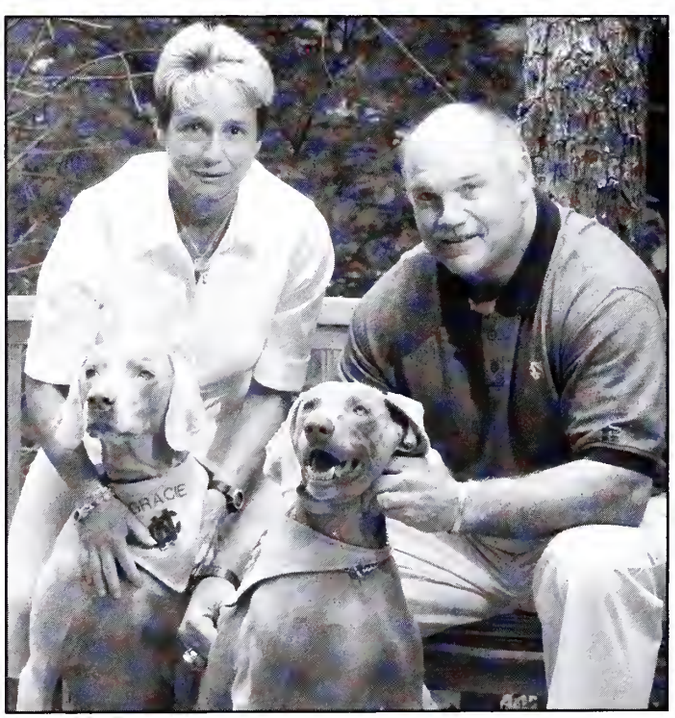

"We had to change the culture, and John's done that," Athletic Director Dick Baddour added. "We weren't tough enough, and we'd forgotten how to win."

Frank Cignetti Jr., the Tar Heels' new offensive coordinator, joined the staff in December 2005 and said he ultimately took the job because of his respect for Bunting and the opportunity Carolina has to reclaim its position as one of the top programs in college football. He said every potential Tar Heel should have two goals - to earn a degree and then play in the NFL.

"And we have a head coach who has done both," Cignetti says. "You can't have a better role model than that."

John Bunting was first attracted to the University of North Carolina in the mid-1960s when the basketball Tar Heels of Coach Dean Smith visited the University of Maryland's Cole Field House, located just a few miles from Bunting's home in Silver Spring, Md. He liked the Carolina blue uniforms and was impressed by the Tar Heels' demeanor - focused, calm under pressure, relentless in their pursuit of victory.

Tar Heel Head Football Coach Bill Dooley saw in Bunting a tough, strong athlete, an intelligent player and one who could help anchor a growing program and become a player others would look to for direction. Those were qualities neighborhood pals, high school teammates and coaches had known in Bunting for years.

"It's not anything you can explain to people," Springbrook High Coach Jim Collier says. "John had a sense of drive, of hunger, something inside that absolutely propelled him to excel. And, of course, he had the physical attributes to go with it."

Adds Frank Kaufman, a neighborhood friend: "John was a great competitor from the day we met, about the fourth grade. He had this quiet confidence in his ability. He had incredible energy. And he had a very intelligent approach to everything he applied himself to. His discipline and dedication were there from the start."

Bunting started three years for the Tar Heels and helped Dooley rebuild the program with records of 5-5 in '69, 8-4 in '70 and 9-3 in '71. His trademarks were not physical skills-he ran 4.85 in the 40 and stood only 6-1, 210 pounds-but toughness, mental capacity and a white-hot desire to be the best.

"John was so fierce," says Flip Ray, who played defensive tackle in the class ahead of Bunting. "He would take or deliver the hardest hit you can imagine, then get right back up. His jaw would tighten, his eyes would burn with intensity.

"He wouldn't have to say anything. Just seeing him stare out from behind that facemask was all anyone else needed for motivation."

Bunting's final team collected the ACC Championship and lost 7-3 to Georgia in the Gator Bowl. Since then, only the 1972, 1977 and 1980 teams have won the league title, a distinction that has become imminently more difficult the last decade with the ACC's expansion. At the news conference to announce his hiring in December 2000, a reporter asked Bunting about the huge Super Bowl ring he collected during his tenure in St. Louis.

Bunting paid homage to the Rams' accomplishment-capped by a 23-17 win over Tennessee in the 2000 Super Bowl-then reached in his pocket and pulled out a smaller, older ring.

"This ring right here is just as important to me," he said. "It's my 1971 ACC Championship ring that I won with a bunch of hard-working guys who had one common goal. That's what we're going to work to get done here."

Over almost three decades since leaving Chapel Hill with his diploma, Bunting's life as a player, coach and leader prepared him for his eventual calling of returning to Kenan Stadium:

• Served as a cornerstone to the building job Dick Vermeil performed at Philadelphia from 1976-82, a period that included the Eagles winning the 1981 NFC Championship before losing to Oakland in the Super Bowl.

"His passion for the game and the team were clear from the beginning," says Vermeil. "He was a player you could build around, one who exemplified the characteristics you want in a football player. John defined the expression, 'Winning with character.'"

• Exhibited extraordinary courage and desire to recover from a serious knee injury during the 1978 season. He had cartilage removed and ligaments repaired-major surgery at the time with a long convalescence. Many players don't recover.

"Surgical and rehab techniques weren't what they are today," says Frank LeMaster, a fellow Eagles linebacker at the time. "He was in rehab six days a week, five hours a day. He had ice on his knee constantly. He paid the price dearly."

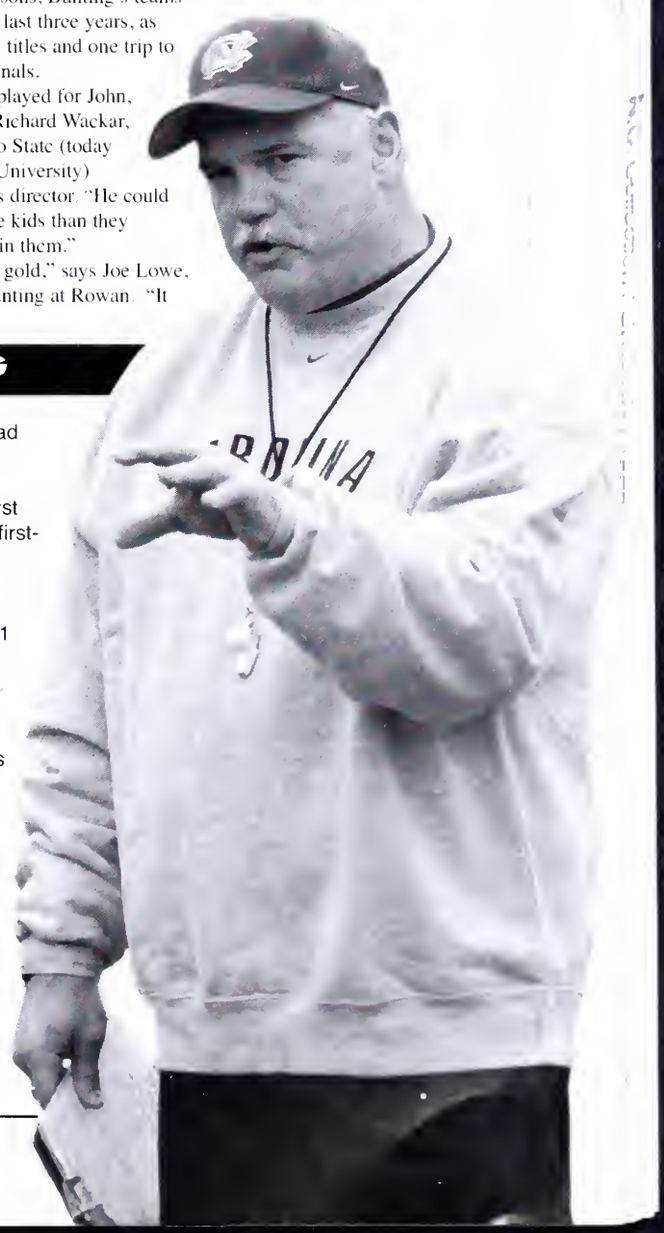

• Played an integral role in the 1982 NFL players strike, which saw an eight-week work stoppage. Bunting was the Eagles' players representative to the NFL Players Association and was a member of the players' executive committee. Teammates and NFL officials felt the Eagles were one of the most unified and informed clubs in the league because of Bunting's work.

"It was amazing the power John had over a lot of guys making a lot of money," says K.C. Keeler, an Eagles teammate and now head coach at the University of Delaware. "They'd follow him blindly."

• Dived heart-and-soul into the coaching business in 1988 when he was named head coach at Glassboro State College in southern New Jersey. After two rebuilding seasons, Bunting's teams won 28 games the last three years, as well as two league titles and one trip to the national semifinals.

"Anyone who played for John, loved him," says Richard Wackar, a former Glassboro State (today known as Rowan University) coach and athletics director. "He could get more out of the kids than they believed they had in them."

"His word was gold," says Joe Lowe, who played for Bunting at Rowan. "It

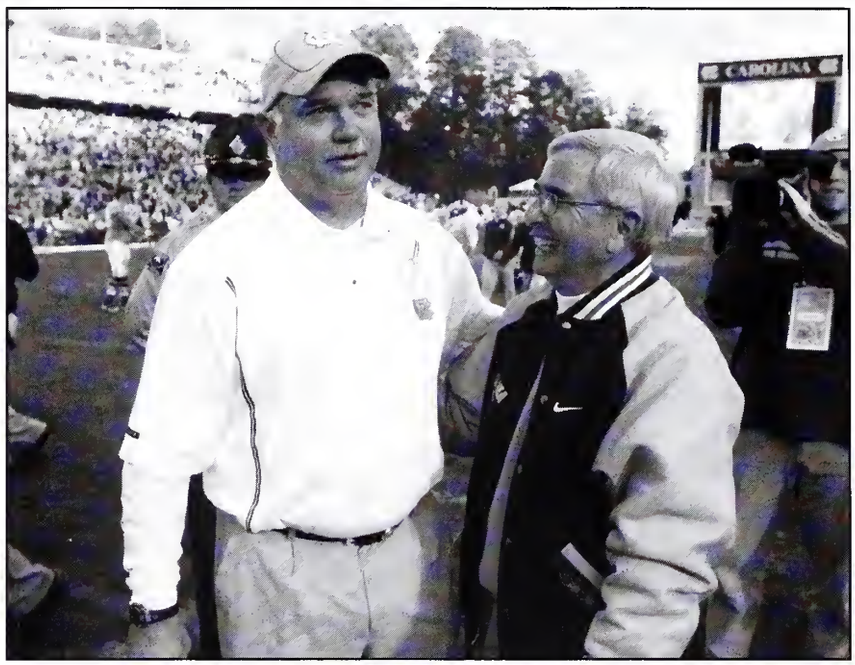

THE BOOK ON BUNTING

- Bunting was hired as Carolina's 32nd head coach on December 11, 2000.
- Bunting won more games (eight) in his first season at North Carolina than any other first-year coach in school history.
- In his first season, Bunting lead the Tar Heels to a victory over Auburn in the 2001 Peach Bowl. In 2004, Carolina earned a berth in Charlotte's Continental Tire Bowl.
- Bunting earned first-team All-ACC and honorable-mention All-America honors as a linebacker at North Carolina in 1971.
- A 10th-round NFL pick, Bunting played 13 years of professional football, including 11 with the Philadelphia Eagles.
- Bunting was the starting linebacker on the Eagles squad that played in the 1981 Super Bowl.
- Bunting won a Super Bowl in 1999 as a co-defensive coordinator with the St. Louis Rams.

• Returned to the NFL for eight years as an assistant coach-four at Kansas City, three at St. Louis and one at New Orleans. His linebacking corps at each stop were considered among the best in the league. The high point of this tour of duty was winning the Super Bowl with Vermeil when one of his linebackers, Mike Jones, made the game-saving tackle at the one yard-line on a Tennessee Titan on the final play of the game.

Head Coach John Bunting and Carolina Athletic Director Dick Baddour celebrate after last year's victory over Virginia.

These were the skills and experiences Bunting brought with him to Chapel Hill for the 2001 season. One of his first significant decisions was to schedule a trip to Norman, Okla., to play the Oklahoma Sooners in the 2001 season opener. Bunting wanted to make a statement to his team that he was confident in their ability to handle the challenge and to the world at large that he was willing to face any opponent, any time, any where.

"What an incredible show of respect the Oklahoma game was for us, and he didn't even know us at the time," says former center Adam Metts. "It set the tone for the offseason. If you want to be the best, you've got to play the best."

Carolina lost at Oklahoma, then on the road as well at Maryland and Texas. But a foundation had been laid and Bunting and the Tar Heels never quit. They shocked Florida State at home on Sept. 22, then reeled off four more victories and were in the running for a Bowl Championship Series berth going into a road game at Georgia Tech in early November. Unfortunately, the Tar Heels lost that game and the next one, at home against Wake Forest, but rallied to beat Duke, SMU and Auburn to finish 8-5.

Throughout 2001, Bunting was confident that the consistency of demands from him and his staff made an impression on the players.

"We stayed the course," Bunting says. "We wanted to do things our way. We've been very demanding and disciplined. A lot of players couldn't meet our standards and aren't here. A lot of players had to change their way of doing things. They had to make the right choices, do the right things or suffer the consequences."

The following two seasons would test every fiber of strength and resolve Bunting possessed. Caught with a talent warp of athletic players across the board on defense and speed on the perimeter in particular, the Tar Heels suffered seasons of 3-9 and 2-10. But the coach and his staff continued to teach their current players and work hard to find talented newcomers. Bunting needed to learn and adjust to the nuances and style of recruiting in Division 1-A football, but the essence of relating one-on-one to a 17-year-old was a skill he always possessed.

"The way I recruit an individual now is very similar to the way I did at Glassboro," Bunting says. "I am going to tell him the truth. I'm going to sell them on the great things here. And we had great things at Glassboro as well. I knew that we would win. Kids who spent time with me, they believed me. Their parents are going to understand that we are going to take their son and help make him a man. All of that works the same, no matter what level of football you're talking about."

Bunting and staff have now recruited and developed a roster full of quality players. They have provided the structure and landscape in which the Tar Heels can succeed. The program has been winning off the field since Bunting arrived, with the coach and his staff instilling a sense of discipline and accountability that apply to the classroom and leisure time as well as the football field. Then in 2004, the Tar Heels began adding substantive proof of their progress on the field and built on that even more in 2005. They have notched two straight wins over arch-rival NC State; a landmark home victory over No. 4 ranked Miami; and bounce-back wins in 2005 over Virginia, Utah and Boston College, teams that defeated the Heels the year before. The Tar Heels are 9-7 in the ACC over the 2004-05 window, trailing only Virginia Tech, Miami and Florida State.

Along the way, Bunting has earned the respect of every constituency surrounding the program - from current to former players, assistant coaches and high school coaches.

"They do a good job keeping the kids focused and directed," says Grady Williams, head coach at Weldon High in Weldon, N.C. "They are interested in the kids being well-rounded. The guidance program and support program are excellent.

"You see a lot of coaches come through and talk a lot of fluff. They get kids excited and then when signing day comes around, they disappear. Coach Bunting and his staff are open and direct. They stand by their word. They do everything within the NCAA code, they follow the guidelines. They have an open door policy. They're always available to coaches and parents."

All-America running back Don McCauley, today a key Rams Club executive, notes there's a buzz around the Tar Heel program he's not seen in years.

"Next fall can't come soon enough," says McCauley. "I've not seen as much optimism for an upcoming season since John's been here. There's a lot of work left to be done. But if everyone does their part, it could be a very interesting season."

Now entering his sixth season in Chapel Hill, Bunting has a roster of players who have accepted his mindset wholeheartedly. They understand the demands, the structure and Bunting's insistence on teamwork.

"We have players today buying into the whole concept," tight end Jon Hamlett said at the conclusion of spring practice. "Everyone has to do the right things between now and August. The seniors will lead the way."

"It's all about bonding and trusting," says defensive end Melik Brown. "The way we bond off the field helps us bond on the field. If you trust your teammates off the field - to study and do the right things - then you trust him to be there on the field."

The difficult times are over for Bunting and the Tar Heels. He has an outstanding staff and recruiting has improved each year. The program is stable and winning. Bunting is enormously popular with Tar Heel fans, who like having one of their own leading the program. Graduation rates are admirable and players are getting outstanding lessons for life and opportunities to play in the NFL.

"Coach Bunting is a fair and honest man," says linebacker David Thornton, who bolted in 2001 from obscurity to a starting job in the NFL. "He has a passion for his players on and off the field. He gave me the opportunity to play and didn't look at me differently because I was a former walk-on. He wants to put the best players on the field. It's a blessing that he came here when he did."

Lee Pace is a Chapel Hill writer and publisher of Extra Points, a newsletter covering Tar Heel football, and is author of Born & Bred—John Bunting Takes Dead Aim On His Dream Job At Carolina.

One of John Bunting's proudest moments is the Old Well Walk, a tradition he started in 2001. Players and staff walk among thousands of Carolina fans from the Old Well to Kenan Stadium more than two hours prior to kickoff of every home game.

"John is the total package as a football coach and as a person. I'm very close to him and I'm very proud of him. When you know someone as long as I've known John, you really get to know them. I have experienced the highs and the lows when he was both a player and a coach. We are both wearing world championship Super Bowl rings because of his contribution. He helped lead a defense that maybe wasn't as talented as some of the others in the league and we finished sixth in the league in total defense. We won that Super Bowl because of people like John Bunting and the type of defense he molded that season.

Former Kansas City Chiefs Head Coach Dick Vermeil

"John was, in my opinion, not the most gifted linebacker in the National Football league, but was absolutely the best prepared and the smartest. That's why he played so long and so well. He called all of our defenses in Super Bowl XV with the Eagles. I had him come to work with me with the Chiefs. I knew he'd be an outstanding coach, and he was. It didn't take him long to get to where he should be, which is as a head coach."

Kansas City Chiefs President Carl Peterson

"He brought a different scheme to us. He brought more of an NFL feel to our practices and to our games. He played 13 years in the pros. He's got a Super Bowl ring. He's coached the No. 1 defenses in the NFL. That speaks for itself. He's got an ACC championship ring, so whatever he tells you, it's going to be the truth. It meant a lot to me to have somebody like that."

Defensive Tackle Ryan Sims, No. 1 draft pick of the Kansas City Chiefs Played for Bunting in 2001

"He helped me out a lot, especially with little things. He tried to get me adjusted to the NFL with a training camp approach and bringing an NFL mentality to Carolina. He took me in his office and told me what it was going to be like at the next level. He had me watch some tape of guys like (NFL defensive end) Joe Johnson and telling me things that would improve my game."

Defensive End Julius Peppers No. 1 draft pick of the Carolina Panthers Played for Bunting in 2001

"I think John Bunting is going to be the next Dean Smith of football. Why? Because John Bunting knows the game and he's a great motivator. But not in the traditional sense. He makes you think about what you can become and he puts a lot of emphasis on the seniors to implement what he's trying to do and what his goals are for the team and spread it to the younger guys on the team. The man is a great football coach. When I'm an alum from here, I'm going to be glad to say I played for him."

Center Adam Metts Played for Bunting at UNC in 2001

"He's a fair and honest man. He has a passion for his players on and off the field. He gave me the opportunity to play and didn't look at me differently because I was a former walk-on. He wants to put the best players on the site. It's a blessing that he came here when he did."

Linebacker David Thornton 2002 NFL Draft Pick of Indianapolis Colts Played for Bunting in 2001

"Anyone who comes here and wants to be a better football player and a better person will get that if they come to Carolina under John Bunting. This guys knows football and is totally committed. If you really want to be the best, this is the guy to get around."

Paul Miller (UNC '72) Former UNC teammate

"John Bunting is a man of passion. He's passionate about the University of North Carolina. I know that he understands the mission of this University and will do everything he can to see that this program is operated in the values that are acceptable to this institution. And I also know he will motivate his players to go 110 percent every game and every practice."

DAVE BROCK

ASSISTANT HEAD COACH
WIDE RECEIVERS
RECRUITING COORDINATOR

- In his second season with the Tar Heels.
- Promoted to assistant head coach/recruiting coordinator in March.
- Wide receiver Jesse Holley had his best season under Brock's tutelage in 2005 with 47 receptions for 670 yards. Holley earned honorable-mention All-ACC honors and enters the season 14th in career receptions at UNC.

Wide receivers coach Dave Brock enters his second season with the Tar Heels in 2006. He was promoted to assistant head coach/recruiting coordinator following the 2005 season.

Last year, Brock tutored two of the top wideouts in Carolina history in Jarwarski Pollock and Jesse Holley. Pollock became the all-time leading receiver at Carolina with 177 career catches and Holley led the team with 47 receptions. Holley was one of five Tar Heel wide receivers with at least 10 catches.

Brock came to Carolina from Temple, where he was the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach for three seasons. Under Brock's direction, Temple's spread offense was one of the most exciting in the Big East.

In 2004, Temple ranked third in the Big East, generating 173.0 yards on the ground per game. The Owls also passed for 2,428 yards, the fourth-most in program history, and averaged 393.7 total yards per game. Owls quarterback Walter Washington was 11th nationally in total offense, 21st in scoring and led the nation in rushing touchdowns by a quarterback.

In 2003, the Owls threw for 2,697 yards, second most in Temple history, and set school records for passing first downs (135) and total plays (859).

A native of Moorestown, N.J., Brock has 16 years of coaching experience, including five as an offensive coordinator, in stints at Temple, Hofstra, Salisbury State and Western Connecticut State. He was Hofstra's wide receivers coach from 1997-2001.

Brock coached seven seasons at Hofstra, where he was named associate head coach in 2002. He began at Hofstra in 1995 and served as the team's offensive coordinator during the 2000 and 2001 seasons.

In 2001, Hofstra posted a 9-3 record and concluded the season ranked No. 7 in Division I-AA behind an offense that was second in the nation in total offense (491 yards/game), fourth in passing offense (301 yards/game) and fifth in scoring offense (37.9 points/game). In 2000, Hofstra finished the year ranked No. 7 with a 9-4 record and also ranked among the nation's top 20 in scoring offense, passing offense and total offense.

During Brock's last five seasons at Hofstra, the team averaged 35.8 points per game and 446.8 yards per contest. In addition to his coaching responsibilities at Hofstra, Brock also served as the football program's Academic Support Liaison from 1995-2001, while also functioning as the team's Financial Aid Liaison from 1997-2001.

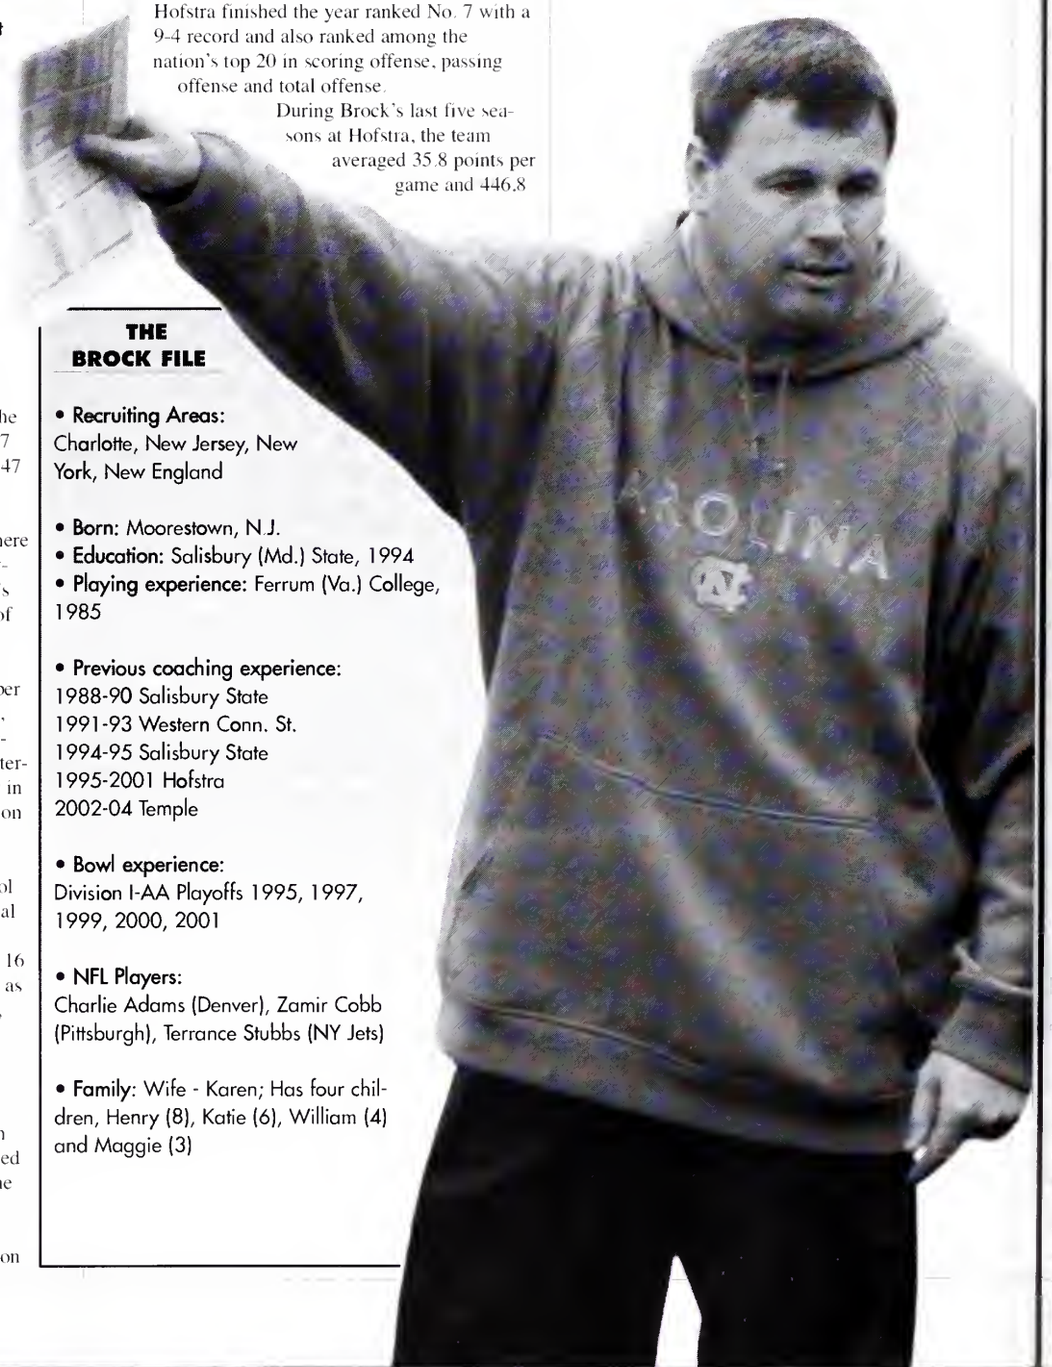

Brock played linebacker at Ferrum (Va.) College before earning a bachelor of science degree in political science from Salisbury (Md.) State University.

He began his coaching career as an assistant at Salisbury State in 1988, then served as secondary coach/recruiting coordinator at Western Connecticut State from 1991-93. He returned to Salisbury State in 1994 as the secondary coach and recruiting coordinator before coaching running backs at Hofstra in 1995. Brock served as Hofstra's wide receivers coach/recruiting coordinator from 1997-99.

Brock and his wife, Karen, have two sons - Henry (8) and William (4) - and two daughters - Kate (6) and Maggie (3).

KEN BROWNING

DEFENSIVE TACKLES
DIRECTOR OF HIGH SCHOOL RELATIONS
UNC CAMP & CLINIC DIRECTOR

- The longest tenured assistant coach at UNC, Browning is entering his 13th season with the Tar Heel and 39th year overall as a coach.
- Moved back to coach defensive tackles in 2005, a position he coached from 1994-2000 at UNC.
- Carolina's defense improved over 60 spots from 2004 to No. 42 in 2005.
- Coached tight ends for four years from 2001-04.
- Has developed several standout players both offensively and defensively, including NFL players TE Zach Hilton, DT Ryan Sims and DE Vonnie Holliday.

A veteran assistant coach who has been with the Tar Heels since 1994, Ken Browning moved back to the defensive side of the ball in 2005 to coach defensive tackles, a position he coached at Carolina from 1994 to 2000. He coached tight ends from 2001-04.

Browning also serves as Carolina's Director of High School Relations and directs UNC's camps and clinics.

Browning has developed a number of outstanding defensive tackles in tenure at Carolina, including first-round NFL draft picks Vonnie Holliday, Marcus Jones and Ryan Sims and second-round picks Rick Terry and Russell Davis. Sports Illustrated selected North Carolina's defensive tackles in its positional "Dream Team" in its 1998 preseason college football issue. Nearly every defensive tackle Browning coached at UNC has been drafted by or signed by an NFL franchise. That continued in 2005 when Chase Page was selected by the San Diego Chargers. In 2002, Sims, who played under Browning for three years, was selected by the Kansas City Chiefs in the first round with the No. 6 pick.

In 2005, Carolina's defense improved dramatically, ranking No. 42 nationally, an improvement of more than 60 positions from the previous season.

Browning is no stranger to success on defense. The Tar Heels led the ACC in total defense from 1995-97 and finished No. 2 in the nation in yards allowed in 1996 and 1997. The Tar Heels were third in the country against the run in 1996 allowing 73.9 yards per game. In 1997, Carolina was fourth in the nation stopping the run as the opponents averaged 77.9 yards per contest. UNC held opponents to less than 50 yards rushing in six games and less than 100 yards in nine of 12 games.

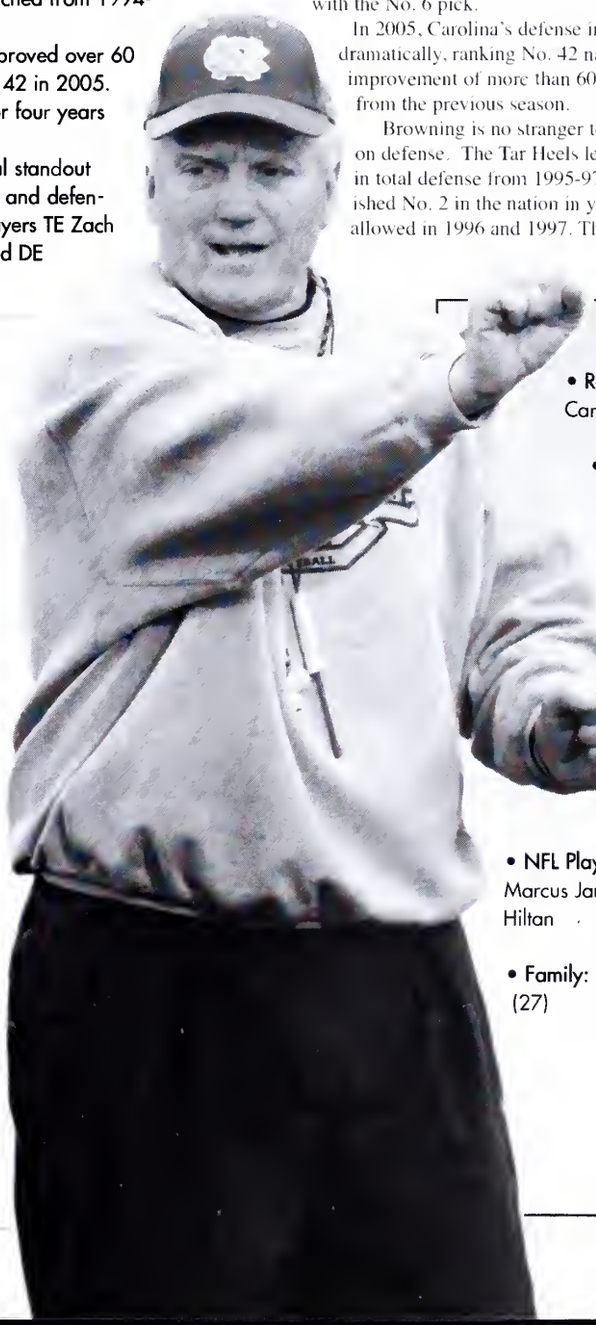

As defensive coordinator in 2000, Browning directed a UNC defense that led the ACC and set a school record with 53 sacks. Carolina finished 19th in the nation against the run, allowing just 103.5 yards per game, and was second in the league and 30th in the nation in total defense.

In four seasons as tight ends coach, Browning developed several standout players, including Zach Hilton, Bobby Blizzard and Jon Hamlett. Under Browning's tutelage, Hilton blossomed into a solid NFL prospect and plays for the New Orleans Saints. Blizzard earned honorable-mention All-ACC acclaim in 2002.

Browning was the head coach and athletic director at Northern High School for 18 years. He posted a 178-35 record and won the 1993 4-A state title and Shrine Bowl. Over his last three years, Northern built a 43-2 record and he was named the North Carolina Coach of the Year by the Associated Press in 1992 and 1993. He became only the third coach to win both the state title and Shrine Bowl in the same year.

Carolina has had seven winning seasons and played in seven bowl games during Browning's 12 seasons at Carolina.

Browning and his wife, Susan, have three sons – Chuck, John and Joe.

FRANK CIGNETTI

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR & QUARTERBACKS

- In his first season with the Tar Heels.
- Came to Carolina after serving four seasons as the offensive coordinator at Fresno State.
- Led Fresno State to back-to-back top 10 national rankings in scoring offense. The Bulldogs ranked fifth in the country in scoring offense in 2004 and seventh in 2005.
- Helped guide Fresno State to four consecutive bowl games, including a win over No. 18 Virginia in the 2004 MPC Computers Bowl.

Frank Cignetti, who led Fresno State to back-to-back top 10 national rankings in scoring offense, enters his first season as North Carolina's offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach. The Bulldogs ranked fifth in the country in scoring offense in 2004 and seventh in 2005.

Cignetti, 40, comes to Carolina after serving four seasons as the Bulldogs' offensive coordinator, where he helped guide Fresno State to four consecutive bowl games, including a win over No. 18 Virginia in the 2004 MPC Computers Bowl. Fresno was 3-1 in bowl games with Cignetti.

In 2004, Fresno averaged 52.8 points over the last six games and became just the sixth team in NCAA history to score 50 or more points in four consecutive contests. Fresno finished that season 9-3, led the Western Athletic Conference in average yards per carry (5.4) and scored 65 touchdowns. The Bulldogs were outstanding in the red zone, scoring touchdowns on 42-of-53 attempts (.792).

In 2005, Fresno State went 8-5, including a 6-2 mark in the WAC and earned an invitation to the Liberty Bowl. The Bulldogs scored 42 points against No. 1 Southern California in a 50-42 loss in one of the most memorable games of the season and beat bowl teams Toledo and Boise State.

Cignetti was instrumental in the development of Fresno's four-year starting quarterback Paul Pinegar, who was the 2002 WAC Freshman of the Year and led the nation's freshmen in passing efficiency, passing yards and touchdowns. In 2005, Pinegar ranked 18th in the country in pass efficiency.

Cignetti has been a part of successful programs at all levels. In the NFL, he won a division championship and a playoff game with the New Orleans Saints in 2000. He was part of three bowl victories at Fresno State, and on the Division II level - at Indiana University of Pennsylvania - he reached the national championship game twice and the semi-finals four times. He also has been a member of the coaching staff in the Senior Bowl and East-West Shrine all-star games.

Before joining the Fresno State program, Cignetti served as the New Orleans Saints quarterbacks coach during the 2000 and 2001 seasons. In 2000, he helped the Saints earn the NFC West title and the franchise's first playoff win. The Saints' offense ranked 10th in the NFL in both 2000 and 2001. In 2000, he guided quarterback Jeff Blake to a career-high 82.7 rating before Blake suffered a season ending injury. The following season, quarterback Aaron Brooks was an alternate for the Pro Bowl. In New Orleans, he also coached current Carolina Panthers QB Jake Delhomme, current Rams QB Marc Bulger and the now retired Billy Joe Tolliver.

He joined the Saints after coaching one season as an offensive assistant and quality control coach with the Kansas City Chiefs in 1999. He was responsible for game analysis and opponent information. In 1999, Kansas City finished 9-7, second in the AFC West and the offense ranked 12th in the NFL.

From 1990-98, Cignetti was an assistant at Indiana University of Pennsylvania where he coached receivers (1990-92), the secondary (1993-94) and quarterbacks (1995-98). In his last two years at IUP, he served as the offensive coordinator.

Cignetti started his coaching career as a graduate assistant at the University of Pittsburgh for Mike Gottfried in 1989. The Panthers went 9-3 and defeated Texas A&M in the Sun Bowl.

He has coached for 17 years, working with NFL offensive coordinators such as Mike McCarthy (Head Coach, Green Bay) and Jimmy Raye (New York Jets).

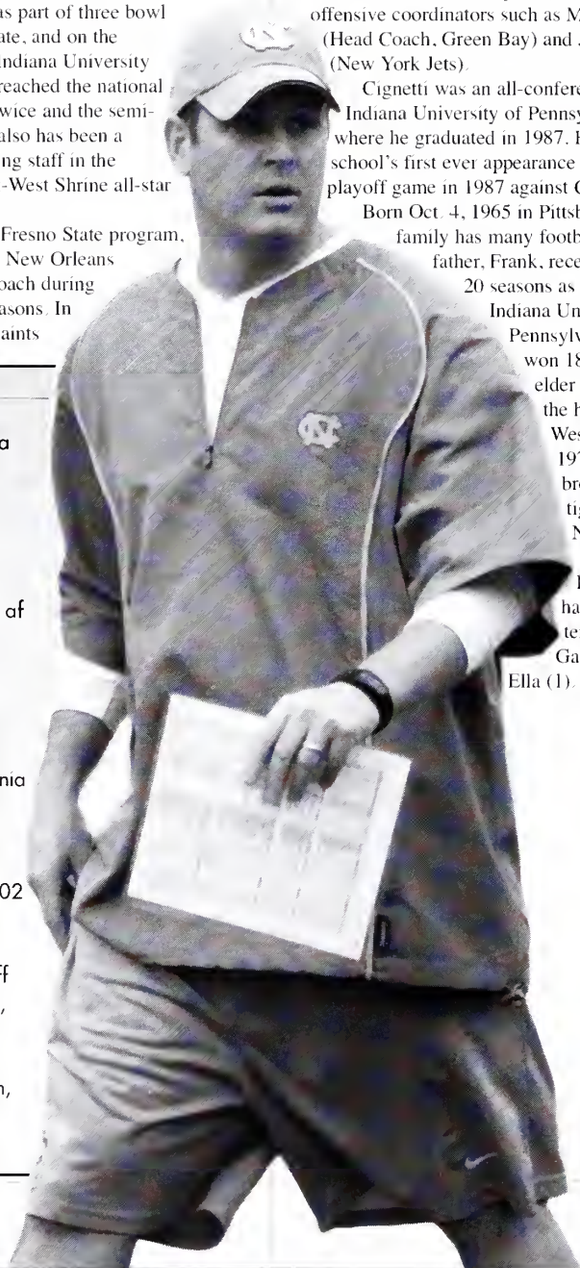

Cignetti was an all-conference safety at Indiana University of Pennsylvania, from where he graduated in 1987. He played in the school's first ever appearance in a national playoff game in 1987 against Central Florida.

Born Oct. 4, 1965 in Pittsburgh, Cignetti's family has many football ties. His father, Frank, recently retired after 20 seasons as the head coach at Indiana University of Pennsylvania where he won 182 games. The elder Cignetti was also the head coach at West Virginia from 1976-79. Cignetti's brother, Curt, is the tight ends coach at NC State.

Cignetti and his wife, Ellen, have three daughters, Alyssa (6), Gabrielle (4) and Ella (1).

JEFF CONNORS

ASSISTANT ATHLETIC DIRECTOR STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

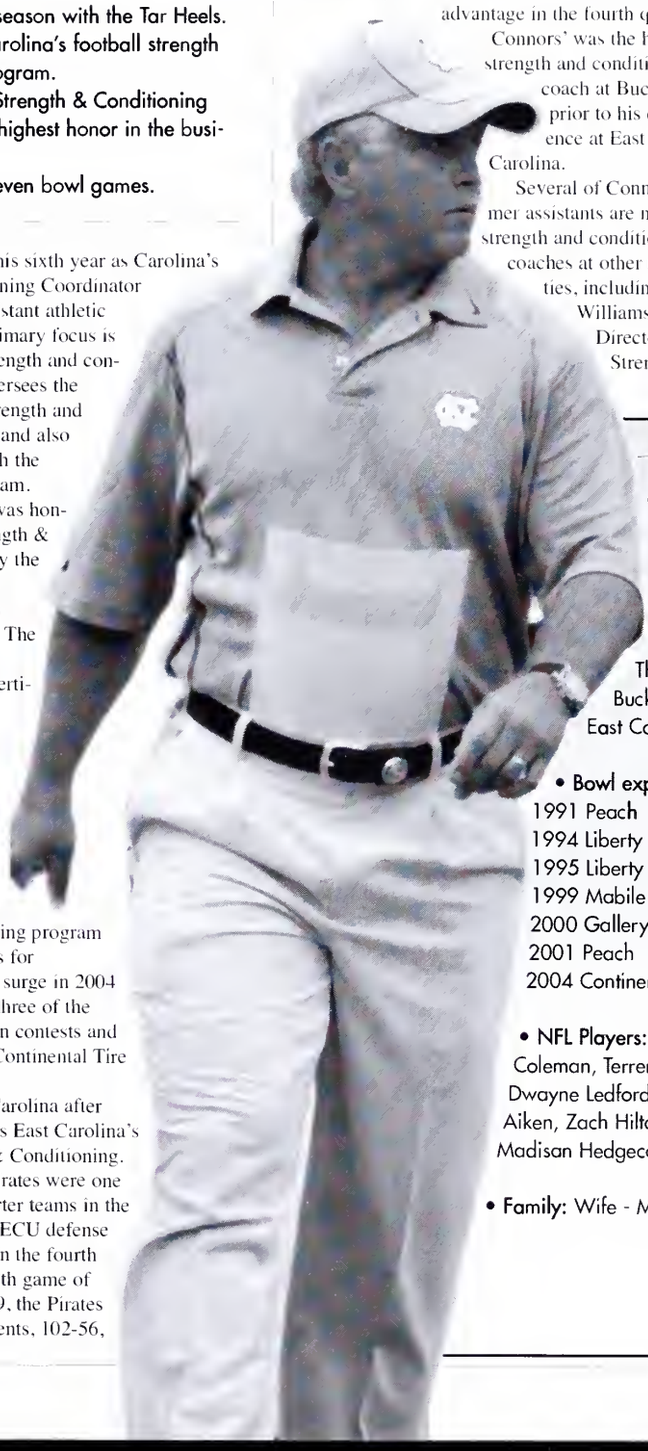

- Entering his sixth season with the Tar Heels.
- Responsible for Carolina's football strength and conditioning program.
- Named a Master Strength & Conditioning Coach in 2003, the highest honor in the business.
- Has coached in seven bowl games.

Jeff Connors is in his sixth year as Carolina's Strength and Conditioning Coordinator and his fifth as an assistant athletic director. While his primary focus is the football team's strength and conditioning, Connors oversees the department's entire strength and conditioning program and also works specifically with the women's basketball team.

In 2003, Connors was honored as a Master Strength & Conditioning Coach by the Collegiate Strength & Conditioning Coaches association (CSCCa). The Master Strength & Conditioning Coach certification is the highest honor that can be achieved as a strength and conditioning coach, representing professionalism, knowledge, experience, expertise and longevity in the field.

Connors' conditioning program was one of the reasons for Carolina's late-season surge in 2004 as the Tar Heels won three of the last four regular-season contests and earned a berth in the Continental Tire Bowl.

Connors came to Carolina after spending 10 seasons as East Carolina's Director of Strength & Conditioning. Under Connors, the Pirates were one of the best fourth-quarter teams in the country. In 1996, the ECU defense did not allow a point in the fourth quarter until the seventh game of the season and in 1999, the Pirates outscored their opponents, 102-56, in the final period. In 2000, ECU had a 94-57 advantage in the fourth quarter.

Several of Connors' former assistants are now head strength and conditioning coaches at other universities, including: John Williams, Director of Strength & Conditioning at Baylor; Tom Howley, Director of Strength & Conditioning at Cornell; Jay Butler, Director of Strength & Conditioning at Rutgers; Jennifer Jones, Head Coach of Strength & Conditioning for Women's Sports at Texas A&M; Sonny Sano, Director of Strength & Conditioning at Ohio; Toby Jacobi, Strength & Conditioning Coach at Western Carolina; Josh Bush, Head Strength Coach, Morgan State.

Connors was the featured speaker at the 1995 National Strength and Conditioning Association Conference in Phoenix, the 1996 NSCA Conference in Atlanta and the 2003 NSCA Conference. In 1996, he was the Regional Director of the Year and was nominated for National Strength Coach of the Year in 1991.

Connors is a competitive powerlifter and has won four state titles in powerlifting and has been ranked as high as fourth nationally. He holds Level I certification in Olympic Weight Lifting by the U.S. Weight Lifting Federation.

A 1980 graduate of Salem (W. Va.) College, Connors was a four-year starter at cornerback and was team captain as a senior. He led Salem in interceptions as a sophomore and junior.

After college, Connors served as a police officer in South Florida for two years. Prior to becoming a strength coach, Connors coached high school football and wrestling at The Benjamin School in North Palm Beach, Fla., and he later coached linebackers at the Tennessee Military Institute in Sweetwater, Tenn.

Connors and his wife, Michele, have a daughter, Kaitlin (15), and a son, Beau (17).

ASSISTANT HEAD COACH
TIGHT ENDS

- Promoted to assistant head cooch in 2005.
- Entering his third seoson with the Tor Heels ond second os the tight ends cooch.
- Wos the co-defensive coordinotor in 2004.
- Was the Minnesoto head cooch from 1986-91.
- Worked with Lou Holtz ot South Corolino from 1999-2003.

John Gutekunst (pronounced GOO-di-kunst) enters his third season with the Tar Heels in 2006. He serves as Carolina's assistant head coach and tight ends coach. Gutekunst coached the linebackers and was the co-defensive coordinator in 2004.

In 2005, Carolina's tight ends caught 27 passes, including All-ACC candidate Jon Hamlett with 21.

Gutkenust came to Carolina after working five seasons as South Carolina's secondary coach under former head coach Lou Holtz. Now coaching in his 38th year overall, Gutekunst has a wealth of experience both on the offensive and defensive sides of the ball, including a six-year stint as head coach at the University of Minnesota from 1986-91. He also served as defensive coordinator and secondary coach under Holtz at Minnesota during the 1984-85 seasons and was defensive coordinator at Rutgers from 1994-95.

During Gutekunst's five years with the Gamecocks, South Carolina's secondary was consistently among the league's best. In 2001, South Carolina's defense was second in the Southeastern Conference and two of his players earned all-conference honors, including first-team selection Sheldon Brown and second-team pick Andre Goodman. Both players were selected in the 2002 NFL Draft. In 2003, Gutekunst coached Dunta Robinson, an All-SEC cornerback who was selected by Houston with the 10th overall pick of the 2004 draft.

The Gamecock defense ranked near the top of the SEC throughout the entire 2000 season and allowed a league-low five touchdown passes. South Carolina picked off 20 passes, which ranked among the top three in the SEC, and Brown was named to the American Football Coaches Association All-America team. That season, Gutekunst was named the Assistant Coach of the Year by the AFCA.

Gutekunst led Minnesota to four winning seasons in six years as head coach. In 1986, he guided the Gophers to the 1986 Liberty Bowl, a season highlighted by a 20-17 upset win at No. 2 ranked and previously undefeated Michigan. He was also head coach in the Gophers' 20-13 win over Clemson in the 1985 Independence Bowl.

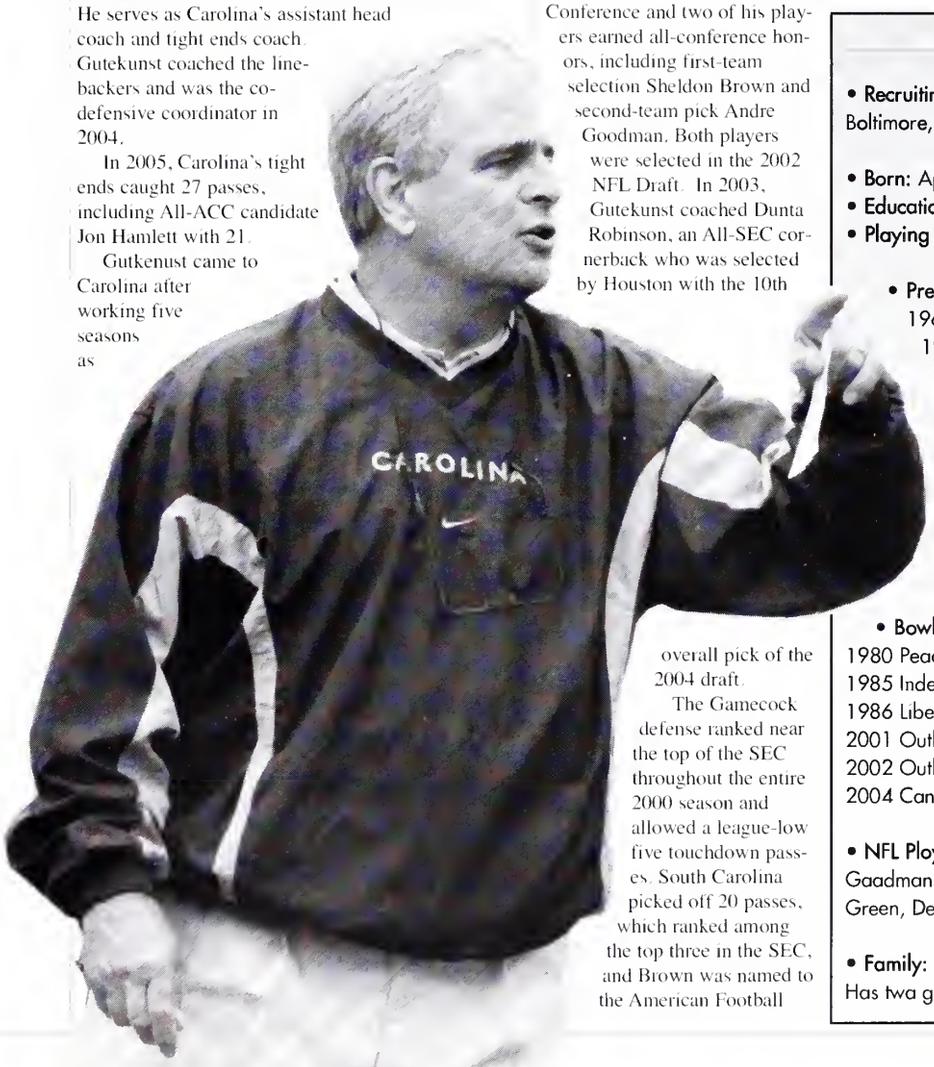

Gutekunst also has coached on defense at Rhode Island, Virginia Tech and Duke. In 1992, he was the secondary coach at Wake Forest under former UNC head coach Bill Dooley.

Prior to joining the Gamecocks' staff, Gutekunst was the secondary and kicking coach at Rhode Island from 1996-98. In 1998, two of his defensive backs ranked among the top three in the conference in interceptions, including Ron Ianotti who had a league-high seven interceptions.

A defensive back at Duke from 1963-66, Gutekunst began his coaching career with the Blue Devils, where he was an assistant from 1967-78. He later coached at Virginia Tech from 1979-83 before joining Holtz at Minnesota. He also coached in the Arena Football League in 1992.

Gutekunst earned his bachelor's degree from Duke in 1966 and was a two-sport standout in football and baseball, serving as team captain in both sports.

A native of Sellersville, Pa., Gutekunst and his wife, Leah, have three children: Brian, Michael and

PEARMAN

DEFENSIVE ENDS

- In his first seasan with the Tar Heels.
- Comes to Carolina after coaching eight seasons at Virginia Tech.
- Has coached in division I-A national championship games at two different schoals (Alabama & Virginia Tech).
- Has coached in 15 consecutive bowl games.
- Won two ACC titles as a three-year letterwinner at Clemson from 1983-87.

Charlotte native Danny Pearman enters his first season as North Carolina's defensive ends coach. Pearman, who has coached in Division I-A national championship games at two different schools, comes to Carolina after serving eight seasons as Virginia Tech's tight ends and offensive tackles coach. A 14-year coaching veteran, Pearman helped lead the Hokies to eight consecutive bowl games and coached in the 1999 national championship game (Sugar Bowl) against Florida State. During Tech's march to the national championship game in 1999, Pearman's group of tight ends caught 17 passes, 16 of which went for first downs.

Prior to coaching in Blacksburg, Pearman helped lead the University of Alabama to six bowls and a national championship between 1990 and 1997. After helping guide the Crimson Tide to the national championship in 1992, he contributed to the Tide winning Southeastern Conference Western Division championships the next four years. Pearman was a graduate assistant at Alabama for two years, and then served as coach of the offensive tackles from 1991 to 1996. He coached the defensive tackles and special teams in 1997.

Overall, Pearman has coached in 15 consecutive bowl games entering the 2006 season.

Pearman won three letters as a tight end at Clemson from 1983 through 1987. In his playing days, he was named a strength and conditioning All-American. He helped the Tigers win two ACC championships.

Following graduation, Pearman began his coaching career as a graduate assistant with the Tigers in 1988 and 1989. The Tigers won the ACC championship again in '88 and went to bowl games both of Pearman's seasons as a grad assistant.

Pearman has a bachelor's degree in finance and a master's in business administration, both from Clemson. He is married to the former Kristy Sewell of Birmingham, Ala., and they have a daughter, Taylor, 9, a son Tanner, 6, and a son Trent, 2.

POWELL

ANDRE' POWELL

SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR
RUNNING BACKS

- Entering his sixth season with the Tar Heels.
- Coached tailback Ronnie McGill, who returned from an offseason injury to lead the team with 530 yards and five touchdowns in seven games in 2005.
- Carolina was second in the ACC and seventh in the country in kickoff returns in 2005, Powell's first year as special teams coordinator.
- Carolina returned two kickoffs for touchdowns in 2005, one by Brandon Tate and another by Wallace Wright.
- Carolina ranked second in the ACC in rushing in 2004.

Andre' Powell enters his sixth year as Carolina's running backs coach and second as the Tar Heels' special teams coordinator.

Last season, Carolina ranked seventh in the country in kickoff returns and returned two kickoffs for touchdowns.

The Tar Heels return all three primary runners from last season, including senior Ronnie McGill, who returned from injury to lead the team with 530 yards rushing. Barrington Edwards, who ran for 129 yards in a win at NC State, also returns along with Justin Warren.

Carolina had one of the top rushing attacks in the Atlantic Coast Conference in 2004, averaging 176.3 yards per game and 4.9 per carry, the second best mark in the league. Three different Tar Heels – Jacque Lewis, Ronnie McGill and Chad Scott – each had at least one 100-yard rushing game and all three averaged over five yards per carry. Scott exploded late in the season with three 100-yard rushing games, including a career-best 175 yards in Carolina's 31-28 win over No. 4 Miami. Scott rushed for eight touchdowns, the most by a Tar Heel running back since 1997.

In 2003, Carolina used a two-tailback offense most of the season and McGill led the team with 654 rushing yards, including 244 against Wake Forest. Carolina's running game helped lift the Tar Heels to a 16-10 win in the 2001 Peach Bowl as Willie Parker rushed for 131 yards and a touchdown. Parker signed a free agent deal with Pittsburgh after the season and helped the Steelers win a Super Bowl in 2005.

Powell came to Carolina after spending five seasons at the University of Virginia, where he coached wide receivers and running backs. He coached several former Cavaliers who currently play in the NFL, including tailbacks Tiki Barber and Thomas Jones and wide receivers Germane Crowell, Pat Washington, Charles Kirby and Terrence Wilkins.

Powell coached running backs during his first season at UVa in 1996, then tutored the wide receivers for three years before returning to teach the running backs in 2000. He came to Virginia from Army, where he was the running backs coach in 1995. He also spent the 1991 season at Army as the inside linebackers coach. In between stints with the U.S. Military Academy, Powell was the running backs coach at VMI in 1992 and at Rhode Island in 1993 and 1994.

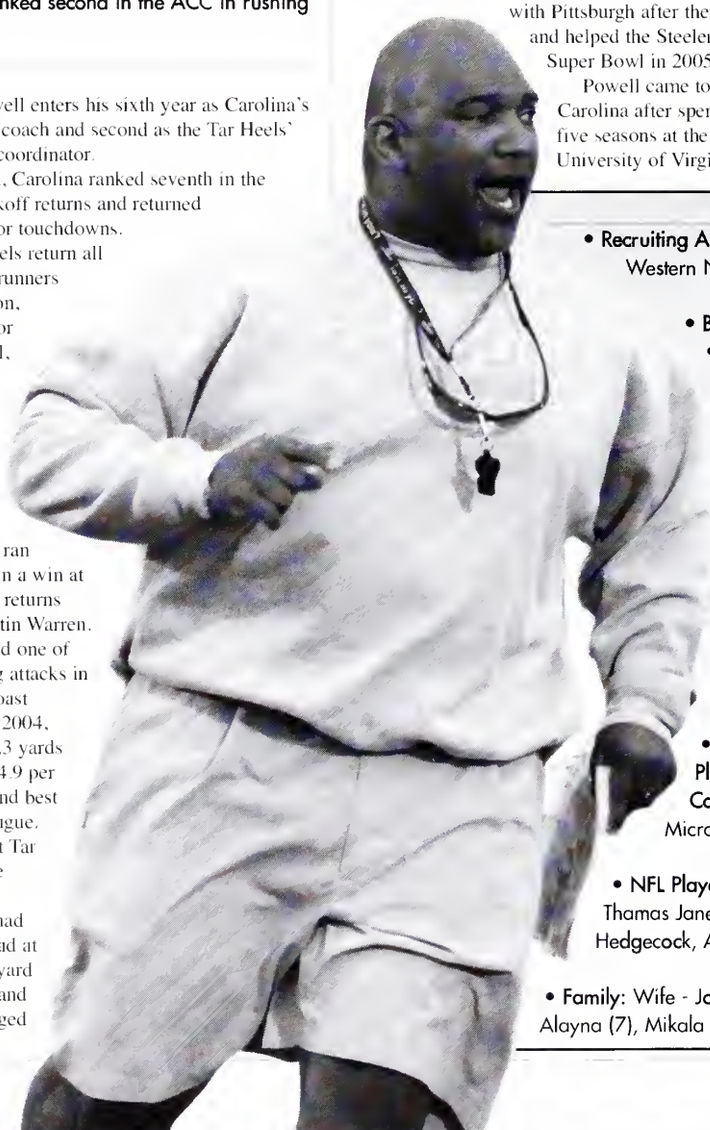

Powell earned his bachelor's degree in health, physical education and recreation in 1989 from Indiana, where he was a two-year letterwinner at running back. He was a member of Hoosier teams that participated in the 1986 All-American Bowl and the 1988 Peach Bowl and was the team's Most Improved Player as a senior. He was the lead blocker for 1,000-yard rusher Anthony Thompson in 1988.

Powell began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Indiana and was a coach on the 1988 Liberty Bowl squad that defeated South Carolina. After two years at Indiana, he was a graduate assistant at South Carolina in 1990.

A native of Lockhart, S.C., Powell attended Lees McRae Junior College in Banner Elk, N.C., for two years (1984-85) before transferring to Indiana.

An avid fisherman, Powell has won several tournaments and has been featured in North Carolina Sportsman magazine.

Powell and his wife, Joann, have a son, Andre' II, and two daughters, Alayna and Mikala.

SANDERS

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR
DEFENSIVE BACKS

- Entering his third season with the Tar Heels.
- Carolina improved more than 60 positions to No. 42 in total defense in 2005.
- Carolina had 31 sacks in 2005, its most since 2000.
- Carolina had 11 interceptions in 2005, its most since 1999.
- Carolina held Virginia to just five points in a 7-5 victory last season.

Marvin Sanders enters his third season as North Carolina's defensive coordinator and defensive backs coach.

Under Sanders, Carolina's defense has seen steady improvement. Last season, Carolina moved up over 60 spots in the national rankings from the previous year to rank 42nd in the country. Carolina has several outstanding defensive performances, including holding Virginia to just five points and 199 total offensive yards in a 7-5 victory. The Tar Heels also limited Boston College to just 14 points in a 16-14 win. Carolina held its opponents to an average of 280.4 yards in its five victories.

Carolina posted its highest sack total since 2000 and its highest interception total since 1999 under Sanders' leadership.

In 2004, Carolina won three of its four final regular season games, largely due to its defensive improvement. In those four games, the Tar Heels allowed an average of 338 yards per game, including just 234 yards in a bowl-clinching victory over Duke. That was the fewest yards allowed by a Tar Heel team since the 2001 Peach Bowl. Sanders also made an impact on the UNC defensive backs as Carolina intercepted eight passes.

Sanders came to Carolina after coaching one season at Nebraska, where he helped lead the Huskers to a 10-3 record, including a victory over Michigan State in the Alamo Bowl. Nebraska, Sanders' alma mater, ranked first in the nation in pass efficiency defense and led the nation with 32 interceptions in his one season in Lincoln. Sanders was instrumental in the development of 2003 Thorpe Award candidate and All-America safety Josh Bullocks. Bullocks set Nebraska and Big 12 Conference records with 10 interceptions, a mark which tied for first in the country.

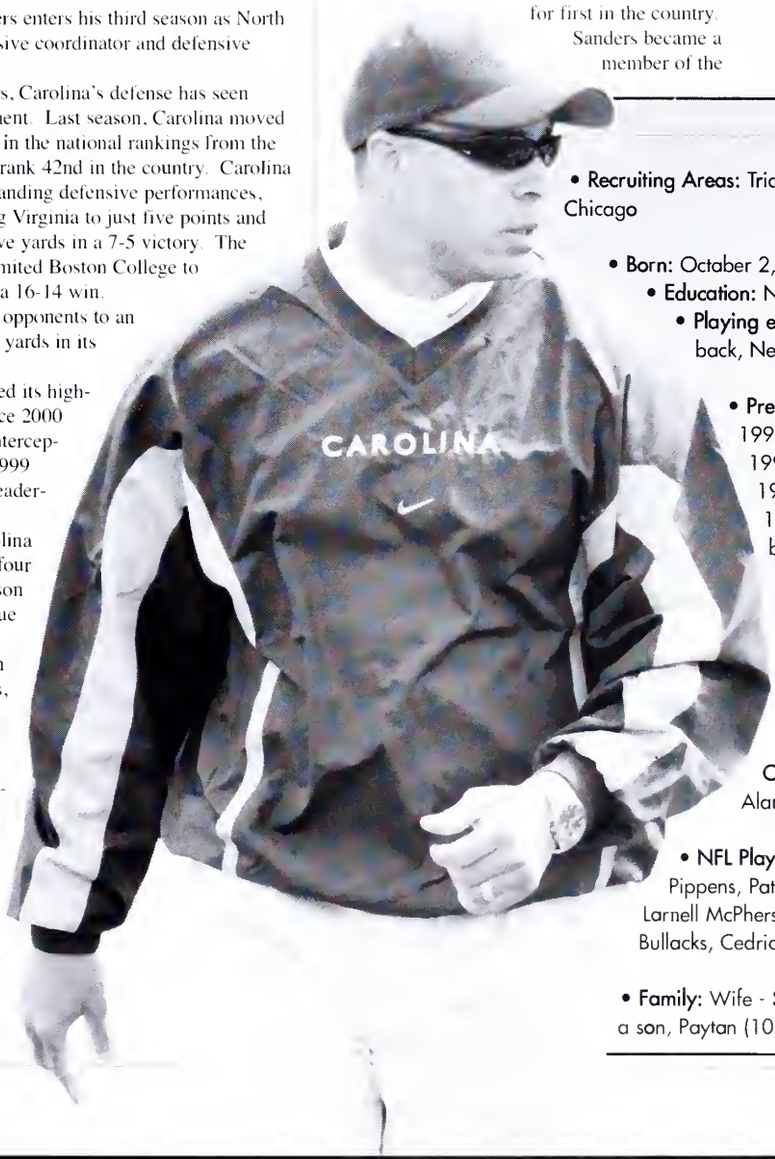

Sanders became a member of the Nebraska coaching staff in 2003 after serving two years as the secondary coach at Colorado State (2001-02) under Sonny Lubick. Colorado State posted a 17-9 record during Sanders' two seasons in Fort Collins. The Rams posted a 10-4 record and won the Mountain West Conference championship in 2002.

Before his two seasons at CSU, Sanders spent one season at New Mexico State, where he coached defensive ends and outside linebackers. Sanders spent five seasons at Nebraska-Omaha from 1995 to 1999. He was the Mavericks' secondary coach for all five seasons and was the team's defensive coordinator for his final three years in Omaha. UNO won two North Central Conference titles and appeared in the NCAA Division II playoffs twice during Sanders' tenure.

A native of Markham, Ill., Sanders was the secondary coach at Minnesota-Morris in 1994, where he also served as sports information director. Sanders coached at Nebraska Wesleyan in 1992 and 1993. He has 13 years of experience as a college coach.

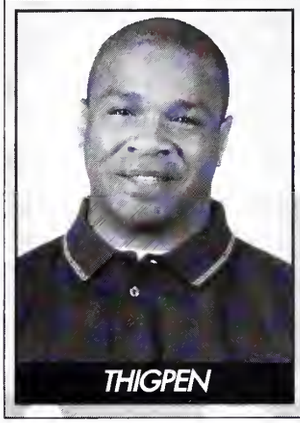

Sanders earned three letters at Nebraska from 1987 to 1989. He started the first seven games of his senior season at free safety, before suffering a shoulder injury. Sanders finished the 1989 campaign with 26 tackles and two interceptions in nine games and earned honorable-mention All-Big Eight honors.

Sanders received his bachelor's degree in business administration from Nebraska in 1990. He is married to the former Susan M. Hyland of Omaha, Neb. They have a daughter, Chandler Marie (14) and a son, Payton (10).

THIGPEN

TOMMY THIGPEN

LINEBACKERS

- Entering his second season with the Tar Heels.
- Former three-time all-conference linebacker at North Carolina and former graduate assistant for the Tar Heels.
- Four-year Tar Heel letterwinner who played professionally for the New York Giants in 1993-94.
- Under Thigpen's tutelage, linebackers Tommy Richardson and Larry Edwards led the Tar Heels in tackles in 2005. Richardson was named honorable-mention All-ACC.

A former All-ACC linebacker at North Carolina, Tommy Thigpen enters his second season as the Tar Heels' linebackers coach.

Last season, Tommy Richardson and Larry Edwards excelled under his tutelage, tying for the team lead with 91 tackles. Richardson was named honorable-mention All-ACC. Carolina also had to overcome the loss of starting senior middle linebacker Doug Justice in the second game of the year. Thigpen developed walk-on Durell Mapp into a starter and Mapp had 46 tackles.

Thigpen was hired from Illinois, where he coached for two years and had been asked to remain on Ron Zook's Illini staff. He was the cornerbacks coach in 2003 and the linebackers coach in 2004.

Thigpen achieved accolades as a Parade All-America and Virginia Defensive Player of the Year at Potomac High School in Dumfries, Va.

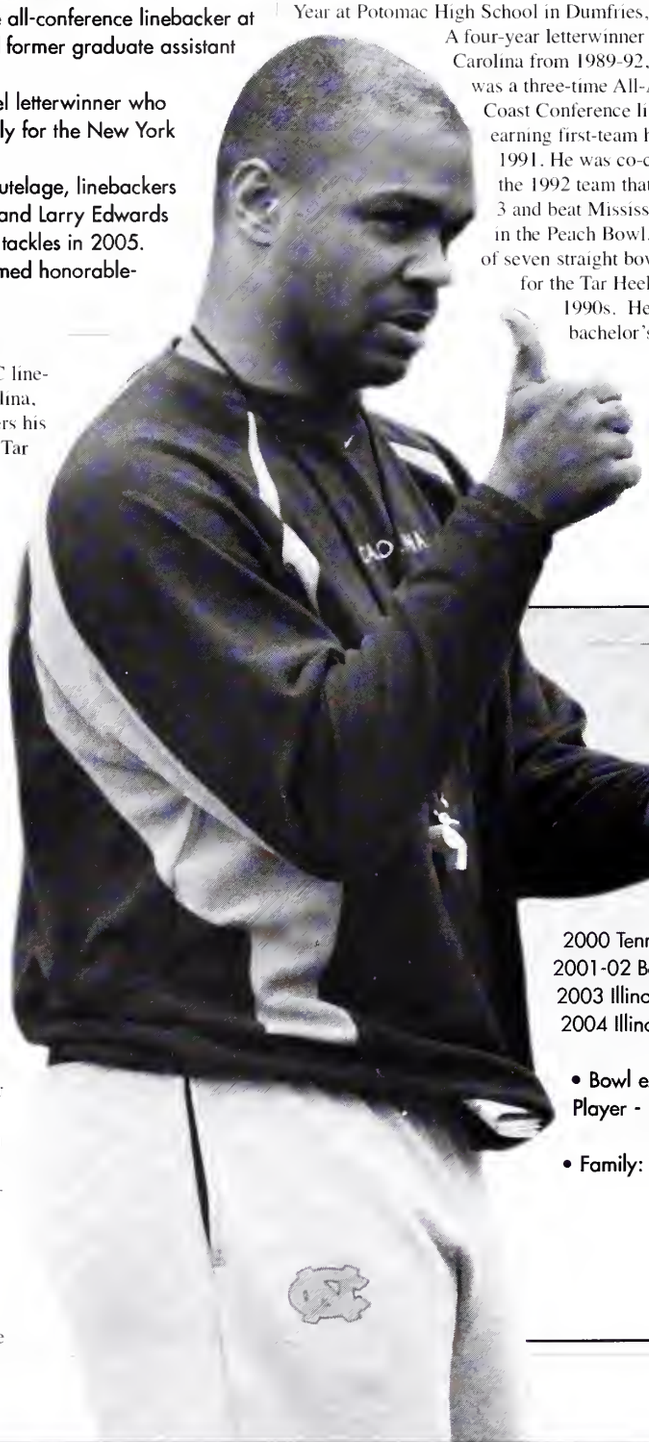

A four-year letterwinner at North Carolina from 1989-92, Thigpen was a three-time All-Atlantic Coast Conference linebacker, earning first-team honors in 1991. He was co-captain of the 1992 team that went 9-3 and beat Mississippi State in the Peach Bowl, the first of seven straight bowl games for the Tar Heels in the 1990s. He holds a bachelor's degree in political science from Carolina.

Thigpen played professionally for the New York Giants in 1993-94 and the Barcelona Dragons in 1995-96.

He began his coaching career as a UNC graduate assistant in 1998-99. He then coached linebackers at Tennessee State in 2000. In 2001-02, he coached cornerbacks and was the special teams coordinator at Bowling Green State.

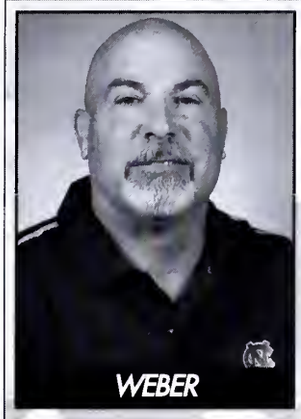

At Bowling Green, Thigpen helped coach one of the Mid-American Conference's top defenses, as the Falcons forced 27 turnovers to lead the MAC in turnover margin in 2002. BGSU also finished second in the MAC in pass efficiency defense. Thigpen's special teams also were impressive, blocking seven punts and a potential game-winning field goal attempt by Western Michigan to preserve the Falcons' early undefeated season.

Thigpen is married to the former Jacinda Webb and the couple has one daughter, Asia (1).

MARK WEBER

OFFENSIVE LINE

- In his first season with the Tar Heels.
- A 26-year coaching veteran who most recently teamed with the Tar Heels' offensive coordinator Frank Cignetti for two seasons at Fresno State.
- Mentored Fresno State All-America Logan Mankins, a first-round pick of the New England Patriots who started all 16 games as a rookie this past season, and Kris Farris, who won the 1998 Outland Trophy and earned All-America honors at UCLA.

Mark Weber enters his first season as North Carolina's offensive line coach. Weber is a 26-year coaching veteran who most recently teamed with the Tar Heels' offensive coordinator Frank Cignetti for two seasons at Fresno State.

During his coaching career, which also includes stints at UCLA, UNLV and Oregon State, Weber has mentored the likes of Fresno State All-America Logan Mankins, a first-round pick of the New England Patriots and Kris Farris, who won the 1998 Outland Trophy and earned All-America honors at UCLA.

Weber joins the Carolina staff after coaching some of the top linemen in Fresno State history in 2004 and 2005. Last season, the Bulldog line helped pave the way for a 1,000-yard rusher, a 3,000-yard passer, nearly 38 points per game and produced freshman All-America guard Cole Popevich and first-team All-Western Athletic Conference picks Dartagon Shack and Kyle Young.

In 2004, guard Ryan Wendell was a freshman All-America selection, while Mankins earned All-America and first-team All-WAC honors under Weber's tutelage. That season, Fresno State averaged 52.8 points over the last six games and became just the sixth team in NCAA history to score 50 or more points in four consecutive contests. The Bulldogs finished 9-3, led the WAC in average yards per carry (5.4) and scored 65 touchdowns. Fresno capped that season with a 37-34 win over Virginia in the MPC Computer Bowl.

The Bulldogs went to bowl games in each of Weber's two seasons.

Weber spent seven seasons at UCLA (1997-2003) prior to his stint at Fresno, helping guide the Bruins to five bowl appearances, including the 1999 Rose Bowl and a pair of Pac-10 titles. At UCLA, he coached two first-team All-Americas, including Farris, three freshmen All-Americas and six players who garnered All-Pac-10 honors.

Additionally, Weber was a part of some record-setting offenses at UCLA, including the 1998 squad that put up a school-record 5,947 total yards and the 1997 team that scored a UCLA-record 447 points. The Bruins posted a 20-game winning streak over the 1997-98 seasons and finished ranked in the nation's top 10 both years.

Before coaching at UCLA, Weber was UNLV's assistant head coach and offensive line coach from 1994-96 and served in the same capacity at Nevada in 1993. He also coached Oregon State's offensive line from 1987-90.

Weber got his coaching start as an assistant at Los Angeles Valley College in 1979 before spending two seasons as a graduate assistant at Idaho State from 1980-81, as the Bengals captured an NCAA Division I-AA national championship. He has also made coaching stops at Snow College (1982), Eastern New Mexico (1983-84), West Texas State (1985-86) and Missouri Western State College (1991).

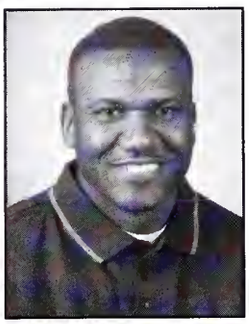

The 48-year old Weber is a 1980 graduate of Cal Lutheran and also earned a master's degree in physical education in 1981. He played offensive guard for two seasons and was named an honorable mention Small College All-America.

Weber and his wife, Kathryn, have two daughters, Alexandra and KaCee.

COREY HOLLIDAY

Associate A.D.
Football Student-Athlete Development

Sixth Year At Carolina
UNC Letterwinner, 1990-93

Corey Holliday, who played for the Tar Heels from 1989-93, is in his sixth year with the football program. He was promoted to Associate Director of Athletics for Football Student-Athlete Development in January 2006. Holliday works with the football team in various administrative capacities, including compliance, player relations, financial aid matters and as a liaison with the academic support services program.

Holliday was selected as one of 25 athletics administrators to participate in the inaugural 2001-02 NCAA Leadership Institute for Ethnic Minority Males.

Holliday still holds the Carolina career record for most receiving yards (2,447) and he is third in career receptions. Holliday caught a pass in an ACC-record 45 consecutive games for the Tar Heels from 1990-93 and was a team co-captain as a junior and senior.

Holliday played four seasons with the Pittsburgh Steelers and was a member of four divisional championship squads. He played in Super Bowl XXX against the Dallas Cowboys and had two receptions and two special teams tackles.

Holliday also has held positions with the Atlantic Coast Conference, UNC's Educational Foundation, and The Ohio State University. Before returning to Chapel Hill, he was a Business Process Analyst for Andersen Consulting in Columbus, Ohio.

He holds two degrees from North Carolina, including a B.S. in Business Administration in 1993 and a Master's in Sports Administration in 1997. Holliday and his wife, Angela (UNC '94), have two sons, Christopher (3) and Nicholas (1).

RICK STEINBACHER

Associate A.D.
Football Operations

Seventh Year At Carolina
UNC Letterwinner, 1990-93

Rick Steinbacher, a 1993 North Carolina graduate and a four-year letterwinner on the Tar Heel football team, serves as Carolina's Associate Director of Athletics for Football Operations.

Steinbacher coordinates day to day football program operations and team travel plans, works with the University admissions office and the NCAA clearinghouse, supervises football office administrative personnel and handles other administrative duties as assigned by athletic director Dick Baddour and head coach John Bunting.

He is also entering his second season as the color analyst of football broadcasts for the Tar Heel Sports Network. He previously served as a sideline reporter and color analyst for UNC football games from 1994-99.

Steinbacher returned to his alma mater in January 2000 after working with Tar Heel Sports Marketing since March 1999. From February 1994-March 1999, he worked as an account executive with Procter and Gamble in Charlotte, N.C.

In four years as an inside linebacker at Carolina, Steinbacher made 30 starts and finished with 307 total tackles. The team's second-leading tackler in both 1992 and 1993, Steinbacher was named third-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference and a team co-captain as a senior.

Steinbacher and his wife Valerie have two daughters, Donna (11), and Kiersten (7). His brother Steve was also a football player at Carolina from 1984-88, and his sister Donna was a swimmer from 1986-87. His brother-in-law, Brian Bollinger, was an all-ACC offensive guard at Carolina (1987-91), and his sister-in-law Erika Steinbacher, was an All-ACC diver at Carolina (1984-88).

JOHN DUNN

Graduate Asst. Coach Offense

Secand Year At Caralina

Former North Carolina tight end John Dunn enters his first season as the Tar Heels' graduate assistant coach on offense in 2006. He worked in the UNC football video department in 2005.

Dunn walked on at Carolina in 2001 and played three seasons before his career was cut short by a neck injury. He played on the 2001 team that captured a Peach Bowl title with a 16-10 victory over Auburn. In 2003, he caught three passes for 31 yards, including a 10-yard touchdown reception against Syracuse.

A native of Hendersonville, N.C., Dunn worked two years for the Carolina football video staff in 2004-05. He graduated from Carolina in 2005 with a degree in exercise and sports science.

SHAWN TERLECKY

Graduate Asst. Coach
Defense

Secand Year At Caralina

Shawn Terlecky enters his first season as Carolina's graduate assistant coach on defense, focusing primarily on the defensive backs. Terlecky joined the UNC football staff in 2005 as a defensive video assistant.

Prior to his arrival in Chapel Hill, Terlecky coached outside linebackers at his alma mater, Mercyhurst College, in Erie, Pa. He graduated with honors with a degree in Sports Organizational Management in 1997. Following graduation, he worked as an attendant counselor for the Trumbull County (Ohio) Family Court and as the coordinator of tournament operations for the Giant Eagle LPGA Classic in Warren, Ohio. He also earned his Juris Doctor degree from Capital Law School and served as an intern for the Franklin Country Prosecuting Attorney in Columbus, Ohio.

CHANCELLOR

DR. JAMES MOESER

Seventh Year at Carolina

Under the leadership of Dr. James Moeser, its ninth chancellor, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill embraces an ambitious vision for the future - to be America's leading public university.

Moeser has championed a nationally recognized commitment to improving the University's accessibility to deserving low-income students. He leads an effort to strengthen the University's service to North Carolina's people and communities. He has overseen an unprecedented physical transformation of the main campus, the most successful private fund-raising campaign in University history, growth in faculty research, development of an academic plan and significant enhancements to undergraduate education.

Moeser's bold leadership resulted in the University's launch of the Carolina Covenant, a groundbreaking initiative to make a UNC education possible debt-free for low-income students. When announced in 2003, the Carolina Covenant was a first for a major U.S. public university. Other campuses including Harvard, Stanford, Virginia, Maryland, Michigan and the State of Wisconsin later created similar programs.

The University's ties to North Carolina are so important that Moeser began an effort in 2004 to strengthen connections between Carolina and the state. Through his "Carolina Connects" initiative, Moeser seeks to highlight and enhance how the University serves North Carolina's people and communities.

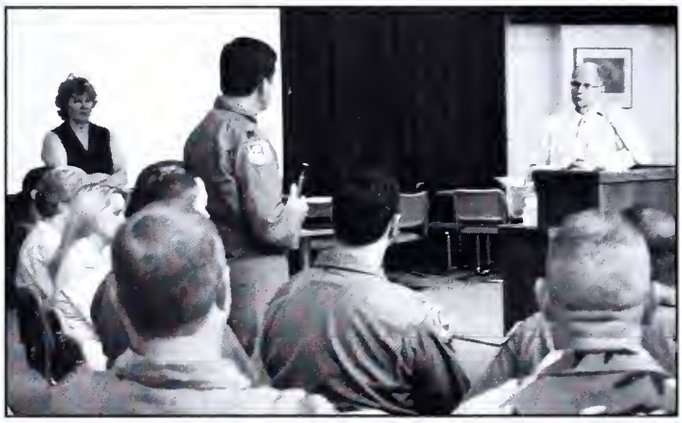

Moeser was unanimously elected chancellor in 2000 by the UNC Board of Governors and arrived after four years as chancellor of the University of Nebraska at Lincoln.

A concert organist, Moeser began his career at the University of Kansas, eventually becoming organ department chairman and School of Fine Arts dean. He served The Pennsylvania State University as dean of the College of Arts and Architecture and executive director of University Arts Services. He was vice president for academic affairs and provost of the University of South Carolina until becoming Nebraska's chancellor in 1996.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation appointed Moeser to the National Security Higher Education Advisory Board in 2005. He serves on the College Board's National Commission on Writing and two Association of American University committees studying the cost of research and internationalization. The NCAA selected him for its Presidential Task Force on the Future of Division I Intercollegiate Athletics and its fiscal responsibility subcommittee. He is part of the CEO Group of Six, a group of presidents and chancellors from the major athletic conferences.

A native of Colorado City, Texas, Moeser holds two degrees from the University of Texas: a bachelor of music with honors in 1961 and a master of music in musicology in 1964. The Graduate School at Texas honored him with its 2001 Outstanding Alumnus Award. He studied in Berlin and Paris on a Fulbright Scholarship and earned a doctorate from the University of Michigan in 1967.

Moeser is married to Dr. Susan Dickerson Moeser, a fellow concert organist and music lecturer and University organist at Carolina. His children are a son, Chris, an attorney in Phoenix, Ariz., and a daughter, Carter, a physical therapist in Tacoma, Wash.

Chancellor James Moeser, right, listens to comments at a town hall meeting in Charlotte with Air Guard and Army Reserve families. Moeser shared details about a National Demonstration Program for Citizen-Soldier Support spearheaded by the University. Citizen-Soldier facilitates support for N.C. National Guard and Reserve soldiers and families preparing for, during and after deployments.

CHANCELLOR MOESER ASSESSES STATE OF UNIVERSITY, FUTURE PROSPECTS

As Chancellor Moeser begins his seventh year, he shares his thoughts about the University's accomplishments and future.

Q.: Why is becoming the nation's leading public university so important?

A.: We want Carolina to be the best that it can be, to lead among America's best public universities. That sets expectations very high. But, considering our heritage as the nation's first public university, it's appropriate. If we succeed in achieving this goal, the beneficiaries will be the people of North Carolina.

Q: What is the current state of the University?

A: The University has made great strides that should make people proud of their UNC ties. We will enroll our third class of Carolina Covenant Scholars this fall, as well as one of the most academically prepared freshman classes University history. A $1.8 billion construction and renovation program, the largest on any U.S. campus, will enhance our capacity to learn, teach and serve. Over the past decade, faculty research funding has increased, affirming our status among the national leaders in health care, science and technology. We are enjoying a true renaissance of the arts and humanities on campus. Alumni and friends are giving at even higher levels - well beyond our projections - to the Carolina First Campaign, whose volunteer leaders have increased the goal to $2 billion. We are moving forward with tremendous momentum.

Q. What have you learned from your "Carolina Connects" initiative across the state?

A. The University serves the state every day in meaningful ways. The University has always played a major role in the life of North Carolina. What I have seen through "Carolina Connects" demonstrates that we can and should continue to make a significant difference in people's lives. We have a commitment to every region and all 100 counties. We are seeking out new ways to contribute the faculty's expertise and our resources. For example, a report to be finalized this fall by a task force I am leading examines how we can further enhance our engagement in three key areas - K-12 education, health and economic development. Carolina is already an engaged university, but we know that we can do more.

Q. What do you enjoy most about your interactions with Carolina's students?

A. We must always remember that the students are why we are here. They are at the core of what this place is all about. I love to see the pure joy on display when new students arrive in August and current students graduate in May. The single most impressive thing about our students is their devotion to this place - they truly love it - and their commitment to public service. This University has a big heart.

Q: What do you see for the University's future?

A: It's exceedingly bright. We are changing rapidly to become a better university. Let me share three examples.

This fall, we are implementing a new general education curriculum for undergraduates that will emphasize an international perspective and provide more opportunities to participate in research. That will help produce graduates who are even better-prepared for today's competitive workplace.

Last year, we were the only university to receive eight grants in the National Institutes of Health "Roadmap for Medical Research" initiatives, which encourage researchers to use interdisciplinary collaboration to create quick translations to patient care. This funding started the Carolina Center of Nanotechnology Excellence, which combines expertise in nanotechnology with patient research at the Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center.

Carolina North is our proposed campus for discovery and innovation to be built on UNC-owned land two miles from main campus. Carolina North represents the University's future. It will redefine our engagement with the state, nation and world. We intend to create a vibrant setting for business innovation. An economic impact study projects that completion of the first two phases of Carolina North by 2020 will create over 7,500 permanent high-wage jobs for North Carolinians.

Q. What is the biggest challenge facing the University?

A: We're always striving to be better. This is a great university and we must never become complacent. Our job is to make sure Carolina is always relevant to the needs of society. Resources will always be an issue. Our state support has been generous and remains essential. We face intense competition to recruit and retain the best faculty and to attract the best students. That's why the Carolina First Campaign is so critical, creating 200 new endowed chairs for faculty and 1,000 new scholarships for students.

Q.: What is your favorite thing about Carolina?

A: The people and their love for this special place. I have never been part of a university community in which there is so much pride. There is a genuine commitment to making the University even better. I have especially enjoyed witnessing the passion that our alumni, students, faculty and staff have for Carolina and how fondly those who have left recall their experiences in Chapel Hill. All of those emotions combine in full force when it comes to Tar Heel athletics. We have wonderful fans who are rightly proud of a model athletics program. Go Heels!

DICK BADDOUR

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS
40TH YEAR AT CAROLINA

Carolina is one of the most widely recognized and respected athletic programs in the country, known both for its commitment to academic integrity and competitive excellence in men's and women's sports. The leader of this 28-sport program is Goldsboro native Dick Baddour, who counts nine years as Director of Athletics among his 40 years of service to his alma mater.

The 1966 UNC graduate is committed to keeping the Tar Heels among the nation's elite, while maintaining the University's proud traditions of graduating its student-athletes and playing within NCAA and ACC rules. It's a balance Baddour often emphasizes to Carolina's coaches and staff.

"We want to be successful in every sport, but we also expect our coaches to recruit outstanding young people who are ready to excel academically, athletically and socially," says Baddour. "Fortunately, that has been the norm here for generations. That's why Carolina alumni are so proud of their athletics program – we have been blessed to compete successfully and we've been able to do that with great people."

In Baddour's nine years as Director of Athletics, the Tar Heels have won 49 Atlantic Coast Conference championships, eight more than Duke, which is second with 41 titles. Eighteen different UNC men's and women's sports have won ACC titles during his tenure. Carolina shared the ACC lead last year with five team titles.

In 2005-06, Carolina had 24 of 28 teams reach NCAA postseason competition and finished fourth in the NACDA Cup, which measures NCAA performance. This was the seventh time in the last nine years the Tar Heels were the highest finishing ACC program in the NACDA Cup. Carolina finished behind only Stanford, UCLA and Texas. It was Carolina's fifth consecutive Top 10 finish and seventh Top 10 showing during Baddour's tenure as athletic director. UNC has averaged a sixth-place finish in the last five years. The 2005-06 season was the fifth consecutive year in which at least 20 Tar Heel teams participated in NCAA postseason play.

Carolina is the only school in the nation that has placed teams in a football bowl game, the NCAA Men's Basketball Final Four, the NCAA Women's Basketball Final Four and the NCAA Baseball College World Series in the last two seasons. The women's soccer, women's basketball and baseball teams were ranked No. 1 last year. Baseball had the national player of the year and finished second at the College World Series; women's basketball featured the national player and coach of the year; the track program won one relay and four individual national championships; men's basketball had the national coach and freshman of the year; and men's tennis had the national senior player of the year.

"Dick Baddour is a man of integrity who has led our athletic department for nine outstanding years," says Chancellor James Moeser. "He is committed to fielding teams that demonstrate excellence in all aspects of University life. He continues to position Carolina as a national leader in issues such as anabolic steroids, the Leadership Academy and responsible corporate partnerships. UNC's teams are competitive at a high level within the ACC and nationally, while at the same time our student-athletes graduate at a level comparable to the rest of the student body. Throughout his tenure, our teams have been at or near the top in the ACC both competitively and academically.

We are fortunate to have a leader who understands how athletics complement, yet not consume, our students' academic experience."

Two years ago, Baddour initiated the Carolina Leadership Academy, a training program for student-athletes, coaches and administrators. The program develops leadership skills through interactive workshops, 360-degree feedback, one-on-one coaching, peer mentoring and educational resources. Nearly 600 student-athletes have received training in the first two years, which was viewed as an overwhelming success by UNC's coaches.

Baddour has partnered with the UNC School of Public Health and Gatorade on "Get Kids in Action," an action program designed to fight childhood obesity. Tar Heel student-athletes work with area school children to promote exercise and proper nutrition.

During Baddour's tenure, the Tar Heels have won national championships in men's basketball, men's and women's soccer and field hockey, won two football bowl games and had numerous Top 10 national finishes in Olympic Sports. UNC has had 20 individual national champions in the last five seasons.

Baddour has hired head coaches in eight sports, overseen renovations or created plans to update virtually every facility in the athletic complex, expanded the direction and staffing for student-athlete services and worked tirelessly to set the program on sound financial footing currently and for future years.

Baddour emphasizes the number one priority for attending Carolina is academic achievement. Last year, 309 student-athletes had a grade point average of 3.0 or better and 265 made the ACC Academic Honor Roll. Six Tar Heels were named Academic All-Americas, including two on the first team and three on the second.

Fiscal responsibility has been a key directive as the costs of running an athletics program continue to grow. Baddour has instituted measures to ensure a sound financial future. He worked out funding for several facility enhancement projects, scholarships and operating budgets. He also negotiated partnerships with Nike to outfit the athletic program, with Learfield Communications to direct UNC's multi-media properties, and with Wachovia for on-site sponsorship in the Smith Center. The Nike deal was widely praised as one of the most socially conscious contracts of its kind with respect to global labor issues. With regard to the Wachovia contract, Baddour was credited with working diligently over several years to balance the Carolina culture and the need for sound financial partnerships.

Baddour began his UNC career in 1967 as assistant dean of men. In 1971 he became assistant dean of undergraduate admissions. He served as Assistant Dean at the UNC School of Law from 1983 to 1986. He served as the school's director of admissions and scholarship programs, head of personnel and supervisor of career planning and placement.

Baddour spent 11 years as John Swofford's top assistant before being named the Director of Athletics on June 25, 1997. In 2001, he received a Distinguished Service Medal from the UNC General Alumni Association.

Baddour and his wife, Lynda, have three children. Allen, a superior court judge for Orange and Chatham Counties, and his wife, Holly, have two sons, Henry and Jack; David, an attorney with RTP-based Womble-Carlyle, and his wife, Carey, have a daughter, Lauren, and son, Johnathan; Jennifer, a family therapist in private practice in Cary, is married to Kevin Snead.

THE ERNIE WILLIAMSON ATHLETICS CENTER

UNC will soon welcome a new facility that will honor the rich traditions of Tar Heel Basketball and the storied Carolina Athletics program. The Ernie Williamson Athletics Center will be the new home for much of Carolina Athletics, including a state-of-the-art museum dedicated to the outstanding legacy and bright future of Carolina Basketball. Located immediately east of the Dean E. Smith Center and the Maurice Koury Natatorium, the new structure will become an immediate destination of choice for any Tar Heel fan.

Named in honor of former Educational Foundation President and Carolina legend Ernie Williamson, the 31/2-story building will house many entertaining and important parts of Carolina Athletics:

- The Carolina Basketball Museum
- Rams Club / Educational Foundation Offices
- Athletics Department Offices
- Athletics Ticket Office

With the Ernie Williamson Athletics Center, the many facets of the UNC Athletics Department and the Rams Club will no longer be spread around and off campus, but will once again work together under one roof. In addition, the project will include a redesign of the old Foundation offices into a media center for use by sports information and marketing. A much-needed renovation of the existing Memorabilia Room is included – designed to properly honor Carolina's Olympic sports programs.

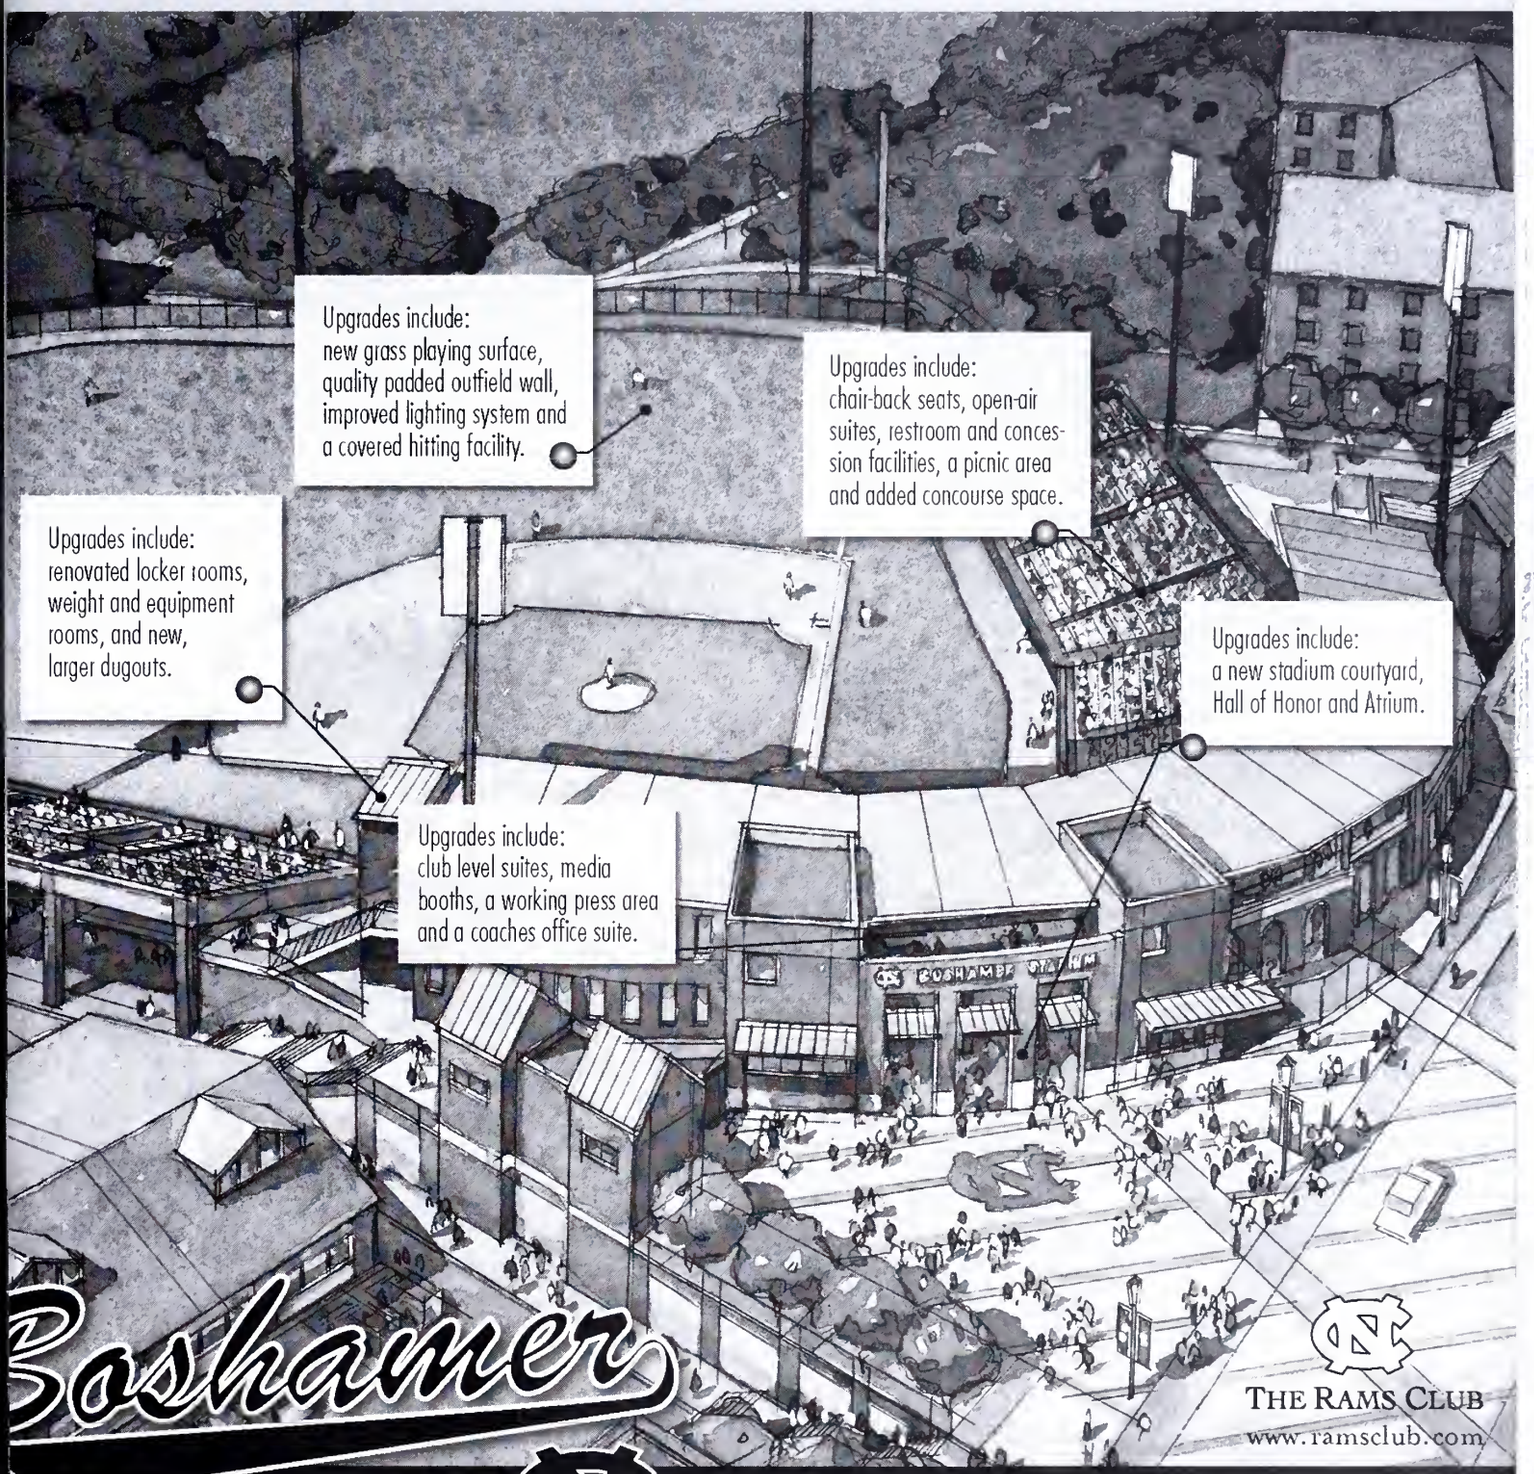

Many donor opportunities exist for supporters who want to be a part of this magnificent project dedicated to Carolina Athletics and Tar Heel Basketball. For more information on this project, donor opportunities within the building and museum, or to leave your mark on what will soon be the home of Carolina's most-storied program, please contact:

TO WEAR THE BLUE

IT'S LIKELY THE MOST WELL-KNOWN COLOR IN COLLEGE SPORTS.

After all, the athletic achievements at the University of North Carolina are so distinctive that the color often bears the name of the school that made it famous – Carolina Blue.

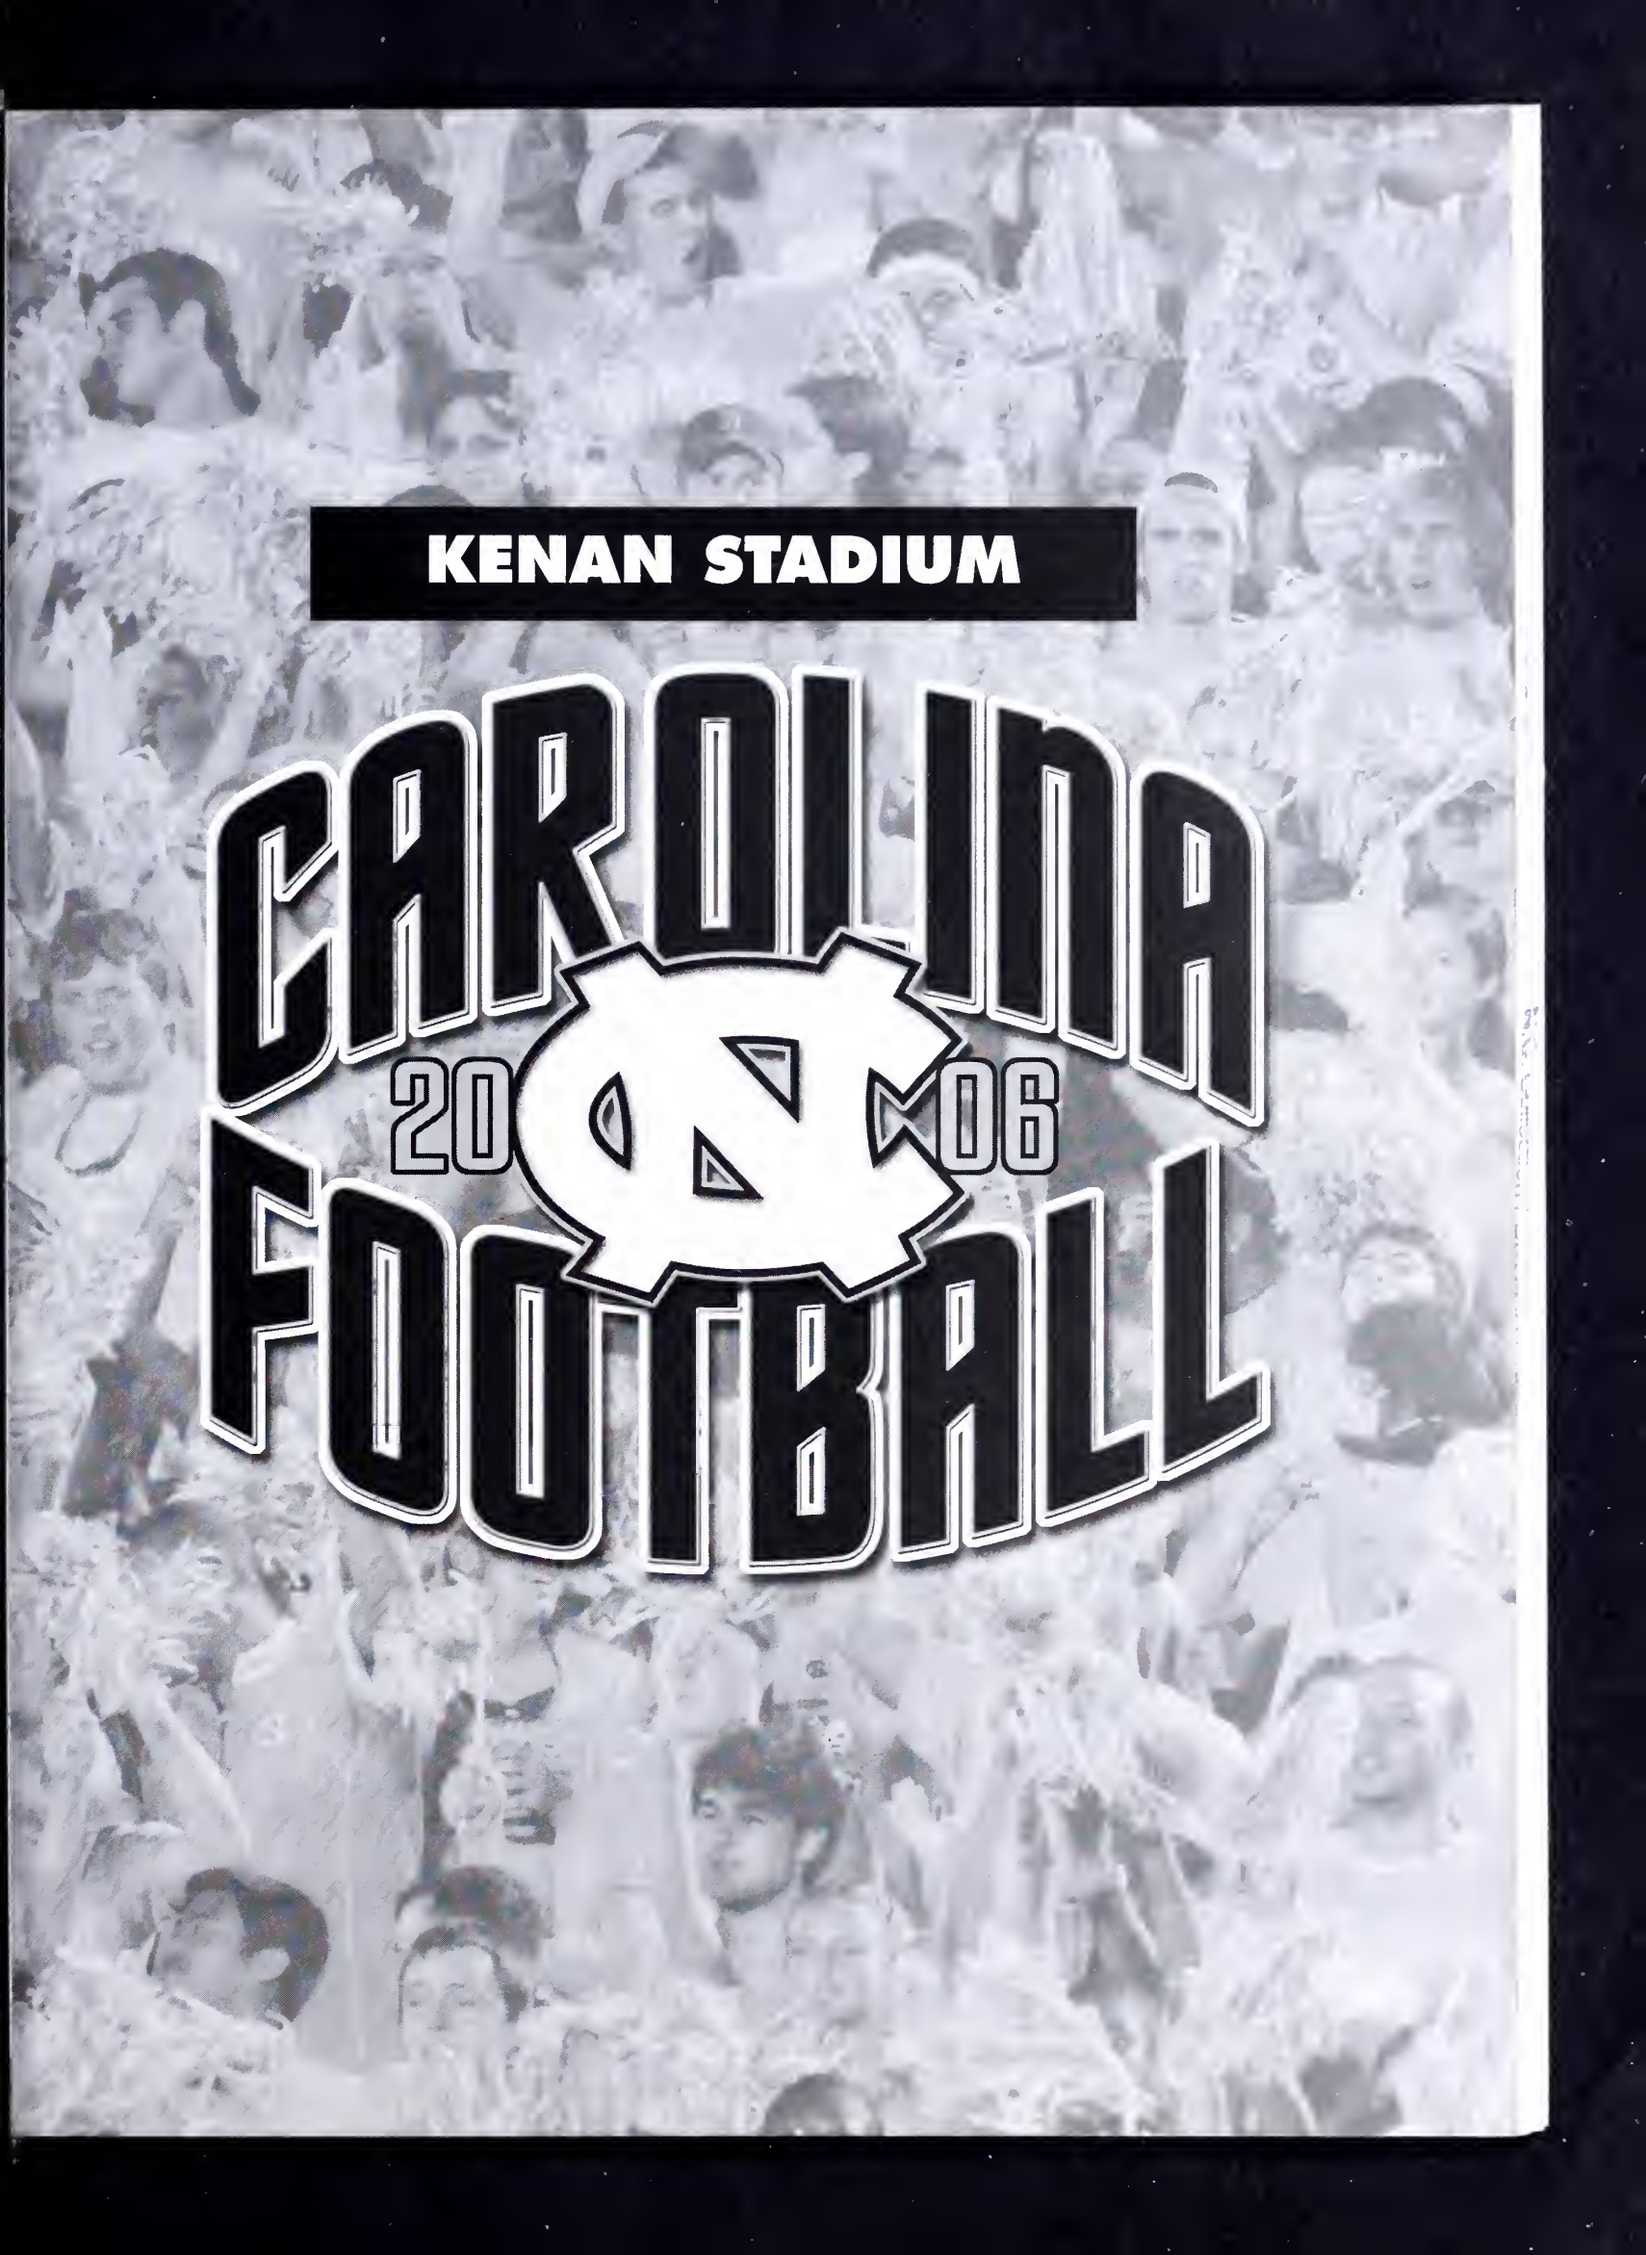

Names like Justice, Jordan, Hamm, Rosenbluth, Ford, Love, Peppers, Beatty, Jones, Cunningham, Walsh, McCauley, Surhoff, Bly. They are just a few of the names that have had the opportunity to wear a Carolina jersey. There are more than 7,000 other names – some of which are Carolina legends, while some competed at the very highest level in virtual obscurity. They are bound by a common thread ... they played for the name on the front of the jersey – North Carolina.

These student-athletes are afforded this opportunity because of The Rams Club. Donors from across the country – alumni, fans and supporters – provide scholarships for more than 450 deserving young men and women annually to be a part of the Carolina Family.

UNC has always been committed to Athletics. It's a tradition the Rams Club continues today – a tradition that gives young men and women an opportunity

To Wear The Blue.

FOOTBALL

KENAN STADIUM

Kenan Stadium – Home of the Tar Heels since 1927.

Carolina football plays its home games at Kenan Memorial Stadium (cap. 60,000), one of the most picturesque athletic venues in America. Kenan Stadium has been the home of the Tar Heels since 1927 and the thrill of playing in or attending a game there is as exhilarating now as it was when it was first constructed.

Considering its majestic setting among the Carolina pines, many observers say Kenan Stadium is the most beautiful football facility in the country. One national sports magazine rated Kenan one of the five best places in America to watch a college football game. For scenery, atmosphere and charm, it cannot be surpassed.

The stadium has been expanded several times since its completion in 1927. In each instance, though, great care was taken to keep its fundamental beauty intact. The addition of the Frank H. Kenan Football Center and the North Side Stadium Preferred Seating Box in 1997 have further enhanced the stadium's status as a campus landmark.

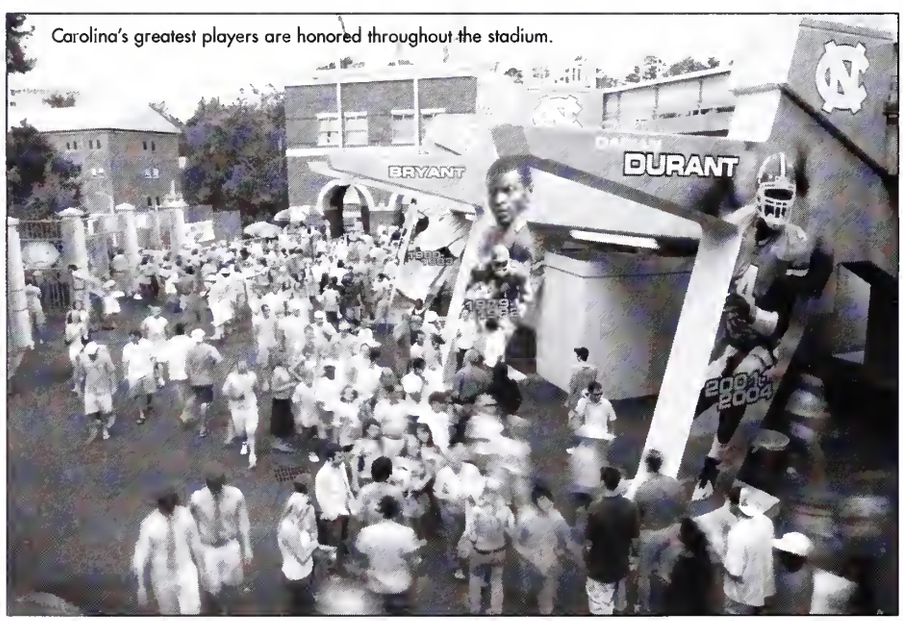

"Kenan Stadium brings back so many memories," says head coach John Bunting. "So many players have given so much of themselves on that field. I had some great times as a player in Kenan Stadium and as head coach, I want to help produce many more memories for our fans. In my opinion, it is the best place to experience college football."

The Kenan Football Center houses the Carolina football program, including the locker rooms, weight room, training room, equipment room, players' lounge, computer labs and study areas, 100-plus seat auditorium, coaches' offices, theater and Hall of Honor.

The Charlie Justice Hall of Honor, located on the ground floor, is a multi-media history of Carolina football. Photographs, awards, trophies and artifacts detailing the rich and storied history of the sport in Chapel Hill are on display. The 18 Carolina players who have been honored by placing their names and numbers on display in the stadium are also featured in the Hall of Honor. Special plaques, flags and an audio-visual presentation on each player are highlighted.

The James A. Heavner Theater was made possible by a special gift by the former executive producer of the Tar Heel Sports Network and president of Vilcom. The theater is a 30-person mini-theater equipped with surround sound and seven dramatic videos presenting the history of UNC football.

A number of rooms in the Kenan Football Center have been dedicated in the honor or memory of Carolina's benefactors, fans and athletic personalities. They include the Brinkley Lounge, the fourth floor reception area named for Harvey M. Brinkley Jr.; the Don McCauley/Paul Miller Head Coach's Suite; the Norman M. (Buddy) Black Jr. Lounge, the fourth floor hospitality area; the Oscar Davenport/Chris Keldorf Quarterback Meeting Room, as given by Bob Biggerstaff; the Jo Allison Clary Smith Weight Room; the Carolina Football Players' Locker Room, named in behalf of the more than 400 former Tar Heels who donated more than $2 million to the project; the Nassif Offensive Staff

Carolina's greatest players are honored throughout the stadium.

Meeting Room; the Ann and Paul Lawing Coaches' Locker Room; Koury Box North, box seating on the north side of the stadium named for Maurice J. Koury; the John W. Pope Academic Support Facility; the John W. Pope Stadium Box, a stadium box on the north side; the John D. Swolford Auditorium and the Jimmy W. Garrell coaches meeting room.

The 1997 expansion project, in which great care was taken to ensure that the surrounding environment would be altered as little as possible, ties the north and south concourses to either end of the lower deck via the third level of the Kenan Center, making fan movement around the stadium much easier. That project also added nearly 8,000 seats, a state-of-the-art football facility, chancellor's box and preferred seating box. The renovation and expansion project was financed through a combination of private contributions through the Educational Foundation and bonded indebtedness from the athletic department through the sale of revenue-generating bonds. The Educational Foundation and its members committed more than $50 million to the project.

The most recent addition to Kenan Stadium is a $2 million scoreboard at the east end of the stadium that was financed through an agreement with Learfield Communications, UNC's multi-media rights holder. The $2- million-figure includes the cost of the video board, installation and a new public address system. Over 40 new speakers were added throughout Kenan Stadium in 2003.

The football center is named in honor of the late Frank H. Kenan, one of the school's most generous benefactors. Kenan was a Durham resident and chief executive officer of Kenan Transport Company in Chapel Hill. He passed away at age 83 in 1996.

Kenan, a 1935 Carolina graduate, was the great-great-grandson of General James Kenan, a member of the University's founding board of trustees. An Atlanta native, Kenan had a tremendous impact on the growth of the University. He served on many campus boards, including the Board of Visitors and the Educational Foundation Board of Directors.

In recent years the William R. Kenan Jr. Charitable Trust, of which he was a trustee, has donated more than $100 million to schools in the state's consolidated university system, including Carolina, NC State and the N.C. School of the Arts. Among other things, the trust funds 92 William R. Kenan Jr. Professorships at 56 colleges and universities nationwide.

Kenan served on the steering committee of Carolina's Bicentennial Campaign, the University's largest fund-raising effort. Gifts by him, his family and the trust during the campaign exceeded $31 million. The largest portion of that was targeted for the business school. In 1991 the school was renamed the Kenan-Flagler Business School after a $10 million gift.

The preferred seating box that rises above the second deck of the grandstand on the north side of the stadium has outdoor seating for almost 1,200 spectators. That includes the Chancellor's Box on the second level of the box 45 feet above the ground. The fourth level, 68 feet high, has outdoor seating for more than 1,000, plus concessions and a 7,500 square foot lounge. There is a smaller lounge and food preparation areas on the third floor.

The Kenan Football Center and preferred seating box are the predominant changes in a multi-year renovation plan that began in 1995. A new playing field was installed that spring. The new turf includes an improved drainage system beneath the field that drains through the field itself rather than off the sides of the field as in the past. Prior to the 1996 season the restrooms and concession stands were expanded and renovated.

Another significant stadium expansion took place prior to 1988 and involved adding 2,000 choice seats between the 40-yard lines where the press box and chancellor's box formerly stood. A new press box was constructed on top of the upper deck on the stadium's south side. It is a one-level elongated structure, running from 10-yard line to 10-yard line.

Also part of the 1987-88 project were a permanent lighting system, a chancellor's lounge on the north side of the field and a football lettermen's lounge on the south side. The lights are part of a General Electric low-mount system which minimizes the height of the lightpoles. Cost of the entire project was $7 million. It was funded by private gifts and bonds.

William Rand Kenan Jr. deserves the credit for originally making the stadium a part of the University. He was born in North Carolina in 1873 and graduated from Carolina in 1894. An international industrialist, Kenan discovered carbide and made monumental progress in the field of chemistry. During his business carcer he was president of The Florida East Coast Railroad, The Florida East Coast Hotel Company, The West Palm Beach Water Company and the Florida East Coast Car Ferry Company.

He was a director of Florida Power and Light Company and built the first power plant in Miami in the early 1900s.

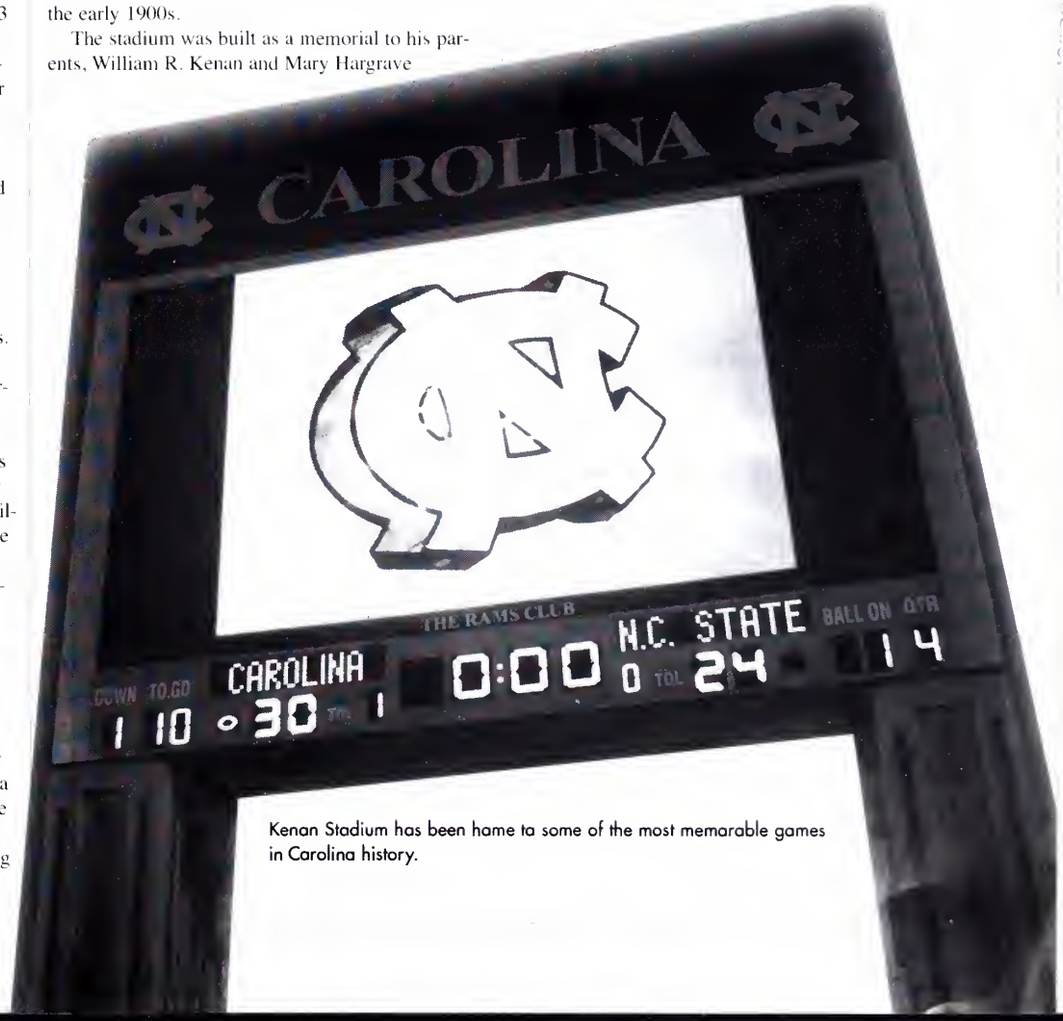

The stadium was built as a memorial to his parents, William R. Kenan and Mary Hargrave Kenan. Construction began in November 1926 and was completed the following August. Complete cost of the stadium and accompanying fieldhouse was $303,000.

Originally, the stadium was to be built through funds raised by alumni donations, and by June 1926, a group of nearly 40 alumni had contributed $27,926. At this time, however, a copy of the prospectus and plan of financing the stadium came into the hands of Kenan, who expressed an interest in the proposal. Kenan was considering establishing a memorial to his parents, and the pressing need for a stadium and the possibilities of the beauty, dignity and permanence it presented, suggested to him that the benefaction he contemplated may well take the form of a memorial stadium. The Stadium Committee immediately endorsed his proposal and on the very day in November 1926 on which Kenan visited the planned site, he announced his financial gift to build the stadium.

Kenan remained very interested in Kenan Stadium throughout his lifetime. In the 1950s he gave a $1,000,000 contribution to construct a second deck on the stadium. After Kenan's death in 1965 the William R. Kenan Jr. Charitable Trust, which was established by his will, donated $1,000,000 to enlarge and modernize Kenan Fieldhouse.

In 1988 the Kenan Trust made another $1,000,000 gift to complete the new chancellor's box on the North Side. Another lasting memory of William R. Kenan Jr. is the Kenan Athletic Scholarship Endowment, valued at over $1,000,000. Each year a student-athlete is awarded a full scholarship from this fund.

Besides giving the stadium to the

Kenan Stadium has been home to some of the most memorable games in Carolina history.

KENAN STADIUM

University, Mr. Kenan also sponsored and financed the famous Kenan Professorships. He was awarded the honorary degree of LL.D. by his alma mater in 1944.

In the first game played there, Carolina defeated Davidson, 27-0, on November 12, 1927.

Carolina's all-time record at Kenan Stadium is 247-157-16. The most points scored by the Tar Heels in Kenan came in the third game played there as Carolina whipped Wake Forest, 65-0, in the 1928 season opener.

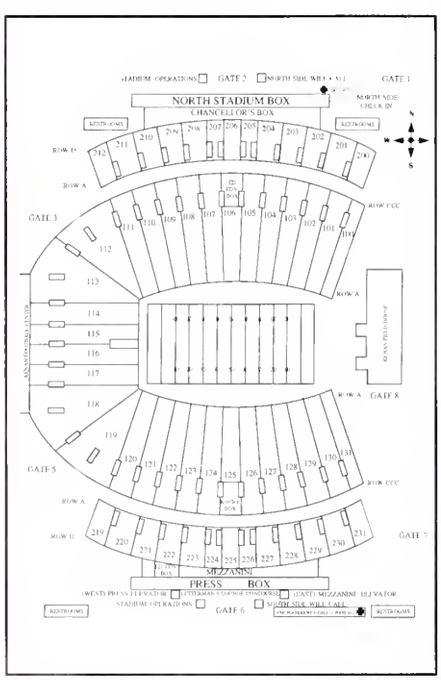

As originally built, the stadium seated 24,000. However, in 1963 the benefactor added portable stands and then an upper deck to the permanent stands, which increased capacity to 48,000. That was expanded to 50,000 in 1979, 52,000 in 1988, 57,500 in 1997 and 60,000 in 1998.

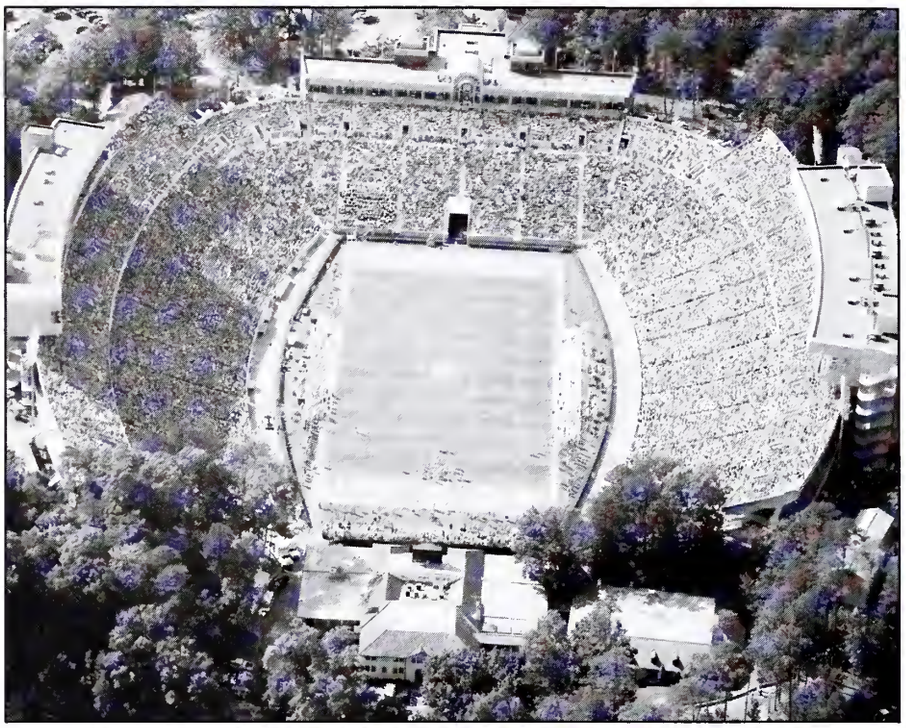

At the East end of the stadium is the Kenan Fieldhouse, home of the Student-Athlete Development Center. A 20,000 square foot building, it is a one-of-a-kind facility. For study purposes, it contains a language lab, video room, computer lab, theatre-style lecture hall, several reading rooms and numerous tutorial rooms. UNC's academic counseling staff has the advantage of using the most modern techniques in assisting student-athletes.

Capacity crowds have come to be expected at Kenan. In 1997, the Tar Heels played in front of a record-shattering crowd of 62,000 on Nov. 8, 1997, as fifth-ranked Carolina battled No. 2 Florida State. The largest crowd to watch a game prior to the most recent major expansion was 54,300 as Carolina defeated N.C. State, 31-17, in 1994.

The 1983 season saw another first in the stadium — a game played under artificial lights. The Carolina-Duke game was played in the late afternoon so it could be televised throughout the ACC area. Portable lights were brought in since the second half was played after sunset. Portable lights were also used in the 1987 Clemson game which was televised nationally by ESPN.

The 1991 season opener versus Cincinnati and that season's Clemson game, which was televised nationally by ESPN, were the first true night games ever played at Kenan Stadium.

Center Steven Bell (70) and wide receiver Jesse Holley (9) celebrate following Carolina's 31-24 win at NC State. It was Carolina's fifth win in the last six trips to Raleigh.

■ TAR HEELS COME UP ONE WIN SHORT: North Carolina finished the 2005 season 5-6 overall, 4-4 in the Atlantic Coast Conference. The Tar Heels came up one win shy of qualifying for postseason play, falling to No. 5 Virginia Tech in the season finale.

The season was highlighted by victories over rivals NC State and Virginia and a payback victory over Boston College who had knocked off the Tar Heels in the Continental Tire Bowl a year earlier. The season began poorly with a pair of losses to Georgia Tech in Atlanta and at home to Wisconsin. Facing the prospect of an 0-3 start, Carolina rebounded with a thrilling 31-24 victory at NC State. It was Carolina's second consecutive victory over NC State and fifth in the last six visits to Carter-Finley Stadium.

Later in the season, Carolina's defense held Virginia to just 199 yards and Cedrick Holt picked off a pass to thwart a late Virginia drive and give Carolina a 7-5 win. It was the first win over Virginia since 2001.

■ POLLOCK SETS RECORD: Senior Jarwarski Pollock established the Carolina career reception record with 177 catches. He broke the record held by Na Brown, who caught 165 passes from 1995-98, against Maryland. Pollock tied the mark on a 10-yard pass play from Matt Baker in the second quarter and later set the record with a five-yard grab in the third quarter.

Pollock established the single-season receiving record in 2003 with 71 receptions and averaged nearly four catches per game in his career. Pollock caught at least three passes in 32 of his 45 career games, including a career-high 11 against NC State in 2003.

■ FIVE TAR HEELS EARN ALL-ACC HONORS: Five North Carolina football players were selected to the All-Atlantic Coast Conference football teams. Offensive guard Kyle Ralph made first-team honors, while wide receiver Jesse Holley, defensive end Tommy Davis, linebacker Tommy Richardson and returner Brandon Tate were honorable-mention selections.

Ralph, a senior from Cincinnati, is the second consecutive UNC offensive lineman to earn first-team All-ACC honors. In 2004, center Jason Brown was a first-team selection, while Ralph made second-team.

Holley, a junior from Roselle, N.J., led the Tar Heels with 47 catches for 670 yards and one touchdown. He narrowly missed out on second-team honors, falling short by just two votes.

Davis, a senior from Dudley, N.C., had a standout season with a team-best eight sacks, the most by a Tar Heel since Julius Peppers recorded 9.5 in 2001. He ranked sixth in the ACC with .73 sacks per game.

Richardson, a senior captain from Miami, Fla., led the team with 91 tackles and ranked sixth in the ACC with 8.3 tackles per game. He had 6.0 tackles for losses, 1.5 sacks, one interception, four pass breakups, five quarterback hurries and led the ACC with three fumble recoveries.

Tate, a true freshman from Burlington, N.C., was among the top return men in the nation all season. He ran back the opening kick of the Utah game 96 yards for a touchdown and averaged 25.8 yards on kickoff returns and 9.2 on punt returns.

■ TATE EARNS FRESHMAN HONORS: North Carolina's Brandon Tate was named a first-team freshman All-America by The Sporting News. A true freshman in 2005, Tate was among the nation's top kick and punt returners all season. He finished second in the ACC in kickoff and third in punt returns. Nationally, he ranked 22nd in kickoff returns with a 25.8 average. A native of Burlington, N.C., Tate returned the opening kickoff vs. Utah 96 yards for a touchdown. Tate was also named to The Sporting News All-ACC Freshman first team.

CAROLINA FOOTBALL 2005 REVIEW

2005 NOTES

■ SIX TAR HEELS EARN NFL OPPORTUNITY: North Carolina defensive tackle Chase Page was selected in the seventh round of the 2006 NFL Draft by San Diego. Carolina has had at least one player selected in the NFL Draft every year since 1971. In three seasons on the defensive line, Page had 123 tackles, 16 tackles for losses of 71 yards and 6.5 sacks for 42 yards. As a senior, he was second on the team in tackles for loss (6.5) and sacks (4).

Five more Tar Heels, including quarterback Matt Baker, defensive end Tommy Davis, cornerback Cedrick Holt, offensive guard Kyle Ralph and wide receiver Wallace Wright signed free agent contracts with NFL teams after the draft concluded.

A first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection in 2005, Ralph signed with Seattle, but was released and later signed with the Carolina Panthers. Ralph started 23 consecutive games in 2004 and 2005 and was one of the Tar Heels' most consistent performers on the offensive line. Ralph was named the No. 10 guard in the country by The Sporting News and was a third-team All-America selection by Rivals.com as a senior. He was a second-team All-ACC pick in 2004.

Baker signed with the Houston Texans after a solid senior campaign in 2005. In just one season as a starter, he completed 180 of 346 attempts (.520) for 2,345 yards and nine touchdowns. His 2,345 passing yards were the fourth-highest single-season total in school history and his 2,311 total offensive yards were the fifth-highest total in single-season school history.

Davis signed with New Orleans after starting three seasons at defensive end. He earned honorable-mention All-ACC honors in 2005 and led the Tar Heels with 10 tackles for losses and eight sacks. His eight sacks were the most by a Tar Heel since Julius Peppers had 9.5 in 2001.

Cornerback Cedrick Holt inked a free agent deal with the Tennessee Titans. Holt had an outstanding season in 2005 with 59 tackles, six tackles for losses, two interceptions and a team-high 10 pass break ups. He was second in the ACC in pass breakups and third in passes defended.

■ SPECIAL TEAMS: North Carolina's kickoff return team was one of the best special teams units in the country in 2005. Led by true freshman Brandon Tate and senior captain Wallace Wright, the Tar Heels ranked seventh in the country, averaging 24.9 yards per return.

Wright returned the opening kickoff against Boston College 90 yards for a touchdown, giving the Tar Heels two opening kickoff returns for scores in the same season for the first time in school history. Earlier in the season, Tate took the opening kick 96 yards for a touchdown against Utah.

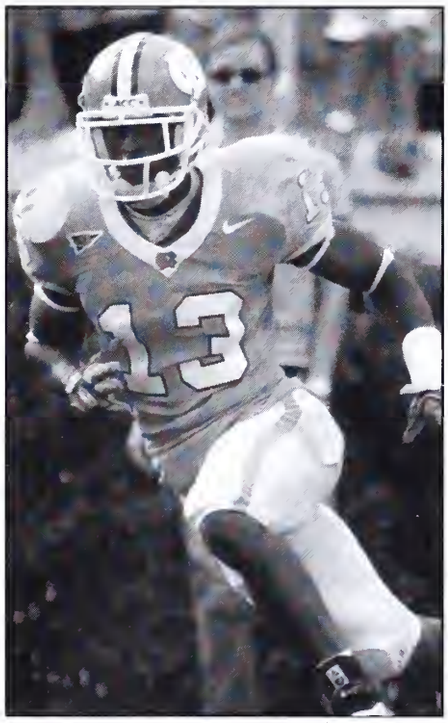

Wright's kickoff return for a score marked the third time in UNC history the Tar Heels have returned two kickoffs for touchdowns in the same season. In 2003, Mike Mason (Maryland) and Michael Waddell (Wisconsin) scored on kick returns, while Tyrell Godwin (Stanford) and Kory Bailey (Georgia Tech) did so in 1998.

Carolina was one of only six teams in the country with two kickoff returns for touchdowns.

■ WINS OVER RANKED TEAMS IN KENAN: Carolina posted two straight home wins over ranked opponents for the first time since back-to-back wins over No. 16 Virginia and No. 19 Georgia Tech in 1992. The Tar Heels downed No. 23 Virginia on Oct. 22 and No. 19 Boston College on Nov. 5.

Cornerback Cedrick Holt led the team with 10 pass breakups ond wos fourth with 59 tackles. He signed o free agent contract with the Tennessee Titans following the season.

2005 GAME RECAPS

GAME 1: SEPTEMBER 10
GEORGIA TECH 27, CAROLINA 21
BOBBY DODD STADIUM
ATLANTA, GA.

ATLANTA (AP) - Reggie Ball threw for two touchdowns and a career-high 320 yards, including eight passes for 131 yards to Damarius Bilbo, as No. 17 Georgia Tech held off North Carolina 27-21 on Septemher 10.

After North Carolina pulled to within six points late in the fourth quarter, the Tar Heels stopped Tech on three plays and took possession at its 41 with 2:51 left to play. Tech's Dennis Davis intercepted a long pass from Matt Baker near the goal line to end the threat.

Ball also ran for 20 yards with a 9-yard touchdown in the fourth quarter of the Atlantic Coast opener for both teams.

In his first start, North Carolina's Baker completed 18 of 39 passes for 280 yards and two touchdowns and also ran for a score.

For Tech (2-0, 1-0), Calvin Johnson added six catches for 114 yards and P.J. Daniels rushed for 103 yards as Georgia Tech finished with 475 total yards.

Lewis intercepted Baker in the end zone with 6:47 left to play, but Lewis was beaten on a 17-yard scoring pass from Baker to Jawarski Pollock, pulling the Tar Heels to within six points at 27-21 with 4:16 left.

Ball's previous high was 288 yards passing against Connecticut in 2004. The junior had to protect his starting job in spring practice after throwing 18 interceptions last season, but - thanks in part to the league's new instant replay rule - he did not have a turnover against the Tar Heels.

On his first pass attempt, Ball threw low for Johnson and officials ruled North Carolina cornerback Cedrick Holt intercepted the ball. The ruling was overturned following the video review.

Able to retain possession, Tech took a 7-0 lead on Ball's 5-yard pass to Daniels following Daniels' 36-yard run.

Tech pushed its lead to 14-0 in the second quarter on Ball's 48-yard touchdown pass to Bilbo, who lost his helmet while falling backward in the end zone.

Baker scored North Carolina's first touchdown on a 10-yard run in the second quarter.

North Carolina pulled even on an 87-yard scoring pass from Baker to Derrele Mitchell. Tech's Davis and KaMichael Hall missed tackle attempts as Mitchell ran down the Tech sideline.

Tech answered with 25- and 22-yard field goals by Travis Bell in the third quarter before Ball scored on a 9-yard run early in the fourth quarter.

Freshman Cooter Arnold started at tailback for North Carolina and shared time with LSU transfer Barrington Edwards. The two combined for only 50 yards rushing.

GAME 2: SEPTEMBER 17
WISCONSIN 14, CAROLINA 5
KENAN STADIUM
CHAPEL HILL, N.C.

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) Brian Calhoun did it again for Wisconsm, rushing for 171 yards and two touchdowns in a gritty 14-5 victory over penalty-prone North Carolina on September 17.

The Badgers hardly put up the gaudy numbers they have become accustomed to this season, but it was enough to make them 3-0 for the third time in four seasons. Calhoun carried the ball 38 times and continued his impressive start, giving him 471 yards so far in his first season after transferring from Colorado.

Few of his runs were pretty, yet they were effective enough to hand the Tar Heels (0-2) another close loss. Calhoun's best efforts came on consecutive plays midway through the fourth quarter, a 26-yard run to move the Badgers down to the North Carolina 32, and a 14-yarder to get it even closer.

Three plays later, he scampered in from the 4 for his final TD to make it 14-3 and put the game out of reach. The Tar Heels tried to rally, driving to 4-yard line in the final 2 minutes before Matt Bakers' pass on fourth down fell incomplete.

Wisconsin punter Ken DeBauche then stepped out of the end zone on the final play to account for the final score.

Baker finished 16-for-37 for 281 yards and an interception, but North Carolina totaled only 57 yards on the ground a week after gaining 61 in a 27-21 loss Georgia Tech. Barrington Edwards led the way in this one with 37 yards.

Penalties were perhaps a bigger problem. The Tar Heels finished with 12 infractions for 115 yards, including two when Wisconsin punted on its first possession. A block in the hack and an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty on the sidelines - presumably on coach John Bunting - pinned North Carolina on its own 5, helping give the Badgers the edge in field position.

Later, when Connor Barth kicked a 52-yard field goal that would have cut the deficit to 7-3 early in the second quarter, a delay of game penalty nullified the kick and forced a punt. And a flag for offensive pass interference late in the first half took away a 24-yard gain and stopped a drive.

The Badgers came in averaging 61.5 points and nearly 500 yards of total offense, but nothing came that easy against the surprisingly stingy Tar Heels. The 14 points they allowed were the fewest since 1998, and they outgained the Badgers 338-304.

GAME 3: SEPTEMBER 24
CAROLINA 31, NC STATE 24
CARTER-FINLEY STADIUM
RALEIGH, N.C.

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) - Barrington Edwards ran for a career-high 129 yards and a touchdown, Matt Baker recovered from a miserable first half to throw for the go-ahead score and North Carolina held off North Carolina State 31-24 on September 24.

The Tar Heels (1-2, 1-1 Atlantic Coast Conference) beat their rival from just down the road for the 10th time in the past 13 meetings by finally finding a running game. In two opening losses, they had only 118 yards on the ground, then totaled 144 against one of the best defenses in the country.

Freshman Toney Baker ran for two touchdowns and Jay Davis added another through the air for N.C. State, but it wasn't enough. The Tar Heels took advantage of two fumbles in the first half, both of which gave them possession inside the Wolfpack's 10-yard line.

Those came during an awful opening 30 minutes for both teams. North Carolina also made two turnovers, even if Baker's interception indirectly helped lead to its first points.

N.C. State went backward on three plays and lined up to punt, but William Lee's snap sailed high and delayed John Deraney's kick. Wallace Wright broke through to block it, Quinton Person snatched the loose ball and sprinted 11 yards for a touchdown.

Later, with the Wolfpack driving at the end of the second quarter, they used all their timeouts and allowed the clock to run out after a completion from Davis to Anthony Hill moved the ball to North Carolina's 7. The second half started much better. Darrell Blackman took the opening kickoff 73 yards and Baker ran the final 2 to give N.C. State a 17-14 lead. A three-and-out by the Tar Heels led to great field position for the Wolfpack, and Davis quickly made it work, throwing a 39-yard TD to tight end T.J. Williams, who was celebrating his 23rd birthday.

North Carolina came back. Baker started clicking with short passes to combat a brutal pass rush by N.C. State, and he led an 80-yard drive that culminated in Edwards' 2-yard touchdown run. On the Tar Heels' next possession, Baker ran his streak of completions to seven and found Hamlett for what turned out to be the winning score.

Connor Barth, who missed two field goals earlier, connected from 24 yards to make it a seven-point lead, and the Wolfpack never really threatened after that.

GAME 4: OCTOBER 1
CAROLINA 31, UTAH 17
KENAN STADIUM
CHAPEL HILL, N.C.

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) - Matt Baker threw two touchdown passes and Tommy Richardson made two key fumble recoveries in the fourth quarter Saturday in North Carolina's 31-17 victory over Utah.

The game turned on a penalty late in the third quarter. On a second-and-12 at his own 32, Baker's pass for Jaworski Pollack was intercepted by Eric Weddle, who returned it for a touchdown. But Utah was called for roughing the passer, and the momentum reversed in favor of North Carolina (2-2).

Four plays later, Baker hit Mike Mason on a 40-yard pass play to the Utah 1. Barrington Edwards scored on the next play to extend North Carolina's lead to 24-14 with 14:02 to go.

Utah (3-2) got Dan Beardall's 35-yard field goal a few minutes later and was marching toward a game-tying score when quarterback Brian Johnson scrambled on a third-and-14 from the North Carolina 31. Larry Edwards stripped the ball and Richardson recovered for the Tar Heels.

Utah's next possession lasted just one play when Quintin Ganther fumbled at the end of a run and Richardson pounced on the ball at the North Carolina 49 with 6:44 to go. It was the fourth of Utah's five turnovers.

The Utes fumbled on three of their last five possessions, and Johnson, who also threw an interception, lost two of them.

Baker sealed the game when he hit Jesse Holley over the middle, and Holley snaked his way through the Utah secondary to complete a 43-yard scoring play with 5:11 to go.

Brandon Tate took the opening kickoff 96 yards for North Carolina's first score at 14:47. It was the first time the Tar Heels had scored on an opening kickoff since Michael Waddell did it against Wisconsin in 2003, and the first time Utah has given up a kickoff return for a touchdown since UNLV returned one for a score in 1999.

2005 GAME RECAPS

GAME 5: OCTOBER 8
LOUISVILLE 69, CAROLINA 14
PAPA JOHN'S CARDINAL STADIUM
LOUISVILLE, KY.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) - Brian Brohm threw for 304 yards and four touchdowns, leading No. 23 Louisville to a 69-14 victory over North Carolina on October 8.

It was the most points allowed by North Carolina, surpassing a 66-0 loss to Virginia in 1912. Louisville's nine touchdowns was also a record for North Carolina, which has fielded teams since 1888.

Louisville defensive end Elvis Dumervil had three sacks, two forced fumbles and his first career interception, and Michael Bush added three touchdowns for the Cardinals (4-1), who scored on their first eight possessions and topped 60 points for the fourth straight home game.

On the opening drive, Bush capped a nine-play march with a 3-yard TD run. Louisville scored on the game's opening possession for the 13th time in 26 games under coach Bobby Petrino.

The Tar Heels (2-3) immediately answered, going 79 yards in 6:18, their longest touchdown drive of the season in possession time. Running back Ronnie McGill, seeing his first action since tearing a chest muscle this summer, scored on a 2-yard run to tie the score.

The Tar Heels' offense sputtered after that, gaining only 72 yards the rest of the half.

Bush had 28 rushing yards on Louisville's next drive, then caught a short pass from Brohm and weaved for a 13-yard touchdown.

On North Carolina's next possession, Matt Baker threw a short pass to a surprised Dumervil, who barreled to the Tar Heels' 8. Bush overthrew Brohm at the goal line on a trick play before Art Carmody booted a 20-yard field goal.

Two pass interference penalties kept alive Louisville's next drive and Bush scored again with 9:55 left in the half.

The Tar Heels marched to the Cardinals' 26, but the drive stalled after an illegal motion penalty and two incompletions by Baker. Connor Barth then hooked a 44-yard field-goal try, typifying the Tar Heels' day.

On Louisville's next play, Brohm double-pumped and hit Mario Urrutia in stride for a 73-yard touchdown. Brohm added a 39-yard TD pass to Montrell Jones in the final minute of the second quarter and finished the half 13 of 15 for 255 yards.

GAME 6: OCTOBER 22
CAROLINA 7, VIRGINIA 5
KENAN STADIUM
CHAPEL HILL, N.C.

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) - Ronnie McGill ran for 118 yards while Cedrick Holt had a key interception late to cap a stellar defensive effort and help North Carolina hold off No. 23 Virginia 7-5 on October 22.

Matt Baker connected with Rikki Cook for the game's only touchdown in the first quarter, which ultimately proved to be all the Tar Heels (3-3, 2-1 Atlantic Coast Conference) would need to bounce back from a humiliating loss at Louisville two weeks ago.

After allowing 69 points in that loss, the Tar Heels held Virginia (4-3, 2-3) to just 199 total yards and allowed the Cavaliers' offense just one field goal - a surprising result for a team that upset unbeaten Florida State last week.

It was the fewest points scored by the Tar Heels in a win since beating Wake Forest 7-3 in 1971.

North Carolina hottled up mobile quarterback Marques Hagans, who threw for a career-best 306 yards and two TDs in the 26-21 win over the Seminoles, sacking him twice and keeping him in the pocket. Hagans threw for 109 yards and ran for 26 before throwing the late interception to Holt.

The Tar Heels routinely controlled the line of scrimmage on offense, opening plenty of running lanes for McGill and Barrington Edwards. The duo led the Tar Heels' season-high 172-yard effort on the ground despite getting little help from Baker and the passing game.

Baker hit Cook for a 2-yard score in the first quarter, hut that was as good as it would get through the air. But considering the way that much-maligned defense was playing, it wouldn't matter.

After the Louisville debacle, North Carolina coach John Bunting gave his players a light week of work and a weekend off in hopes that they would have time to refresh and recharge. They responded by holding Virginia to three-and-out on its first four possessions en route to allowing the fewest points by an opponent in four years.

In fact, Virginia stayed in the game thanks largely to several North Carolina miscues. The Cavaliers got their first score only when Warren Green snapped the hall over punter David Wooldridge's head and out of the end zone for a second-quarter safety.

Later, on a third-quarter drive, Mike Mason dropped a perfect pass from Baker as he fell into the end zone.

But the Tar Heels' defense got the stop it needed, flushing Hagans from the pocket and forcing him to throw while on the run. The ball was tipped by Trimane Goddard - one of several key plays the sophomore safety was involved in - and Holt came down with it with 1:23 to play, ending Virginia's last best chance.

2005 GAME RECAPS

GAME 7: OCTOBER 29
MIAMI 34, CAROLINA 16
ORANGE BOWL
MIAMI, FLA.

MIAMI (AP) - Tyrone Moss rushed for career highs of 195 yards and four touchdowns, three scores after halftime as No. 6 Miami pulled away to beat North Carolina 34-16 on October 29.

The Hurricanes trailed 16-7 at intermission, then scored three touchdowns in an eight-minute span of the third quarter to take control, setting up a showdown with unbeaten Virginia Tech next Saturday for control of the Atlantic Coast Conference's Coastal Division.

Moss scored on a 1-yard run in the first quarter, then added second-half scoring runs of 1, 4 and 15 yards to ensure Miami (6-1, 3-1) wouldn't be upset by North Carolina for the second straight year. Quadtrine Hill recovered a punt he blocked in the end zone for the go-ahead score for Miami, which won its sixth straight.

Miami's defense, which entered ranked No. 1 nationally but yielded 170 first-half yards, kept the Tar Heels to 18 total yards on 30 plays after halftime - 14 of those yards coming in the final minute.

Ronnie McGill rushed for 66 yards - he had 67 at halftime - and both touchdowns for North Carolina (3-4, 2-2). Trimane Goddard had two interceptions for North Carolina, which held Wright to 111 yards on 11-of-16 passing.

Carolina missed a great chance to go up 23-7 late in the half, but a certain touchdown pass from Matt Baker skipped off Jarwarski Pollock's outstretched hands; Pollock was wide-open in the center of the field.

North Carolina ran for 117 yards by halftime, with McGill opening the scoring on a 1-yard run. Moss' 1-yard run tied the score at 7, but Carolina reclaimed the lead on a bizarre play.

Facing a third-and-5 from the Miami 35, Hurricanes center Anthony Wollschlager snapped the ball over Wright's head. It squirmed back inside the 5 and was intentionally kicked out of the end zone by Miami left tackle Eric Winston - potentially saving a touchdown, but giving the Tar Heels a safety and a 9-7 lead.

The Heels eventually got their touchdown anyhow. On the ensuing drive, McGill scored from 7 yards, ending an easy eight-play, 50-yard drive to give his team a 16-7 advantage.

But from there, it was all Miami, which played its first home game since Hurricane Wilma struck, and storm reminders were everywhere at the Orange Bowl.

GAME 8: NOVEMBER 5
CAROLINA 16, BOSTON COLLEGE 14
KENAN STADIUM
CHAPEL HILL, N.C.

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) - Connor Barth broke out of a season-long slump with three field goals, Wallace Wright ran back the opening kickoff 90 yards for a touchdown and North Carolina held off No. 19 Boston College 16-14 on November 5.

Jesse Holley set career highs with eight catches for 125 yards for the Tar Heels (4-4, 3-2 Atlantic Coast Conference), who got their second consecutive upset at home. Two weeks ago, they beat then-No. 23 Virginia 7-5, and their defense was every bit as stingy in this one.

After the Eagles (6-3, 3-3) drove 63 yards on their opening drive to tie it 7-7, they gained only 274 the rest of the way. Coach Tom O'Brien went to backup Matt Ryan in the fourth quarter, and he made the final margin much closer with a 10-yard touchdown pass to Larry Lester in the final minute.

But North Carolina tight end Justin Phillips recovered the ensuing onside kick to hand BC its second loss in a row. The first came about 10 days ago at Virginia Tech and dropped the Eagles out of contention for the Atlantic Division title, and this one means they are left fighting for bowl positioning down the stretch in the crowded ACC.

Quinton Porter was 16-for-26 for 144 yards before giving way to Ryan, and leading rusher L.V. Whitworth was held to 58 yards.

Wright set the tone early, even though his return hardly was a thing of beauty. He bobbled a low kick by Ryan Ohliger a couple of times before gaining control, and appeared hemmed in deep in his own territory. But Wright broke a tackle, then picked up a nice block from Brandon Tate to reach open space along the sideline.

It was the second time this season North Carolina scored on the opening kickoff, with Tate going 100 yards for a TD against Utah.

Barth did his part, too. The sophomore came in 3-for-11 in 2005 - with misses on his previous three kicks - but was perfect against the Eagles. His 20-yarder late in the first quarter gave the Tar Heels the lead for good, and he added one from 44 yards in the third quarter to stretch the margin to 13 points.

That proved to be more than enough to hold off BC, particularly with a plodding-yet-consistent offense providing just enough for an edge in field position. Matt Baker was 20-for-32 for 211 yards and one interception, while Ronnie McGill gained a bruising 75 yards on 20 carries.

And Holley continued his impressive season. Early in the fourth quarter, the Tar Heels took over on their own 9 when Holley was at his best. He reached behind him to rip a pass out of the hands of linebacker Tyronne Pruitt that went for 17 yards on third-and-10, then later put North Carolina in field goal range with a dazzling, leaping catch over DeJuan Tribble.

MARYLAND 33, CAROLINA 30 (OT)
KENAN STADIUM
CHAPEL HILL, N.C.

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) - Dan Ennis, who had missed two field goals and an extra point in regulation, kicked a 28-yard field goal in overtime to give Maryland a 33-30 victory North Carolina on November 12.

The Terrapins (5-4, 3-3 Atlantic Coast Conference) bolstered their bowl hopes by rallying from a 10-point deficit with 9 minutes to play. Lance Ball ran for 161 yards and a touchdown, while Vernon Davis had seven catches for 139 yards and a score.

Connor Barth - who kicked the tying field goal with 9 seconds left in regulation - missed a 38-yarder in second part of the overtime for the Tar Heels (4-5, 3-3), who took a disappointing home loss in a game that appeared well in hand.

Matt Baker threw for 335 yards, while Jesse Holley had six catches for 115 yards for the Tar Heels.

Both teams came into Kenan Stadium needing the win for their postseason push. But Maryland leaves needing to beat either Boston College at home next week or win at North Carolina State in the season finale to earn its sixth win.

The Tar Heels must win their final two games to reach a bowl for the second straight season. North Carolina hosts lowly Duke next week, but closes the year at No. 8 Virginia Tech.

Sam Hollenbach threw two long touchdown passes - the second 80 yards to Danny Melendez - to help Maryland rally and take a 30-27 lead. The Tar Heels responded, moving 76 yards in the 2-minute drill to set up Barth's 24-yard field goal.

But after Ennis' kick to start the overtime, the Tar Heels had a chance to win the game when Holley headed alone for the end zone. But Baker's throw was late, and Gerrick McPhearson got there just in time to tip the ball away.

Barth - who kicked the game-winner on the final play of last year's upset of unbeaten Miami - then trotted on the field looking for his fourth field goal. But a high snap appeared to take him out of rhythm, and the kick went wide right as the Terrapins spilled on the field in celebration.

The Tar Heels led 20-17 when Baker connected with a diving Mike Mason for a 19-yard touchdown late in the third quarter, and Kareen Taylor returned an interception 25 yards for a touchdown and a 27-17 lead with 9:07 left.

GAME 10: NOVEMBER 19
CAROLINA 24, DUKE 21
KENAN STADIUM
CHAPEL HILL, N.C.

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) - Ronnie McGill capped his best game of the season with a 3-yard touchdown in the final 2 minutes, helping North Carolina rally past Duke 24-21 on November 19 to keep the Blue Devils winless against Division I-A opponents.

The Tar Heels (5-5, 4-3 Atlantic Coast Conference) retained the Victory Bell for the 15th time in 16 seasons, and now they need to win at No. 7 Virginia Tech next week to become bowl eligible for the second straight season. McGill finished with 146 yards on the ground, but none were more important than the final 3.

With about 5 minutes left, the Blue Devils (1-10, 0-8) took the lead for the first time on Ronnie Drummer's 24-yard scoring run. North Carolina took over on its 32-yard line, and a roughing-the-passer penalty on Duke linebacker Alex Williams helped get the drive started.

Matt Baker then connected with Jesse Holley for what appeared to be a 40-yard touchdown two plays later, but Holley was called for pass interference after he pushed off against cornerback John Talley. After McGill got a first down on fourth-and-1, Baker scrambled 25 yards down to the 11.

An 8-yard pass to tight end Jon Hamlett set up McGill's TD, and the victory was secured when North Carolina's Tommy Richardson intercepted a pass from Mike Schneider with 1:08 left.

VIRGINIA TECH 30, CAROLINA 3
BLACKSBURG, VA.

BLACKSBURG, Va. (AP) - Cedric Humes ran for a career-high 134 yards and two touchdowns and No. 5 Virginia Tech advanced to the Atlantic Coast Conference championship game with a 30-3 victory against North Carolina on November 26.

The Hokies (10-1, 7-1) led only 6-3 at halftime, but Humes scored on runs of 1 and 3 yards and Branden Ore added a TD run - all in the third quarter - as Virginia Tech made certain it didn't squander a second chance to win the ACC's Coastal Division.

The Hokies feared they had blown their chance three weeks ago when they lost 27-7 to Miami, but the Hurricanes then lost at home last weekend against Georgia Tech.

While the Hokies move on to the inaugural championship game next Saturday in Jacksonville, Fla., against Florida State, the loss deprived the Tar Heels (5-6, 4-4) of becoming the ninth conference team to have the six wins needed for a bowl berth.

Virginia Tech will be seeking its second ACC title in as many years since joining the league, and will be facing a Seminoles team that lost its third straight Saturday, the first three-game slide for coach Bobby Bowden's team since the 1983 season.

The Hokies that came out after halftime would be a formidable foe for anyone, even though Marcus Vick was hardly a factor, finishing 8-for-15 for just 61 yards.

Humes carried on six plays the first time the Hokies got the ball after the half. He had runs of 11, 9 and 13 yards to start the drive, and finished with a 1-yard dive.

After the Tar Heels went three-and-out, Ore took over at tailback, carrying seven times for 42 yards - including a 20-yard burst - before scoring from 4 yards out.

The Hokies again held the Tar Heels without a first down, and again it was Humes' turn, his touchdown coming as he pushed a pile of defenders into the end zone.

That made it 27-3, and the Tar Heels were finished. They did drive inside the Tech five in the fourth quarter, but the Hokies defense held on four consecutive plays.

Bly is the anly twa-time consensus first-team All-America in Caralina history and the anly three-time first-team All-America in Atlantic Coost Conference history.

FIRST-TEAM ALL-AMERICAS

GEORGE BARCLAY, Guard, 1934

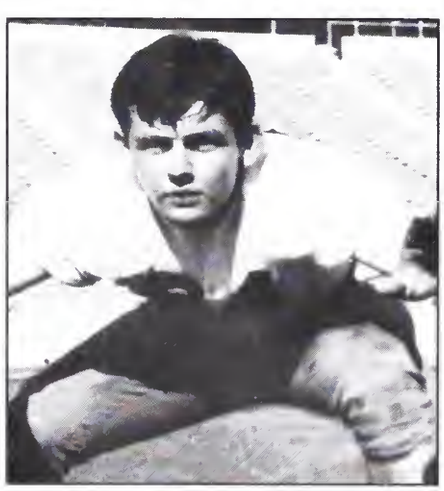

Barclay was Carolina's first football All-America. The 5-11, 185-pound guard and linebacker was a three-year standout for Chuck Collins and Carl Snavely. A fine blocker and an extraordinary tackler, Barclay lined up in the offensive interior next to tackle Jim Tatum. He was captain of the 1934 team which went 7-1-1. Barclay later served as head coach at Carolina for three seasons, from 1953 to 1955.

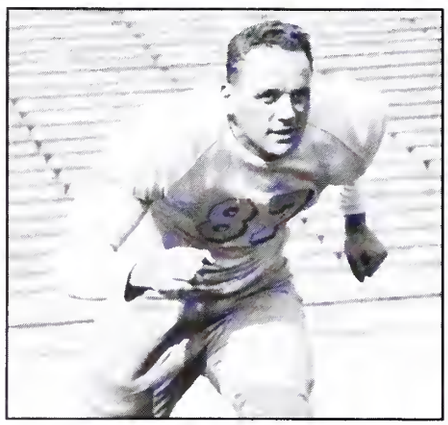

ANDY BERSHAK, End, 1937

A 185-pound end, Bershak was a two-way performer for the Tar Heels. He was a fine receiver, but was even better on defense. He played two years for Carl Snavely and one for Ray Wolf. Bershak, an honor student, was also a basketball starter. He was selected to the Order of the Golden Fleece and served as president of the Carolina Athletic Association.

STEVE MARONIC (below), Tackle, 1938

Maronic was a two-way tackle for the Tar Heels and team co-captain in 1938. He was an "iron man," playing almost 60 minutes in every game that season. He turned in two of his best performances in front of the New York media against NYU at Yankee Stadium and Fordham at the Polo Grounds. Those games solidified his All-America chances. Maronic also was a place-kicker and hit 13 straight PATs in his final season.

PAUL SEVERIN, End, 1939-40

Severin was a two-time All-America selection by the Associated Press (1939 and 1940) and made most of the all-star teams in his senior season. His career was filled with big plays—a touchdown catch to tie Tulane in 1939, two scoring catches against Penn that same season and a touchdown-saving tackle from behind of Duke's great Steve Lach in a 6-3 win over the Blue Devils in 1940.

CHARLIE JUSTICE, Halfback, 1948-49

Twice a runner-up for the Heisman Trophy, Justice is rated by many as the best all-around player in the history of Southern football. He was a true triple-threat performer, leading Carolina in rushing, passing and punting from 1946 to 1949. He sparked Tar Heel teams which appeared in the Sugar Bowl twice and the Cotton Bowl once. He was the school's all-time total offense leader with 4,883 yards for more than 40 years and also ranks as the Tar Heels' fourth-leading career scorer, eighth-leading rusher and 18th-leading passer. He had a career punting average of 42.6 and averaged 14.2 yards on punt returns and 26.6 yards on kickoff returns. In 1948 he received the national player of the year award from the Washington Touchdown Club and was the recipient of the Walter Camp Memorial Trophy. Justice is a member of the College Football Hall of Fame.

KEN POWELL, Defensive End, 1949

Powell teamed with Art Weiner to give UNC a formidable pass receiving threat in the post-Wold War II "Justice Era." He was outstanding in the 1947 Sugar Bowl against Georgia and earned first-team All-America honors at defensive end in 1949 by NEA. That organization named Powell to its All-America Team on defense, the first time it selected All-Americas on both offense and defense. He finished his career with 23 receptions for 324 yards and three touchdowns.

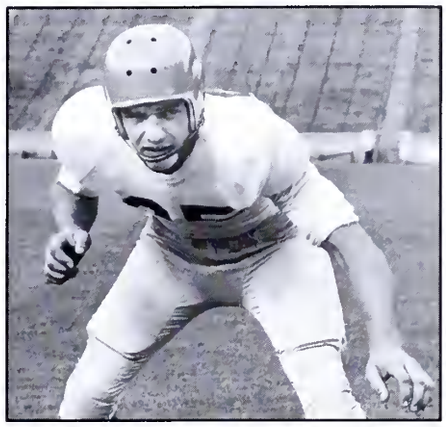

ART WEINER, End, 1948-49

A great all-around end, Weiner led the nation in receiving in 1949 with 52 catches. He had been seventh nationally in receiving the previous year with 31 catches. His 106 career catches are the ninth-most in school history and until 1997 he held the UNC career record with 18 touchdown receptions. Many remember him best for a game-saving defensive play on the last snap of the 1949 Duke game. Weiner was named the most outstanding lineman in the Senior Bowl. Weiner was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1992.

FIRST-TEAM ALL-AMERICAS

IRV HOLDASH, Center, 1950

While Carolina's football fortunes slipped in the years immediately following the Charlie Justice Era, Holdash still received national attention for his outstanding play. A center on offense and linebacker on defense, Holdash was a three-year regular who never missed a game during his varsity career. He perhaps sealed All-America honors in 1950 with a sensational performance in a 14-7 loss at Notre Dame. Irish quarterback Bobby Williams called him "the best I've played against."

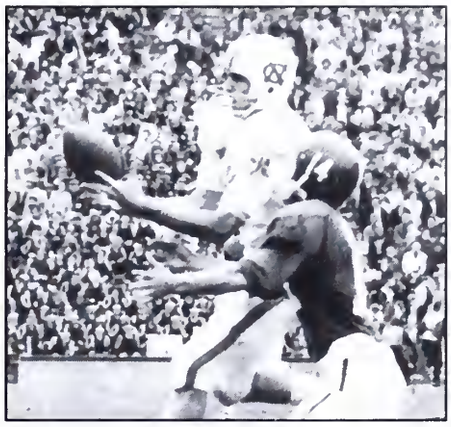

AL GOLDSTEIN, End, 1958

An outstanding two-way end, Goldstein earned All-America honors in 1958 by making 24 catches for 490 yards, averaging an amazing 20.4 yards per reception. Adept at making the seemingly impossible catch, he had a 68-yard TD reception at Virginia. He also starred defensively and had a 46-yard interception return for a touchdown against Maryland.

BOB LACEY, End, 1963

Lacey led the Atlantic Coast Conference in receiving in 1963 with 48 catches for 533 yards. His pass-catching was a key factor as Carolina rolled to a 9-2 record, defeating Air Force, 35-0, in the Gator Bowl. Lacey was also the team's top receiver in 1962 with 44 catches. He was the first Tar Heel player to have at least 40 catches in two seasons. His career total of 102 receptions is the 10th-best in school history.

DON McCAULEY, Halfback, 1970

McCauley shattered the Carolina and the Atlantic Coast Conference record books with a dazzling senior season in 1970. He rushed for 1,720 yards and scored 21 touchdowns, setting marks which still stand. His 1,720 yards was an all-time collegiate high at the time, breaking O.J. Simpson's NCAA record. McCauley led the nation in all-purpose running that season. He was twice the ACC Player of the Year and still ranks fifth in career rushing at UNC. He had a lengthy professional career with the Baltimore Colts. He was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2002.

RON RUSNAK, Offensive Guard, 1972

Rusnak was a unanimous All-America selection in 1972 as Carolina posted an 11-1 record. At 6-2 and 220 pounds, he did not have the size to play professional football, but Rusnak was a great college player. He was a two-time All-Atlantic Coast Conference choice, starting on teams which combined for a 20-4 record. In 1972 he won the Jacobs Blocking Trophy as the best blocker in the ACC.

KEN HUFF, Offensive Guard, 1974

Huff was a key man on one of the most explosive units in Carolina history. He was the leader of an offensive line which helped the Tar Heels accumulate 4,691 yards, at the time a school record, in 1974. The 6-4, 255-pound Huff won the Jacobs Blocking Trophy as the best blocker in the Atlantic Coast Conference. Sparked in great part by his play up front, the Tar Heels had two backs rush for over 1,000 yards in the same season. Huff was the third player selected in the NFL draft by the Baltimore Colts.

CHARLES WADDELL, Tight End, 1974

Waddell rates as one of the best all-around athletes in Carolina history. He won three football letters, two in basketball and one in track. Not only was he a fine receiver at tight end, but he was also a dynamic blocker. He set a school single-game record in 1974 with three touchdown catches against Clemson. He had 41 career catches for 518 yards and seven TDs. His professional career was cut short by a knee injury.

FIRST-TEAM ALL-AMERICAS

DEE HARDISON, Defensive Tackle, 1977

A two-time All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection, Hardison played on one of the top defensive teams in Carolina history. UNC led the nation in scoring defense in 1977, giving up just 7.4 points a game. The Tar Heels led the ACC in total, rushing, passing and scoring defense. A big reason was the play of Hardison, a 6-3, 252-pound tackle who dominated the line of scrimmage all season. After leaving Carolina he began a lengthy NFL career with the Buffalo Bills.

RICKY BARDEN, Defensive Back, 1979

One of the top defensive backs in Carolina history, Barden was a repeat All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection in 1978 and 1979. Barden made nine career interceptions. He started at cornerback for two years and then was shifted to strong safety for his final year where he broke up nine passes and was the third-leading tackler on the team. His 156 yards on interception returns are the third-most in school history.

LAWRENCE TAYLOR (above), Outside Linebacker, 1980

From midway in his junior season until the end of his senior year in 1980, Taylor dominated the football field as few defensive players ever had. Now regarded as the finest outside linebacker in the history of the game, Taylor had a remarkable senior season which featured a school-record 16 quarterback sacks and six other tackles for losses. In Carolina's only close games in an 11-1 season, Taylor made the game-saving defensive plays against Texas Tech and Clemson. He was a runaway selection as ACC Player of the Year.

RON WOOTEN (above), Offensive Guard, 1980

Wooten won the Jacobs Blocking Trophy in 1980 as the best blocker in the Atlantic Coast Conference. He was the leading vote-getter in the offensive line on the All-ACC team. He was one of the leaders of an offensive line which helped the Tar Heels lead the ACC in total offense and which also helped produce two 1,000-yard backs. He went on to become a starting guard with New England in the NFL.

DAVID DRECHSLER (above), Offensive Guard, 1981-82

Drechsler became Carolina's first two-time All-American since Charlie Justice and Art Weiner when he earned first-team honors in 1981 and 1982. He played every position in the offensive interior during his Carolina career, but settled in at guard. The 6-4, 253-pound Drechsler played on Tar Heel teams which were 37-10-1 and were unbeaten in four bowl games. He also was the winner of a post-graduate scholarship from the NCAA. Drechsler went on to become a starter with the Green Bay Packers until a back injury forced him to give up the game.

WILLIAM FULLER, Defensive Tackle, 1982-83

Fuller is one of just six Carolina players to win first-team All-American honors twice. Although powerfully built at 6-3 and 250 pounds, Fuller's greatest asset was his quickness. He used that quickness to make 13 tackles for losses and six sacks in 1982 and 17 tackles for losses with five sacks the following year. He was the only unanimous choice on the 1983 All-ACC team and is one of just three defensive linemen ever to make All-ACC for three straight years.

BRIAN BLADOS, Offensive Tackle, 1983

When two Carolina tailbacks ran for over 1,000 yards in 1983, much of that yardage came behind Blados. The 6-6, 305-pound left tackle dominated the line of scrimmage as Carolina set a school total offense record and finished seventh nationally in yardage. Blados was named on 90 of 100 ballots in voting for the All-Atlantic Coast Conference team. He was a first round choice by the Cincinnati Bengals in the NFL draft.

FIRST-TEAM ALL-AMERICAS

HARRIS BARTON, Offensive Tackle, 1986

Barton was a four-year starter for the Tar Heels, first at center and then at tackle. With so many teams playing even-man front defenses, Barton was moved to tackle in 1984 to take better advantage of his skills. He excelled at left tackle, the key blocking spot in the Carolina passing game. As a senior, he led an offensive line which helped the Tar Heels rank first in the Atlantic Coast Conference and sixth nationally in total offense. An excellent student, he was chosen for a post-graduate scholarship by the National Football Foundation and was a first-round selection in the NFL draft.

PAT CROWLEY, Offensive Guard, 1989

Crowley was a standout offensive guard and a leader of the first of Mack Brown's teams. He won first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors in 1987, 1988 and 1989 and became only the second offensive lineman in conference history to win three all-league honors (Virginia's Jim Dombrowski was the other). He started every game in his college career and helped open the way for a pair of 1,000-yard backs (Derrick Fenner in 1986 and Kennard Martin in 1988). He is one of three Tar Heels to be named first-team All-ACC in three seasons.

BRACEY WALKER, Free Safety, 1993

The first Carolina defensive back to ever receive first-team All-America honors by a major organization, Walker burst onto the scene in 1992 when he was one of the stars of the Peach Bowl win over Mississippi State. Walker blocked two punts in that game, returned one of them for a tying touchdown and set up the game-winning interception with a jarring collision. He was the Defensive MVP of the Peach Bowl. In 1993 he led the Tar Heels with 100 tackles and was the co-leading vote-getter on the All-ACC first team defense. He also blocked four more punts, two of which were recovered in the end zone by Carolina, and was named the National Special Teams Player of the Year by Sports Illustrated.

MARCUS JONES, Defensive Tackle, 1995

Jones became the first Tar Heel to earn consensus first-team All-America honors since Harris Barton in 1986 and the first defensive lineman since William Fuller in 1982-83. Jones had 25 career sacks and finished with 222 tackles. That included 46 behind the line of scrimmage. He broke Lawrence Taylor's school record for sacks and held that mark until Greg Ellis broke the record in 1997. He was named the Atlantic Coast Conference Defensive Player of the Year in 1995 and earned first-team All-ACC honors for the second straight season. He became the first Tar Heel defender to repeat all-conference selections since Tim Goad in 1986-87. As a senior he had a career-high 94 tackles, despite facing constant double- and triple-team efforts. He registered an ACC-leading 19 tackles for losses for 74 yards, seven of which were quarterback sacks. He was hampered in the first half of the season by a knee sprain. Over the last five weeks, however, he averaged 10.8 tackles per game and had 16 tackles for losses for 65 yards, including six sacks for 41 yards, and pressured the quarterback 13 times. Quite fittingly, Jones capped his career by sacking Arkansas quarterback Barry Lunney on the Razorbacks' final offensive play in Carolina's 20-10 win in the 1995 Carquest Bowl.

DRE' BLY, Cornerback, 1996-97

The first freshman in ACC history to earn consensus first-team All-America honors, Bly became just the fifth freshman in NCAA history to be named to the Associated Press All-America first team in 1996. He was also a first-team All-America selection by the Walter Camp Football Foundation, the Football Writers Association of America, The Sporting News and Athlon Sports and a finalist for the Jim Thorpe Award as the National Defensive Back of the Year. He earned Atlantic Coast Conference first-team honors and was the league's Rookie of the Year. He is the only UNC freshman to earn first-team All-America honors. He made two second-half interceptions, broke up two passes and had seven tackles against West Virginia in the 1997 Gator Bowl. Bly led the nation in interceptions and interceptions per game. He set an ACC single-season interceptions record with 11, one more than Bob Sullivan of Maryland had in 10 games in 1965. The Chesapeake, Va. native had three multi-interception games, including three against Georgia Tech, two at Florida State and two at Virginia. In 1997, Bly became the first player in UNC history to repeat consensus first-team All-America honors. He had five interceptions, including one he returned for a touchdown in a comeback win over Virginia. In 1998, he set the ACC all-time record with his 20th interception (not counting the two he had in the Gator Bowl). He was named first-team All-America by the Walter Camp Foundation. Bly is the only player in ACC history to earn first-team All-America honors on three occasions.

GREG ELLIS, Defensive End, 1997

A defensive end from 1994-97, Ellis is the Tar Heels' career leader in quarterback sacks. The Wendell, N.C., native had 32.5 sacks for 253 yards in his career. He anchored a defense that was second in the country in total yards allowed in each of his final two seasons. Carolina posted a 21-3 record in that span and had consecutive Top 10 finishes in the polls. Ellis is one of only four players in Carolina football history to be named first-team All-ACC three times. He was voted by his teammates as a team captain and the best overall senior. He was the eighth selection in the first round of the 1998 NFL Draft by the Dallas Cowboys.

A first-round draft selection of the Cincinnati Bengals, Simmons had 317 tackles over his last three seasons. He was named first-team All-America as a senior by the Associated Press, Walter Camp Foundation and Football News and was a first-team All-ACC selection and second-team AP All-America as a junior. The New Bern, N.C., native finished his career with 36 tackles for losses and 11 sacks.

Schmitz also set the ACC career record for punting average at 44.4 yards per kick. He had at least one 50-yard punt in all 11 UNC games in 1999 and 32 kicks of over 50 yards. He had 63 punts of 40 yards or more in 72 attempts on the season. Schmitz and backup punter Derrick DePriest combined to establish an NCAA single-season record for team punting average at 47.7 yards.

JULIUS PEPPERS, Defensive End, 2000-01

One of the top two-sport athletes in Carolina history, Peppers became the first Tar Heel defensive player to win a national college football award by winning both the Lombardi Trophy as the nation's top lineman and the Bednarik Award as the nation's top defensive player. In just three seasons, Peppers finished second at Carolina in career sacks and tackles for loss. In 2000, he led the nation with 15 sacks and established a school record with 24 tackles for losses. The following year, Peppers led a defense that finished first in the ACC and 15th in the nation in total defense. He became just the second Tar Heel and the first since Lawrence Taylor to earn unanimous All-America honors. A forward on Carolina's basketball team, Peppers averaged 7.1 points and 4.0 rebounds to help the Tar Heels claim a share of the 2001 regular-season ACC championship. He was the second overall pick in the 2002 NFL Draft by the Carolina Panthers.

CHARLIE JUSTICE

Charlie Justice was more than just a great football player. He was a bonafide superstar...a hero...a legend in his own time. He had an impact on his home state that no other athlete had ever had before or few have had since.

During his four years in Chapel Hill, from 1946 to 1949, Justice helped guide the Tar Heels to three major bowls. For one week during the 1948 season Carolina was ranked as the nation's No. 1 college football team. The Tar Heels ended that year rated third, the best finish in school history.

It is no wonder then he was held in great esteem by everyone in the state. Certainly, the time was right for a hero like Charlie Justice. World War II had just ended and people wanted to turn their attention to more pleasant things. They wanted someone to help them forget the trauma they had just suffered. So they looked for heroes and they found Charlie Justice.

In his book, They Made the Bell Tower Chime, Bob Quincy summed up Charlie Justice's college career quite succinctly. An excerpt is repeated here:

The Justice era of 1946-49 was the most exciting in Carolina's football history. Charlie was the ringleader of a circus of thrills. He set the pace, but his backing was superb.

The Tar Heels operated from the single wing with the kinds of variations that at times resembled the Harlem Globetrotters' pre-game ball-handling act. The four seasons netted 32 victories, seven losses and two deadlocks, plus three major bowl appearances.

The 170-pound Justice was one of the nation's most sought-after players when he enrolled at Carolina. Some called him the hottest property in the history of football at that time. He had been a standout at Asheville's Lee Edwards High, leading the Maroons to two unbeaten seasons. He was All-Southern two years at Asheville, and as a member of the Shrine Bowl football team in 1942 he scored three touchdowns against South Carolina, a record that still stands.

The Navy became home for Charlie during the war years, and he became a phantom on a pro-studded Bainbridge Navy Squad. After two years of romping for Bainbridge against opponents across the country, he was a target for pro offers from the Philadelphia Eagles and Washington.

Charlie wanted an education, and scouts stayed in pursuit. He chose Chapel Hill after seriously considering South Carolina and Duke. An off-hand remark by Snavely—"I hope he comes out for football"—became a classic understatement.

In the Virginia game his freshman year he gained 170 yards in 17 carries with runs of 18, 40, and 56 yards. He had seen little practice because of a leg injury, but the Cavaliers were certain he carried a spare appendage.

Choo Choo (he acquired the name at Bainbridge when a gob remarked, "He runs along just like a choo choo train.") was excitement. He was all eagerness on the sidelines and all business when he moved into the tailback slot. He thrived on duty, and he was a master of the quick kick, a devastating rusher, a good passer, and a fake artist who could charm a cobra.

Jack Fitch, a thick-legged back who occasionally shared duty with Justice when not playing on the wing, sized up Charlie's style by noting, "Justice has the ability to be running at full speed, stop suddenly, and then be back at full speed almost instantly. He was never regarded as fast in terms of a track man. He had a change of pace that couldn't be matched, and he knew how to follow blockers as well as any back I've ever watched."

The Snavely system called for a spinning fullback, fakes and counter fakes, fullback pass plays and reverses. It was a dashing brand of football made more exciting by players' ability and maturity to accept Snavely's often complicated maneuvers.

A book, "Choo Choo", documents the career of Charlie Justice. He was a folk hero and deserved the special treatment. The great Benny Goodman and the late Johnny Long recorded the Campbell-Beebe song, "All The Way Choo Choo." It sold by the thousands.

Typical of Justice was the Georgia game of 1948. He scored three times against the Bulldogs in a 21-14 triumph, the climax being an 84-yard punt return. At mid-way point that season, the Tar Heels were ranked No. 1 in the nation.

Justice erased more records than a company of auditors during his four years at UNC. He scored 234 points and passed or ran for 64 touchdowns. As a ball carrier he accumulated 2,634 yards.

His total offense record of 4,883 yards lasted for 45 years until quarterback Jason Stanicek broke the mark in 1994. Justice, graciously, was on hand to congratulate Stanicek.

Justice seemed to peak when the traditional games were being played. He led the Tar Heels to four straight wins over Duke. He was an All-America mention as a freshman and made many of the major teams as a junior and as a senior. He was runnerup for the Heisman Trophy to Doak Walker of SMU in 1949.

Charlie's finest moment came in the College All-Star Game of 1950 at Chicago's Soldier Field. He was voted the MVP of the game for good reason. The All Stars walloped the Philadelphia Eagles, led by Steve Van Buren, 17-7. Justice gained 133 yards individually, or 48 more than the Eagles posted as a team. He set up a touchdown on a 60-yard pass from Eddie LeBaron.

Justice passed away in Cherryville on October 17, 2003. He was 79. The next day, Carolina played Arizona State at Kenan Stadium and the number 22 was painted at the 22-yard line in Justice's honor.

CAROLINA FOOTBALL HISTORY BOOK

Twenty-six former University of North Carolina football players have been honored in a special fashion as their names and jersey numbers have been placed on the facade of Kenan Stadium's upper deck. The men honored include five who have already had their jersey numbers retired, Carolina's consensus first-team All-Americas and any athlete who was named Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Year. Consensus All-Americas are those players who made the majority of the first-team selections in any given year. In 2003, the Athletics Council and Athletic Director Dick Baddour voted to also honor five first-team Associated Press All-Americas and two players who were among the ACC's greatest 50 football players.

GEORGE BARCLAY #99

A guard and linebacker from 1932 to 1934, whose number has been retired. He was the school's first football All-America and is a member of the state of North Carolina's Sports Hall of Fame. A guard and linebacker at 5-11, 185 pounds, Barclay was a standout for three seasons under coaches Chuck Collins and Carl Snavely. A tremendous blocker and ferocious tackler, he was captain of the 1934 team that went 7-1-1. Barclay later served as UNC's head coach from 1953 until 1955.

ANDY BERSHAK #59

A great two-way end from 1935 to 1937 who was a consensus All-America in 1937. His number also has been retired. Bershak was a brilliant defender and his team's top receiver. He also was a starter on the basketball team and an honor student. Bershak was selected to the Order of the Golden Fleece and served as president of the Carolina Athletic Association.

BILL SUTHERLAND #46

A blocking back on the 1946 Sugar Bowl team, whose number has been retired. He died in an auto accident after his freshman year, stunning his teammates and Coach Carl Snavely. Sutherland was named one of the Tar Heels' three captains for what would have been his sophomore season and Snavely worked to ensure that his number would be retired.

CHARLIE JUSTICE #22

One of the most famous and popular athletes in the history of the state. Justice was a consensus All-America and twice runner-up for the Heisman Trophy. During his four seasons, 1946-49, Carolina went to the Sugar Bowl twice and the Cotton Bowl once. A single-wing tailback, he still holds many of the school's total offense records. In addition, he was a sensational punter and kick returner. He was the 1948 National Player of the Year.

ART WEINER #50

An outstanding two-way end from 1946 to 1949, whose number has been retired. Weiner won All-America honors in 1948 and 1949 and was the nation's leading receiver as a senior. He teamed with the legendary Charlie Justice to form perhaps the most potent offensive duo in school history. Voted the top lineman in the Senior Bowl, Weiner is a member of the National Football Hall of Fame.

HONORED JERSEYS

He is still ninth in UNC receptions with 106.

DANNY TALBOTT #10

A star quarterback from 1964 to 1966 and the 1965 ACC Player of the Year under Head Coach Jim Hickey. Talbott led the league in total offense and scoring that season. He had 318 yards of total offense in one game against Georgia, at the time a school record.

DON McCAULEY #23

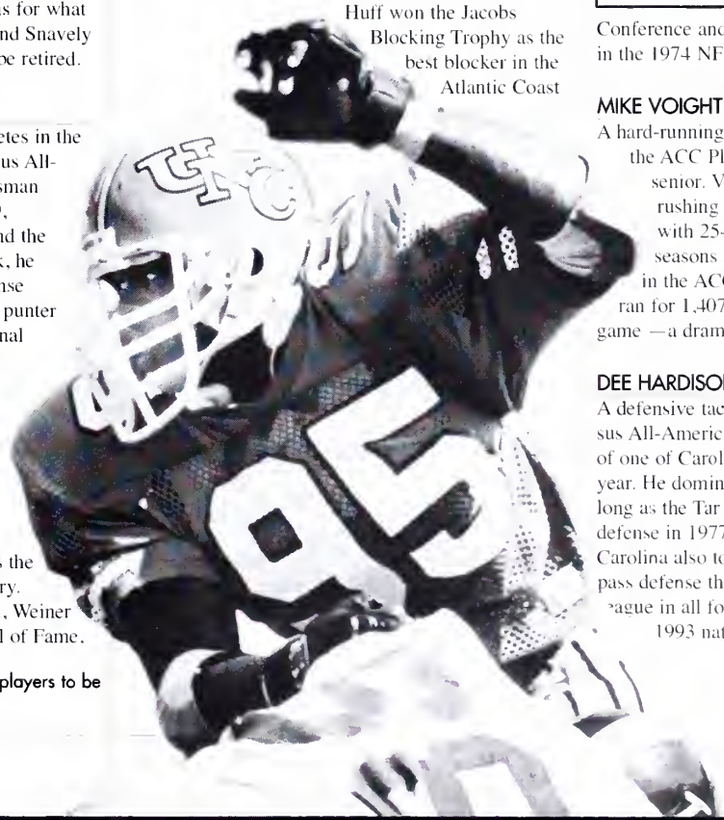

The ACC Player of the Year as a junior and senior and a consensus All-America in 1970, his final season. McCauley was the first of Carolina's NCAA-record 23 backs to rush for 1,000 yards. He twice led the ACC in rushing with 1,092 yards in 1969 and 1,720 in 1970. That latter total at the time broke O.J. Simpson's single-season NCAA record. He also led the nation in all-purpose running as a senior and his 126 points that year still is the league record.

RON RUSNAK #62

An offensive guard on three bowl teams from 1970 to 1972 who won unanimous All-America honors in his senior season. At 6-2, 220 pounds, Rusnak wasn't as big as some linemen, but had great technique. He was the cornerstone of the offensive front on the 1972 team, which went 11-1. Rusnak was a two-time All-Atlantic Coast Conference choice on teams which combined for a 20-4 record. He won the Jacobs Blocking Trophy in 1972 as the best blocker in the ACC.

KEN HUFF #68

A three-year starter at offensive guard from 1972 to 1974 and a consensus All-America as a senior. Huff was a dynamic blocker at 6-4 and 250 pounds. He was the key figure on the 1974 line which helped Carolina boast a pair of 1,000-yard backs and lead the ACC in total offense, rushing and scoring. Led by Huff, UNC accumulated 4,691 yards, at the time a school record. The Tar Heels were fifth nationally in total offense and ninth in scoring that season. Huff won the Jacobs Blocking Trophy as the best blocker in the Atlantic Coast Conference and was the third player selected overall in the 1974 NFL draft by the Baltimore Colts.

CAROLINA'S ACC TOP 50 PLAYERS

In 2002, the Atlantic Coast Conference celebrated its 50th Anniversary and named the 50 greatest football players that have played in the conference. Caralina had eight players amang that list, including:

Dre' Bly
Kelvin Bryant
William Fuller
Amas Lawrence
Dan McCauley
Julius Peppers
Lawrence Taylor
Mike Vaight

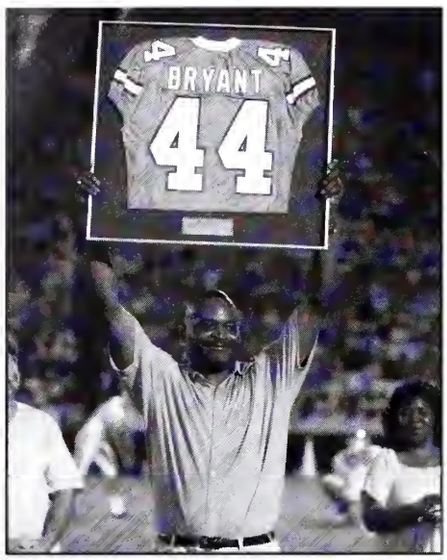

MIKE VOIGHT #44

A hard-running tailback from 1973 to 1976 who was the ACC Player of the Year as both a junior and senior. Voight is second in Carolina history in rushing with 3,971 yards and third in scoring with 254 points. He had three 1,000-yard seasons and twice was the top ground-gainer in the ACC. In 1976 he scored 110 points and ran for 1,407 yards, including 261 in his final game —a dramatic 39-38 shootout with Duke.

DEE HARDISON #71

A defensive tackle from 1974 to 1977 and a consensus All-America as a senior. Hardison was the star of one of Carolina's greatest defenses in his final year. He dominated the line of scrimmage all season long as the Tar Heels led the nation in scoring defense in 1977, giving up just 7.4 points a game. Carolina also topped the ACC in total, rushing and pass defense that year. No team would lead the league in all four again until Florida State in its 1993 national championship season.

HONORED JERSEYS

LAWRENCE TAYLOR #98

An outside linebacker from 1977 to 1980 who is regarded as the greatest player of all time at that position. Taylor was a consensus All-America and the ACC Player of the Year in 1980. He had a Carolina-record 16 quarterback sacks that season for losses totaling 127 yards. Sparked by his play, the Tar Heels went 11-1 in 1980 and won the ACC championship.

WILLIAM FULLER #95

A defensive lineman from 1980 to 1983 who was a consensus All-America as a senior. Also honored as a first-team All-America as a junior, he is one of only six Tar Heel players to be named first-team All-America twice. Fuller, who utilized his tremendous quickness to slice through offensive lines, had 22 tackles for losses in both 1981 and 1983. He is one of only three defensive linemen ever to make the All-ACC team three times.

ETHAN HORTON #12

The Associated Press ACC Player of the Year as a senior, Horton rushed for 1,247 yards in 1984 after a 1,107-yard performance in 1983. He was named the game's co-MVP in UNC's 1981 Gator Bowl win over Arkansas and was the MVP of the 1982 Sun Bowl.

MARCUS JONES #71

A defensive end/tackle from 1992 to 1995 who was a consensus All-America and the ACC Defensive Player of the Year as a senior. Jones had 24 career quarterback sacks to break Lawrence Taylor's school record. A two-time first-team All-ACC selection, Jones led a Tar Heel defense which had the ACC's No. 1 rated total defense in 1995. He finished his career with 222 tackles, including 46 for losses. Jones helped Carolina to four straight bowl invitations and wins in the 1993 Peach and 1995 Carquest Bowls.

GREG ELLIS #87

A defensive end from 1994 to 1997, Ellis is UNC's all-time leader in quarterback sacks. The Wendell, N.C., native had 32.5 sacks for 253 yards in his career. He anchored a defense that was second in the country in total yards in each of his final two seasons. Carolina posted a 21-3 record in that span and had consecutive Top 10 finishes in the polls. Ellis is one of only four players in Carolina football history to be named first-team All-ACC three times. He was voted by his teammates as a team captain and the best overall senior. He was the eighth selection in the first round of the 1998 NFL Draft by the Dallas Cowboys.

BRIAN SIMMONS #41

An outside linebacker from 1994 to 1997, Simmons was a major contributor in Carolina's rise to the Top 10 in his final two seasons. A first-round draft selection of the Cincinnati Bengals in '97, Simmons had 317 tackles over his last three seasons. He was named first-team All-America as a senior by the Associated Press, Walter Camp Foundation and Football News and was a first-team All-ACC selection and second-team AP All-America as a junior. The New Bern, N.C., native finished his career with 36 tackles for losses and 11 sacks.

DRE' BLY #31

The Chesapeake, Va., native is the only player in Atlantic Coast Conference history to earn first-team All-America honors in three different seasons. Bly became the first freshman defensive player in college football history to earn consensus first-team All-America honors in 1996. When he repeated consensus honors in 1997, he became the first two-time consensus All-America in UNC football history. In 1998, he set the all-time ACC record for interceptions with 20 and was named first-team All-America by the Walter Camp Foundation. Bly led the nation as a freshman with 11 interceptions in the regular season and added two more pass thefts in the Gator Bowl win over West Virginia. Bly was named first-team All-America in 1996 by the Associated Press, The Sporting News, the Football Writers and the Walter Camp Foundation. In 1997, Bly added five more interceptions and was named All-America by the Associated Press, the Walter Camp Foundation, the Football Writers and Football News.

JULIUS PEPPERS, #49

A unanimous All-America selection in 2001, Peppers won the 2001 Lombardi Award as the nation's top lineman. He also won the Chuck Bednarik Award as the nation's top overall defensive player, earned All-America honors in 2000 and was a two-time first-team All-ACC selection. Peppers ranks second at UNC and sixth in the ACC in career sacks, despite playing just three seasons. He led the nation with 15 sacks as a junior. One of the top two-sport athletes in ACC history, Peppers was a forward on UNC's basketball team where he helped the Tar Heels advance to the 2000 Final Four and earn a share of the 2001 ACC regular-season title.

KELVIN BRYANT, #44

A three-time first-team All-ACC tailback, Bryant ranks fourth at UNC with 3,267 rushing yards. He had three consecutive 1,000-yard rushing seasons from 1980-82. Despite injuries, he had 1,015 yards in seven games in 1981. He rushed for more than 100 yards in a game on 19 occasions and scored six touchdowns in a game against East Carolina in 1981. Bryant holds the NCAA record for most touchdowns scored in two and three consecutive games (11 and 15, respectively). He played eight years of professional football.

HARRIS BARTON, #67

Barton was a four-year starter for the Tar Heels, first at center and then at tackle. With so many teams playing even-man front defenses, Barton was moved to tackle in 1984 to take better advantage of his skills. He excelled at left tackle, the key blocking spot in the Carolina passing game. As a senior, he led an offensive line which helped the Tar Heels rank first in the Atlantic Coast Conference and sixth nationally in total offense. An excellent student, he was chosen for a post-graduate scholarship by the National Football Foundation and was a first-round selection in the NFL draft.

BRIAN BLADOS, #60

When two Carolina tailbacks ran for over 1,000 yards in 1983, much of that yardage came behind Blados. The 6-6, 305-pound left tackle dominated the line of scrimmage as Carolina set a school total offense record and finished seventh nationally in yardage. Blados was named on 90 of 100 ballots in voting for the All-Atlantic Coast Conference team. He was a first round choice by the Cincinnati Bengals in the NFL draft.

IRV HOLDASH, #25

While Carolina's football fortunes slipped in the years immediately following the Charlie Justice Era, Holdash still received national attention for his outstanding play. A center on offense and linebacker on defense, Holdash was a three-year regular who never missed a game during his varsity career. He perhaps sealed All-America honors in 1950 with a sensational performance in a 14-7 loss at Notre Dame. Irish quarterback Bobby Williams called him "the best I've played against."

BOB LACEY, #85

Lacey led the Atlantic Coast Conference in receiving in 1963 with 48 catches for 533 yards. His pass-catching was a key factor as Carolina rolled to a 9-2 record, defeating Air Force, 35-0, in the Gator Bowl. Lacey was also the team's top receiver in 1962 with 44 catches. He was the first Tar Heel player to have at least 40 catches in two seasons. His career total of 102 receptions is the 10th-best in school history.

AMOS LAWRENCE, #20

The only ACC player and one of only four players in college football history to rush for 1,000 yards in four consecutive seasons, Lawrence holds the UNC career record and is second in ACC history with 4,391 yards rushing. He rushed for more than 100 yards in a game on 25 occasions and his 286 yards rushing vs. Virginia in 1977 was NCAA freshman rushing record at the time. Bryant was named the co-MVP in the 1979 Gator Bowl and was the MVP of the 1980 Bluebonnet Bowl.

PAUL SEVERIN, #87

Severin was a two-time All-America selection by the Associated Press (1939 and 1940) and made most of the all-star teams in his senior season. His career was filled with big plays—a touchdown catch to tie Tulane in 1939, two scoring catches against Penn that same season and a touchdown-saving tackle from behind of Duke's great Steve Lach in a 6-3 win over the Blue Devils in 1940.

1,000-YARD TRADITION

UNC players have rushed for 1,000 yards in a season 24 times.

Those 24 1,000-yard seasons have been achieved in the last 35 years, beginning with Don McCauley, who had back-to-back 1,000-yard campaigns in 1969 and 1970. Linton was the fourth different Tar Heel back to gain 1,000 yards in the 1990s. Natrone Means had 1,030 yards as a sophomore in 1991 and 1,195 yards in leading UNC to nine wins in 1992. In '91, Means topped 1,000 yards on his final carry of the season, a 68-yard touchdown run versus Duke. He vaulted past 1,000 in similar fashion a year later as he reached the magical figure on a wild, 76-yard scoring scamper at Maryland.

Means entered the NFL Draft after his junior year, but Curtis Johnson and Leon Johnson responded with tandem 1,000-yard seasons in 1993. That was the fourth time in UNC history that not one, hut two, players topped the 1,000-yard mark.

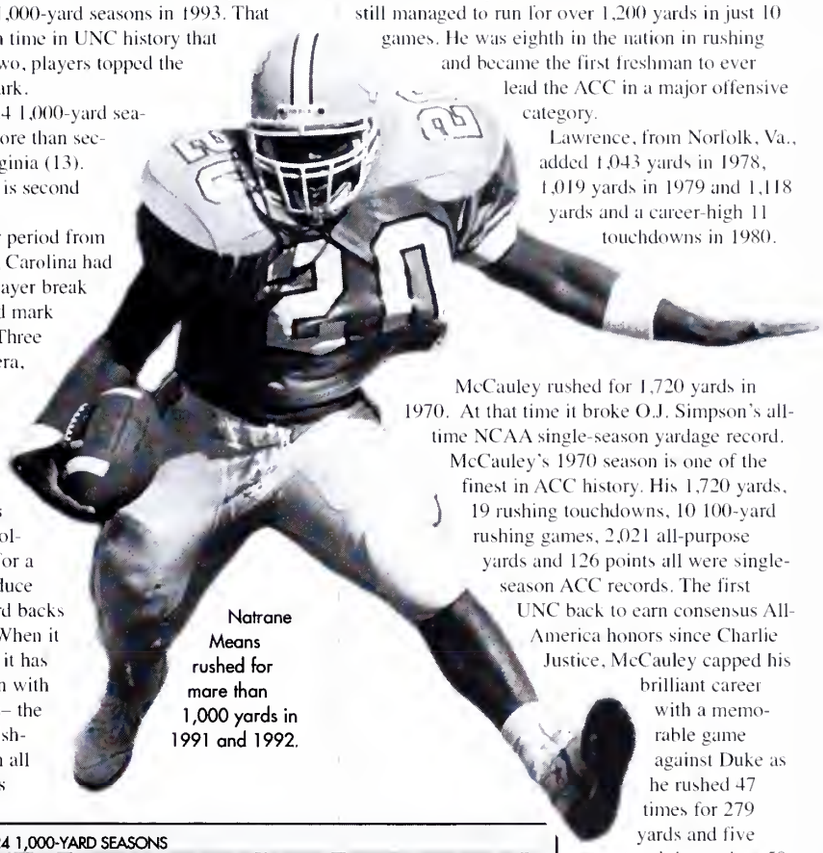

Carolina's 24 1,000-yard seasons are 11 more than second-place Virginia (13). Virginia Tech is second with 12.

In a 12-year period from 1973 to 1984, Carolina had at least one player break the 1,000-yard mark each season. Three times in that era, the Tar Heels had two tailbacks get 1,000 yards in the same season. It has been rare in college foothall for a school to produce two 1,000-yard backs in one year. When it has happened it has generally been with option attacks– the veer or the wishbone. But, on all four occasions when Carolina has had a pair of 1,000-yard rushers, the players actually shared the same position– tailback in an I-formation.

Carolina and USC have each had two players rush for 1,000 yards three times– Mike Voight and Kelvin Bryant of the Tar Heels and the Trojans' Charles White and Anthony Davis.

In addition, Carolina's Amos Lawrence had an amazing four 1,000-yard seasons. Lawrence, Pittshurgh's Tony Dorsett, New Mexico State's Denvis Manns, Wisconsin's Ron Dayne and Texas's Cedric Benson are the only major college players ever to hit the 1,000-yard mark four times. Lawrence rushed for a career-high 1,211 yards in 1977 as he earned ACC Rookie of the Year honors. He didn't even play in the first game that year and still managed to run for over 1,200 yards in just 10 games. He was eighth in the nation in rushing and became the first freshman to ever lead the ACC in a major offensive category.

Lawrence, from Norfolk, Va., added 1,043 yards in 1978, 1,019 yards in 1979 and 1,118 yards and a career-high 11 touchdowns in 1980.

McCauley rushed for 1,720 yards in 1970. At that time it broke O.J. Simpson's all-time NCAA single-season yardage record. McCauley's 1970 season is one of the finest in ACC history. His 1,720 yards, 19 rushing touchdowns, 10 100-yard rushing games, 2,021 all-purpose yards and 126 points all were single-season ACC records. The first UNC back to earn consensus All-America honors since Charlie Justice, McCauley capped his brilliant career with a memorable game against Duke as he rushed 47 times for 279 yards and five touchdowns in a 59-36 win over the Blue Devils.

Many of Carolina's 1,000-yard rushers went on to successful careers in the professional ranks. McCauley played with the Baltimore Colts for 11 seasons and broke many of the club's rushing and scoring records. Bryant was the USFL's Player of the Year in that league's first season. He later joined the NFL's Washington Redskins in 1986.

Means led San Diego to the Super Bowl in 1994 and was named to the Pro Bowl. He set the single-season rushing record for the Chargers in just his second season when he compiled 1,350 yards in 1994. Means was second in the AFC and fourth in the NFL in rushing yards and he set a Charger record with five consecutive 100-yard games. He was the offensive spark which led Jacksonville to the AFC Championship Game in 1996 in the franchise's second year of existence.

Several of Carolina's top performances have come against ACC rival Duke, including Kennard Martin's 291 in 1988, McCauley's 279 in 1970, Mike Voight's 261 in 1976 and Means' 256 in the season finale in 1990

Two of the top single-season efforts ever in the ACC are McCauley's 1,720 yards in 1970 and Voight's 1,407 in 1976. McCauley and Voight are the only Carolina players to be named ACC Player of the Year in two seasons. McCauley was the top ACC player in 1969 and 1970 and Voight earned that award in 1975 and 1976.

Ethan Horton is the only other UNC player to be named ACC Player of the Year in the same season he rushed for 1,000 yards.

Leon Johnson is the only player in Atlantic Coast Conference history to he in the top five in career all-purpose yards, top five in career touchdowns, top five in career scoring, top 10 in career rushing yards and top 10 in career receptions.

He is first in all-purpose yards in league history, second in touchdowns and eighth in scoring. He scored 50 touchdowns in his career, just one shy of the all-time ACC record held by Ted Brown of N.C. State. He scored 306 points, one of just eight players in league history to top the 300-point mark. He and Brown are the only two non-kickers to accomplish that feat.

Jonathan Linton became the first player in Carolina history to rush for 100 yards and catch passes for 100 yards in the same game. He rushed for 138 yards and added 137 receiving yards in Carolina's 16-13 win at Georgia Tech. Despite suffering a knee injury days before the Gator Bowl, Linton rushed for 68 yards and caught six passes for 81 yards in UNC's 42-3 win over Virginia Tech.

BOWL GAMES

1947 SUGAR BOWL
New Orleans, La.
Georgia 20, Carolina 10
January 1, 1947

The 1947 Sugar Bowl, which matched Carolina against Georgia, is one of the most famous Tar Heel games of the Charlie "Choo Choo" Justice years and produced one of the most controversial plays in bowl history.

Carolina was leading 7-0 in the third period when Bulldog defensive right end Joe Tereshinski intercepted a Tar Heel pass at the Georgia 24-yard line. He then flipped a lateral to Dick McPhee who raced 52 yards to the Carolina 14.

The Tar Heels argued the lateral was a forward one and the play should have been called back. However, the officials ruled differently. Georgia went on to score the tying touchdown on a quarterback sneak by Johnny Rauch.

Carolina's lone touchdown came on a Walt Pupa two-yard run following an interception hy Tar Heel guard Bob Mitten.

1949 SUGAR BOWL
New Orleans, La.
Oklahoma 14, Carolina 6
January 1, 1949

The Tar Heels returned to the Sugar Bowl in 1949 and were defeated 14-6 hy the University of Oklahoma, representing the Big Seven Conference. A record crowd of 85,000 turned out to see the Charlie Justice-led Tar Heels hattle Bud Wilkinson's Sooners.

Carolina threatened early, advancing via a Justice to Art Weiner 23-yard pass play to the OU 15. Justice's next pass, however, was intercepted by linebacker Myrle Greathouse who rumbled 59 yards to the Carolina 13. Sooners' quarterback Jack Mitchell scored the first points of the day on a two-yard run.

The Heels capitalized on an OU fumble later in the first quarter and Justice marched the team down to the two, from where Hosea Rodgers scored. The conversion was wide right.

Carolina advanced to the OU eight late in the first half, but could not score.

The Sooners regained the lead for good in the third quarter. Quarterback Darrell Royal connected for 37 yards with Frankie Anderson and two plays later, Lindell Pearson ran it in from eight yards out.

Justice was brilliant, rushing for 84 yards and passing for another 57.

1950 COTTON BOWL
Dallas, Texas
Rice 27, Carolina 13
January 1, 1950

Charlie Justice had another great day in the 1950 Cotton Bowl, but it just wasn't enough as the Tar Heels fell to fifth-ranked Rice, 27-13. The Owls had a 9-1-0 record, while Carolina came in at 7-3 and was ranked 16th.

Rice and Carolina played to a scoreless draw in the opening quarter, but Rice opened the scoring in the second quarter when quarterback Tobin Rote hooked up with Billy Burkhalter for a 44-yard touchdown. Bobby Lantrip's three-yard run huilt a 14-0 halftime lead, and the Owls kept right on rolling i n the third quarter.

On its second possession of the second half, Rice traveled 77 yards in six plays, capped by Rote's 17-yard scoring pass to "Froggie" Williams. Burkhalter made it 27-0 with a 12-yard fourth quarter score.

The Tar Heels got two touchdowns in the final eight minutes. Justice hit Paul Rizzo for a two-yard touchdown pass and then Rizzo ran it in from two yards.

Justice managed 59 yards rushing and another 63 in the air, while Art Weiner led the Tar Heels with five receptions for 41 yards. Billy Hayes topped the UNC rushing attack with 107 yards on 19 carries.

The 1950 Cotton Bowl marked the end of the "Choo-Choo" Justice era that began in 1946. The Tar Heels went 32-9-2 in that time and played in three major bowl games.

BOWL GAMES

1963 GATOR BOWL

Jacksonville, Fla.
Carolina 35, Air Force 0
December 28, 1963

It had been 13 years since Charlie Justice had led Carolina to the 1950 Cotton Bowl, so when the Tar Heels got a chance to play in the 1963 Gator Bowl, they made the most of it. The Tar Heels walloped the Air Force, 35-0.

Ken Willard was the hero of the day. He ran for 94 yards on 18 carries and scored the first touchdown which keyed the runaway victory. When Willard wasn't running in this rout, he did his share of the offensive blocking.

Joe Robinson scored on a five-yard pass and also caught a two-yard conversion to give the Tar Heels a 20-0 lead at intermission.

Coach Jim Hickey's Tar Heels had 23 first downs to the Academy's 14, and piled up 370 yards in total offense compared to 260 for the Falcons.

Gary Black completed all six of his passes for 71 yards and one touchdown and he rushed for another score. Junior Edge was good on five of his nine throws for 42 yards.

1970 PEACH BOWL

Atlanta, Ga.
Arizona State 48, Carolina 26
December 30, 1970

The Tar Heels exploded for 26 second quarter points but couldn't hold off Arizona State in the final two quarters as the Sun Devils rallied for an exciting 48-26 victory before 52,126 fans at Grant Field.

Carolina spotted unbeaten ASU 14 points on a pair of touchdowns runs, from eight and 33 yards, by Bob Thomas.

Don McCauley got the Tar Heels on the scoreboard with a one-yard plunge set up by a long pass from Paul Miller to Ricky Lanier. ASU scored on its next series, though, on a 67-yard TD catch by J.D. Hill.

Carolina then scored the final three touchdowns of the first half to go into the intermission with a 26-21 lead. First, Miller passed 37 yards for a score to Tony Blanchard. Then McCauley rushed in from 17 yards out. And finally, the All-America McCauley scored again from four yards.

Arizona State dominated a second half which was played in a heavy Atlanta snowstorm and without Miller, who left with an injury.

1971 GATOR BOWL

Jacksonville, Fla.
Georgia 7, Carolina 3
December 31, 1971

For the first time since 1950, the Tar Heels were playing in a bowl game for the second consecutive season. This time, the Tar Heels would fall, 7-3, to the Georgia Bulldogs.

The game produced a bowl first — brothers coaching against each other. Bill Dooley led the Tar Heels and older brother Vince coached the Dawgs.

In the opening half, Carolina had the best chance as linebacker Jimmy Webster, voted the Tar Heels' MVP this day, blocked a punt out of bounds at the Georgia 24. A fumble, though, denied Carolina any points.

A pair of long runs by Lewis Jolley brought the Tar Heels down to the Georgia 16 on UNC's first possession of the second half. But a procedure penalty forced the Heels to settle for a 35-yard field goal by Ken Craven.

A 31-yard pass play from Andy Johnson to Roy Hunnicutt set up the Georgia touchdown. Jimmy Poulos, on the very next play following Hunnicutt's catch, took it in for a score from 25 yards. Poulos rushed for 161 yards on the afternoon and was named the Georgia MVP.

BOWL GAMES

1972 SUN BOWL
El Pasa, Texas
Caralina 32, Texas Tech 28
December 30, 1972

Carolina capped an 11-1 season in the 1972 Sun Bowl by defeating Texas Tech, 32-28. Quarterback Nick Vidnovic brought the Tar Heels from behind with a late scoring drive which he capped by tossing a 13-yard touchdown pass to wingback Ted Leverenz.

That play, with a minute to go in the game, gave UNC a 30-28 lead. Carolina added two points moments later as Ronnie Robinson sacked quarterback Joe Barnes in the end zone.

The Tar Heels led 9-0 in the second quarter on a field goal by Ellis Alexander and touchdown run by Dick Oliver. The Red Raiders rallied, however, for the next 21 points and a 21-9 lead. Vidnovic hit Leverenz for a 62-yard touchdown and Billy Hite carried it in from three yards to reestablish a 24-21 Carolina lead. Tech gained the advantage, 28-24, with 7:41 to play in the game.

Vidnovic completed 14 of 26 passes for 215 yards and two touchdowns. Ike Oglesby rushed for 71 yards and Sammy Johnson added 52.

The Red Raiders had a touchdown called back in the second quarter. All-America guard Donald Rives ran a blocked punt back for an apparent score, but Tech was flagged for unsportsmanlike conduct and the points were nullified.

Mississippi State 26, Caralina 24
December 28, 1974

Despite mounting 402 yards in total offense, the Tar Heels dropped a 26-24 decision to Mississippi State in a record-setting Sun Bowl.

Terry Vitrano's two-yard touchdown with 3:41 remaining was the game-winner. That capped a 16-play, 80-yard drive which lasted nearly seven minutes.

Carolina had taken a 24-20 lead with 10:26 to play on an Ellis Alexander field goal.

The Bulldogs totaled a Sun Bowl record 499 yards in total offense — 455 of those yards came on the ground via the veer offense. Walter Packer rushed for 189 yards, Vitrano added 164 and quarterback Rockey Felker gained another 69.

The Tar Heels also got big ground gains from Mike Voight and James Betterson. Voight picked up 90 yards on 19 carries and Betterson chipped in with 84 on 17 rushes. But Voight was stopped a yard shy of a first down on Carolina's last offensive play of the game. Chris Kupec, who led the nation in pass completion percentage, connected with Jimmy Jerome for 29 yards and a touchdown.

1976 PEACH BOWL
Atlanta, Ga.
Kentucky 21, Carolina 0
December 31, 1976

Playing without an injured Mike Voight, the Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Year, the Tar Heels managed just five first downs and 108 yards total offense in a 21-0 loss to Kentucky.

Voight, who had rushed for 1,407 yards, injured his ankle in practice two days before the game when he stepped in a hole going out on a pass play. Ironically, Voight had caught just four passes the entire season.

The teams battled to a tie at the half, but Carolina thought it had put up points in the first quarter. On the Tar Heels' opening drive, Matt Kupec hit split end Walker Lee with a 50-yard touchdown pass, but officials ruled the Tar Heels offside and the play came back.

Early in the third quarter, Kentucky defensive end Bud Diehl knocked the ball from Kupec's grasp and the 'Cats recovered at the UNC 21. That set up the first of three rushing touchdowns by fullback Rod Stewart.

Stewart, who finished with 104 yards and the game's MVP trophy, added fourth quarter scores from 13 and three yards.

BOWL GAMES

1977 LIBERTY BOWL

Memphis, Tenn.
Nebraska 21, Carolina 17
December 19, 1977

No. 12 Nebraska scored two fourth quarter touchdowns and rallied for a 21-17 victory over 13th-rated North Carolina.

Reserve quarterback Randy Garcia came off the Cornhuskers' bench in the final period to toss a pair of touchdown passes, including a 33-yard game-winner to Tim Smith with 3:16 left in the game. That came six plays after Nebraska recovered a fumble at the UNC 43.

Tar Heel quarterback Matt Kupec, voted the game's Most Valuable Player despite the loss, had led the Tar Heels to a 17-7 lead in the third quarter. Kupec, who connected on seven of his 11 passes, threw touchdown passes to Brooks Williams and Bob Loomis. Tom Biddle added Carolina's final points with 4:17 left in the third on a Liberty Bowl record 47-yard field goal.

Carolina led the nation in scoring defense in 1977, allowing just 7.4 points per game through the regular season. Nebraska was the only team to score more than 14 points against UNC all season.

December 28, 1979

Matt Kupec completed 18 of 28 passes for 161 yards and one touchdown and Amos Lawrence rushed for 118 yards to lead North Carolina to a 17-15 win over Michigan.

Trailing 9-0, the Tar Heels rallied for the next 17 points and then held off a Michigan threat late in the game to post the first of Dick Crum's four consecutive bowl wins.

Carolina had two chances early on to score first, but high winds knocked down a pair of Jeff Hayes field goal attempts. Michigan did score first following a turnover and added a 53-yard touchdown reception by Anthony Carter to move ahead 9-0.

Doug Paschal put the Heels on the board with a two-yard touchdown. Early in the third, Kupec engineered a 16-play, 97-yard touchdown drive which culminated in a 12-yard pass to Phil Farris. Hayes added a 32-yard field goal in the fourth for a 17-9 UNC lead.

Michigan, thwarted once already in the fourth when Lawrence Taylor scooped up a loose ball, did manage another Carter touchdown with 1:28 left, but the two-point conversion pass to Carter fell short.

Kupec and Lawrence were named co-Most Valuable Players.

1980 BLUEBONNET BOWL

Houston, Texas
Carolina 16, Texas 7
December 31, 1980

Amos Lawrence rushed for 104 yards and one touchdown and the Tar Heel defense allowed just two first downs and 36 total yards in the second half as Carolina played error-free football to defeat Texas, 16-7, in the Bluebonnet Bowl.

Lawrence, the game's Most Valuable Offensive Player, scampered 59 yards for a touchdown on the Tar Heels' fourth play from scrimmage for a 7-0 lead. Following a Texas touchdown in the second quarter by Mike Luck, Carolina regained the advantage for good on a one-yard run by Kelvin Bryant.

Jeff Hayes converted a fumbled punt snap by the Longhorns into a 31-yard field goal with 2:03 to play in the third quarter.

The defense, which allowed 224 yards and 11 Texas first downs in the opening half, dominated the second 30 minutes. UNC safety Steve Streater was named the defensive MVP as he had an interception, recovered a fumble and also boomed a 63-yard punt, longest in Bluebonnet Bowl history.

Carolina's 11-1 record matched the best season in UNC history. The Tar Heels finished ranked eighth by the Associated Press and ninth by UPI.

BOWL GAMES

1981 GATOR BOWL
Jacksanville, Fla.
Carolina 31, Arkansas 27
December 28, 1981

Kelvin Bryant rushed for 148 yards and Ethan Horton added 144 to lead the Tar Heels to a 31-27 victory over Arkansas in the Gator Bowl.

Bryant and Horton shared Most Valuable Player honors, but it was a key defensive stop by seldom-used freshman Ronnie Snipes which saved the night for Carolina.

After building a 31-10 lead midway through the fourth quarter, Carolina watched as Arkansas rallied for two touchdowns and had the ball again inside Tar Heel territory with less than a minute to play. But on third down, Snipes, who had played just two previous downs in the contest, sacked quarterback Brad Taylor for a 17-yard loss.

The game was deadlocked at 10-10 at the half, but Carolina came right out to open the third quarter and put together a 13-play, 85-yard drive which was capped by Horton's one-yard scoring run.

UNC quarterback Rod Elkins scored on a one-yard sneak on the Tar Heels' next drive. He was set up by a 21-yard run by Horton and a 13-yard scamper by Bryant.

Horton then churned out 42 yards on six plays and went in from four yards out to give the Heels a 31-10 lead with 7:29 to play in the game.

The Razorbacks scored with 5:05 to play, recovered an onside kick and scored again with 2:44 left. UNC punter Jeff Hayes took an intentional safety with 1:44 to play. That gave the ball back to Arkansas and set up Snipes' defensive gem.

1982 SUN BOWL
El Pasa, Texas
Caralina 26, Texas 10
December 25, 1982

North Carolina scored the final 23 points of the game in the final quarter and held seventh-ranked Texas to 48 total yards in the second half as the Tar Heels became the first ACC team to win four consecutive bowl games.

Ethan Horton was the offensive star of the game, rushing for 119 yards in the second half as Carolina won 26-10. He replaced injured starter Kelvin Bryant, who totaled 45 yards before leaving the game with an injured ankle.

Trailing 10-3 after three quarters, the Tar Heels vaulted into the lead via three consecutive field goals. Sophomore walk-on Rob Rogers, who had connected from 53 yards in the second quarter, hit a 47-yard field goal with 14:51 to play to narrow the Texas lead to 10-6. Brooks Barwick was then successful from 24 and 42 yards, the latter putting the Heels into the lead at 12-10 with 4:56 left.

Horton tacked on a three-yard touchdown with 2:17 remaining and Mike Wilcher fell on a loose ball in the end zone for another touchdown with 1:35 to play.

The defensive series of the game came five minutes into the third quarter with Texas leading 10-3 and with the ball, third-and-goal at the Carolina one. Two times, Texas fullback Ervin Davis tried to find the end zone, but twice he was hurled back. First, it was Wilcher who made the hit and then on 4th-and-goal, Greg Poole made the stop which changed the game.

The Christmas Day affair was played with intermittent snow flurries and a wind-chill reading that hovered around 12 degrees.

1983 PEACH BOWL
Atlanta, Ga.
Flarida State 28, Caralina 3
December 30, 1983

Florida State scored the first two times it had the ball and penalties and turnovers cost the Tar Heels dearly, as the Seminoles whipped Carolina 28-3 in a miserably cold and half-empty Peach Bowl.

Played before only 25,648 fans in low-20 degree temperatures, the Peach Bowl loss snapped the Tar Heels' consecutive bowl- game winning streak at four.

The Seminoles held the Tar Heels' running game to just 32 yards and three first downs. One thousand-yard rushers Ethan Horton and Tyrone Anthony were held to 30 and 27 yards, respectively.

Florida State quarterback Eric Thomas, making his first start, connected with Weegie Thompson on touchdown passes on the 'Noles first two series.

Carolina put up its only points of the day on Brooks Barwick's 36-yard field goal.

The loss was the fourth in the final five games of the season and ended a season in which Carolina had been ranked third in the nation.

BOWL GAMES

1986 ALOHA BOWL
Honolulu, Hawaii
Arizona 30, Carolina 21
December 27, 1986

Arizona converted four North Carolina fumbles into 20 points and then held off a furious Tar Heel rally in the fourth quarter to win the 1986 Aloha Bowl, 30-21.

Carolina dug itself a 30-0 hole and did not put points on the board until freshman tailback Torin Dorn broke a 58-yard touchdown run with 2:19 left in the third quarter.

The Tar Heels fumbled five times in the first three periods and the Wildcats turned them into two touchdowns and two field goals.

Following Dorn's electrifying run, the Tar Heels quickly moved back within striking distance with two more touchdowns in the next seven minutes.

Mark Maye hit Randy Marriott with a six-yard touchdown pass after a Norris Davis interception and then followed a Davis punt block with a two-yard scoring run of his own to narrow the margin to 30-21 with 9:10 to play.

That, however, was as close as Carolina could challenge. A couple of dropped passes thwarted two more Carolina drives.

Dorn was the game's leading ground-gainer, rushing for 101 yards on only seven carries. Maye completed 17 of 34 passes for 171 yards; he hooked up with Eric Starr a game-high seven times for 53 yards.

1993 PEACH BOWL
Atlanta, Ga.
Carolina 21, Mississippi State 17
January 2, 1993

Defensive MVP Bracey Walker blocked consecutive third-quarter punts, returning one of them for the tying touchdown, and forced a fourth quarter interception which Cliff Baskerville returned 44 yards for a touchdown to lead Carolina to a 21-17 Peach Bowl win over Mississippi State.

Walker's heroics capped a fierce second-half comeback in which the Tar Heels came from 14 points behind to score three times, although just once on an offensive possession.

MSU took a two-touchdown lead in the first quarter and had two more scores in the second quarter called back due to holding penalties.

Carolina regrouped at halftime, however, and cut the lead to 14-7 just six plays into the third quarter. Mike Thomas connected with Bucky Brooks for a 53-yard completion on the fourth play of the half and Natrone Means scored from a yard out two snaps later.

Means led the Tar Heel offense with 128 yards rushing and was named the game's Offensive MVP.

Later in the third quarter, Walker blocked a punt but Carolina's field goal try was unsuccessful. On the next series UNC again forced the Bulldogs to punt and this time Walker blocked the kick, picked up the loose ball and raced 24 yards untouched for the tying score.

Early in the final quarter Walker forced a midair loose ball with a jarring hit and Baskerville plucked the ball out of the air and sprinted 44 yards down the left sideline for what proved to be the winning score.

December 31, 1993

Quarterback Brian Burgdorf threw for two touchdowns and ran for another to lead 18th-ranked and defending national champion Alabama to a 24-10 victory over 11th-ranked Carolina in Outback Steakhouse Gator Bowl.

Corey Holliday caught nine passes for 125 yards and was UNC's MVP.

After a scoreless first period, Alabama took the lead on a 22-yard field goal by Michael Proctor. Carolina quarterback Jason Stanicek then led a seven-play, 80-yard touchdown drive in just 1:36 to take the lead, 7-3, on the ensuing possession. Stanicek hit Holliday with completions of 29 and 22 yards and executed one of his trademark option pitches to freshman tailback Leon Johnson for an 18-yard gain. William Henderson plunged in from a yard out for the lead.

The Crimson Tide went up 10-7 Burgdorf scored from 33 yards out on a quarterback draw.

With 1:44 left before intermission, Stanicek led what would be the final Tar Heel scoring drive. He hit Holliday with passes of 12 and nine yards and Curtis Johnson ran twice for 20 yards before the drive stalled and Tripp Pignetti hit a 23-yard field goal to tie the game at 10.

The Alabama defense was the key to the game, holding UNC to a season-low 42 net yards rushing on 25 carries. Carolina could only muster 40 total yards and four first downs in the second half.

BOWL GAMES

1994 SUN BOWL

Texas 35, Carolina 31
December 30, 1994

Priest Holmes rushed for 161 yards and four touchdowns, including the game-winner with 1:17 to play, to lead Texas to a 35-31 win over the Tar Heels before a Sun Bowl record crowd of 50,612.

Holmes' four-touchdown performance wrestled away MVP honors from UNC quarterback Mike Thomas, who had the finest passing day of his career. Thomas completed 23 of 39 passes for 298 yards and two touchdowns. He set UNC bowl game records for completions and yards and tied the mark with two scoring tosses. He was 15 for 19 in the first half and completed 20 of 29 before a final desperation drive.

Wide receivers Marcus Wall and Octavus Barnes were two more standouts for the Tar Heels. Wall was selected the game's Most Valuable Special Teams Player. He gave the Tar Heels a 24-21 lead in the fourth quarter when he returned a punt 82 yards for a touchdown.

Barnes set UNC bowl game records for most catches and yards with nine receptions for 165 yards and one score. The 165 yards were also the most in Sun Bowl history.

With Carolina up, 31-21, Texas quickly went on a 68-yard touchdown drive in only 2:38. On the next series, Texas took over at its own 32 and drove 68 yards in 10 plays for the winning score. Holmes carried the last three plays on the drive for nine, two and finally the five yard touchdown run.

1995 CARQUEST BOWL
Miami, Fla.
Carolina 20, Arkansas 10
December 30, 1995

Leon Johnson rushed for a Carolina bowl record 195 yards and Mike Thomas threw for two scores as the Tar Heels knocked off Arkansas, 20-10, in the Carquest Bowl.

Johnson's 195-yard effort topped the previous high of 148 yards by Kelvin Bryant, also against Arkansas, in the 1981 Gator Bowl. Johnson had just 23 yards on eight carries in the first half, but exploded for 172 yards in the second half.

All-America tackle Marcus Jones capped his career with four tackles for losses, including a quarterback sack on Arkansas' last play from scrimmage - his final collegiate play.

Trailing by a touchdown the Tar Heels quickly moved into position to tie the game. On third-and-long quarterback Mike Thomas rolled right, threw back across the field to Ashford, who sprinted around the left flank into the end zone.

The Razorbacks managed to take a 10-7 lead in the third quarter on a 26-yard field goal by Latourette. Two series later Carolina went into the lead for good. On third-and-eight from the 28, Thomas ran the option around the right corner, turned upfield and then pitched the ball to Johnson, who was trailing the play perfectly. Johnson ran untouched for a 28-yard, go-ahead score.

1997 GATOR BOWL
Jacksonville, Fla.
Carolina 20, West Virginia 13
January 1, 1997

Oscar Davenport, starting in place of injured first-team all-conference quarterback Chris Keldorf, completed 14 of 26 passes for 175 yards and one touchdown as Carolina defeated West Virginia 20-13 in the 52nd annual Toyota Gator Bowl. Davenport, who also rushed for one touchdown, was named the game's MVP.

Carolina broke the scoring drought early in the second quarter when Davenport found Octavus Barnes in the back corner of the end zone on an 18-yard pass. As time was running down in the first half, Davenport and Leon Johnson led the Tar Heels on a five-play touchdown drive. Johnson caught a pass for 13 yards and rushed twice for 19 yards in the drive. Davenport scored on a 5-yard option keeper for a 17-3 lead.

West Virginia opened the second-half scoring with a 34-yard touchdown pass to close within seven points. A fumble recovery by Greg Williams ended one WVU threat, but West Virginia had one last chance to tie the game late in the fourth quarter. Carolina stopped the Mountaineers on 4th-and-6 at the UNC 24 with just under two minutes remaining.

Dre' Bly, Carolina's consensus first-team All-America, picked off two second-half passes. Carolina's defense forced four West Virginia turnovers; the Mountaineers had 10 in 11 regular-season games.

BOWL GAMES

1998 GATOR BOWL

Jacksonville, Fla.
Carolina 42, Virginia Tech 3
January 1, 1998

Chris Keldorf threw for 290 yards and three scores and Carolina's defense and special teams added touchdowns as the Tar Heels pounded Virginia Tech, 42-3, in the Toyota Gator Bowl.

The victory, UNC's most lopsided in a bowl game, secured a No. 4 final ranking in the coaches' poll for the 11-1 Tar Heels. The game was Carl Torbush's first as Carolina's head coach. Torbush, UNC's defensive coordinator the past 10 years, was elevated to head coach on December 8th after Mack Brown accepted the same position at the University of Texas.

Keldorf completed 17 of 28 passes, including touchdown throws of 62 and 14 yards to wide receiver Octavus Barnes and four yards to fullback Jamie Carrick.

Carolina amassed 427 total yards and held the Hokies to just 185 yards. Leading 3-0, Keldorf hit Barnes with a 62-yard bomb down the left sideline for a 10-0 lead. Later in the first quarter, Carolina forced Virginia Tech to punt deep in Hokie territory. Quinton Savage blocked the punt and Dre' Bly scooped it up at the 6-yard line and scored for a 16-0 UNC advantage.

One minute and 10 seconds after Bly's touchdown, Ellis fell on a loose ball in the Tech end zone for another touchdown. Carolina scored 16 first-quarter points in the entire regular season, but scored 16 in the first quarter of the Gator Bowl and six more just seven seconds into the second quarter.

The 42 points were the most in UNC postseason history and the three touchdown passes by Keldorf set a UNC bowl game record. Barnes concluded his career with 16 receptions and four touchdowns in four postseason games.

1998 LAS VEGAS BOWL

Las Vegas, Nev.
Carolina 20, San Diego State 13
December 19, 1998

Ronald Curry rushed for a season-high 93 yards and a touchdown, punter Brian Schmitz was outstanding despite windy conditions and the Tar Heel defense did not allow a TD in the last 59 minutes as Carolina defeated San Diego State, 20-13.

Curry, the game's Most Valuable Offensive Player, gave Carolina the lead for good with a 48-yard touchdown run on the final play of the opening quarter. He rushed for 93 yards on 10 carries and accounted for 96 of Carolina's 196 total offense yards, despite playing just four series.

The game was played winds gusting to 47 miles per hour. Passing was almost impossible. In fact, Carolina won the game despite completing just four passes for 33 yards.

Schmitz averaged 44.0 yards on five punts and pinned the Aztecs inside their own 11-yard line four times. Late in the second quarter, Schmitz unloaded a 66-yard punt into the wind.

San Diego State took an early 7-0 lead in the first minute of the game before the Tar Heels scored 20 unanswered points to close the first half. After two second-half field goals cut it to 20-13, the Aztecs had one final chance to tie the game. With just over a minute left, Dre' Bly broke up a pass in the end zone. On the following play, Brandon Spoon tipped Brian Russell's pass in the air and the ball was intercepted at the goal line by Keith Newman with 59 seconds remaining.

2001 PEACH BOWL

Atlanta, Ga.
Carolina 16, Auburn 10
December 31, 2001

Willie Parker rushed for 131 yards and Ryan Sims led a spirited defensive effort as North Carolina won its fifth consecutive postseason bowl appearance with a 16-10 victory over Auburn in the Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl. The win capped off the greatest turnaround in school history as Carolina completed the season by winning eight of its last 10 games after starting 0-3.

Parker, who started his first game since September, was spectacular, scoring on a 10-yard run in the first quarter and setting up a second-quarter field goal with a 43-yard dash. Parker had the fifth-best rushing day in UNC bowl history and it was the 11th time a Tar Heel had rushed for more than 100 yards in a bowl game.

Parker's touchdown was set up by Carolina's defense, which allowed just 32 total rushing yards and shutout Auburn for three quarters. In the first quarter, cornerback Michael Waddell forced a fumble at the Auburn 26-yard line that defensive end Joey Evans picked up and rumbled to the Auburn 8-yard line. Two plays later, Parker's touchdown gave Carolina a 7-0 lead.

Curry, who was named the game's Offensive MVP, scored on an incredible touchdown run in the third quarter to give Carolina a 16-0 advantage.

Defensively, Carolina came up with several big plays throughout the game and held off a furious Auburn comeback in the fourth quarter. Sims, the Defensive MVP, had six tackles, including two sacks and was constantly disrupting the Auburn backfield.

After scoring twice in the fourth quarter, Auburn attempted an onside kick, but UNC's Richard Moore covered the ball and the Tar Heels ran out the clock.

2004 CONTINENTAL TIRE BOWL
Charlotte, N.C.
Boston College 37, Carolina 24
December 30, 2004

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) - Headed off the field on a stretcher with a broken leg, Paul Peterson heard the roar of the crowd and knew his teammates were about to score. He glanced up at the scoreboard just in time to see kicker Ryan Ohliger take a fake field goal into the end zone for a 21-yard touchdown run that sealed Boston College's 37-24 victory over North Carolina in the Continental Tire Bowl.

Clinging to a 27-24 lead over North Carolina (6-6) in the fourth quarter, Peterson was injured as he tried to run outside for a first down on third-and-1 and was brought down awkwardly by Tommy Davis.

Ohliger, a 5-foot-9 freshman, took the handoff from Ryan and raced into the end zone, breaking a tackle a long the way, for a 34-24 lead with 10:32 to play.

Peterson continued his trip to the locker room as the Eagles celebrated. X-rays showed a broken left tibia, and team officials said he would need surgery.

Before leaving, the quarterback went 24-of-33 for 236 yards and two touchdowns, helping Boston College win a bowl game for the fifth straight season.

The Eagles gave the Big East its first win in the 3-year-old bowl game. It was BC's final game in the league - it joins the Atlantic Coast Conference in 2005.

Virginia represented the ACC in the first two Tire Bowls, so the inclusion of North Carolina was a welcome change of scenery. Tar Heels fans snapped up over 65,000 tickets, washing out the scattering of Boston College supporters in a sea of light blue.

They had plenty to cheer about early as North Carolina seized the momentum by scoring a pair of touchdowns after Peterson's fumble and Ohliger's missed field goal.

North Carolina quarterback Darian Durant threw for 260 yards and three TDs in his final game as a Tar Heel. He finished his storied career with 51 school records, including all major passing and total offense records.

BOWL GAMES

North Carolina has played in 25 postseason bowl games, including nine in the last 13 years heading into the 2006 season. The Tar Heels are 12-13 all-time in bowl games and are 6-3 since 1990.

UNC is second behind Clemson in bowl appearances among schools that were charter members of the Atlantic Coast Conference, and the Tar Heels have the most appearances of any charter school since the league was formed in 1953.

Beginning with the Sugar Bowl in 1947, Carolina has played in 11 different bowl games. The Tar Heels are 5-2 in the Gator Bowl, 2-2 in the Sun, 1-0 in the Bluebonnet, 1-0 in the Carquest, 1-0 in the Continental Tire, 2-3 in the Peach, 0-1 in the Cotton, 0-1 in the Liberty, 0-1 in the Aloha and 0-2 in the Sugar.

The Official Publication of the Carolina Lettermen — The University of North Carolina

Tar Heels take the field in Kenan Stadium. This "Band of Brothers" embody the spirit of teamwork, sacrifice and unselfishness understood by many eras of Tar Heel Lettermen

A New Day: Carolina Lettermen Expand Vision, Goals, Activities.

The Carolina football program is embarking in 2005 on a major initiative to expand and strengthen its existing Carolina Lettermen's Association. The Playbook newsletter, a new website, a comprehensive Lettermen's Directory and a variety of other programs in the works are part of a plan recently announced by Carolina Coach John Bunting.

The group's mission statement is simple: "Unite Carolina Lettermen to enjoy fellowship and create support for the UNC Football Program."

"I am very excited about the potential of our Lettermen's Association," says Bunting, a three-year letter winner while playing linebacker for the Tar Heels from 1969-71. "We have had a good, active program since I've been here. But we want to make it better. We want to make it stronger."

The upgraded program for former Tar Heels is the result of extensive study, research and brain-storming on the part of Bunting, his staff, Rams Club officials and a cadre of former lettermen—most notably Battle Will and Brent Milgrim, both of Charlotte.

"We have looked closely at what lettermen at other schools are doing, and we're behind the curve," says Will, a defensive lineman from 1966-68. "We want to form a group that will transcend any era, that will be a strong family, regardless of whom an individual played for, what position they played and what their contribution was."

Adds Milgrim, a linebacker from 1964-66. "Our estimates are that there are roughly 1,200 living lettermen. I would guess that 250 or so Healthy Lettermen's Group Vital to Tar Heels' Success.

By John Bunting, Head Football Coach

To My Fellow Carolina Lettermen:

There are a substantial number of constituencies within a program as large and diverse as Carolina football—players, recruits, assistant coaches, support staff, fans, alumni, Rams Club members, media. Each plays an important role.

One constituency that is very near and dear to me are the Tar Heel lettermen – my former teammates, the guys I went to war with years ago in Kenan Stadium. There are the heroes who came before me like Charlie "Choo Choo" Justice and Chris Hanburger and the amazing players who followed me like Kelvin Bryant (one of my favorites) to Dre' Bly. The Carolina Lettermen are a vital cog in this fan base. This group is one I'm excited about emphasizing with our new and improved Carolina Lettermen Association.

I'll never forget my recruiting trip to Chapel Hill in the winter of 1968. A graduate assistant coach named John Atherton was my host, and I was immediately drawn to his letter jacket. The interlocking "NC" on that classy looking navy jacket really popped my eyes. It looked to me like it was worth a thousand dollars. It was very impressive. I wanted one of those jackets right then and there.

I earned my first letter my sophomore year, but it wasn't until the next year that I actually received one of those beautiful jackets. It's been something I've treasured and revered for more than three decades now. I wore it all the time in Philadelphia in the 1970s during my career with the Eagles, and my daughter Kori wore it four years in high

MEDIA INFORMATION

CAROLINA FOOTBALL 2006

MEDIA INFORMATION

ATHLETIC COMMUNICATIONS

Football media services are coordinated by Director of Football Communications Kevin Best and Assistant Athletic Communications Director John Martin. Please direct interview, information and photo requests to Best or Martin.

CREDENTIALS

Requests for working press credentials at Carolina home football games should be made in writing on station/newspaper/magazine letterhead to Associate A.D. for Communications Steve Kirschner. The mailing address is P.O. Box 2126, Chapel Hill, N.C. 27515. Requests may be sent via fax (919-962-0612) or e-mail (stevekirschner@unc.edu), but all requests should be sent so they reach the Athletic Communications Office at least one week prior to the game.

Credentials will be mailed or they may be picked up before 5 p.m. on Friday at the Athletic Communications Office. Those credentials not picked up by 5 p.m. on Friday will be left for Saturday pickup at Kenan Stadium Will Call at Gate 6 directly beneath the Press Box. Will Call opens two hours prior to kickoff.

SIDELINE POLICY

Photographers will not be allowed on the sidelines without a UNC-issued photographer's vest. Vests will be distributed in the press box beginning 90 minutes prior to kickoff. Each photographer must sign in for his/her own vest. Under NCAA and Atlantic Coast Conference guidelines, photographers are not allowed between the 25-yard lines and must remain outside the restraining lines surrounding the field. Credential holders not working will be asked to leave the sidelines. A representative of the Athletic Communications Office will be on the field to handle any questions and serve as field liaison to press box officials. We ask, for the safety of others, that equipment not be left unattended on the sidelines. If you are shooting with a tripod, please keep a safe distance from the playing field.

GAME DAY PARKING

Requests for parking passes should be made well in advance to Steve Kirschner. Single-game parking passes will be mailed.

Parking is located either in the Ramshead Deck on Ridge Road or the East Drive Deck at the corner of East and Manning Drive.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

Following a brief cooling-off period, requested UNC players will head directly to the interview area in the player's lounge on the second floor of Kenan Football Center for a 20-25 minute interview period. The Tar Heels' locker room is closed.

Representatives from the Communications Office will take player requests from the media during the fourth quarter. Local television media who are on the field during the game should make player requests prior to the end of the game to the on-field Communications representative.

Head coach John Bunting will conduct a short interview with Woody Durham for the Tar Heel Sports Network's live broadcast while the players are in the interview area. Bunting will begin his postgame press conference in the Hall of Honor, approximately 15 minutes after the players have begun their interview period.

After night games, Bunting and the players will be available simultaneously due to deadline demands. Quotes will be gathered from both Bunting and several players for distribution in the press box. Away game procedures will vary, depending on available facilities.

Please note: Bunting is contractually obligated to do a short postgame interview with the Tar Heel Sports Radio Network. After night games, great care will be taken to get Bunting to the general media as quickly as possible. We understand everyone has deadline pressures after late games and will do our best to provide access to Bunting as quickly as possible.

PHONES

The Department of Athletics furnishes approximately 12 telephones along press row for media to file stories. All long distance calls must be by credit card, collect or billed to a third number. Anyone desiring a private phone should contact Bell South at least two weeks prior to the game. If you are calling from within the 919 area code, dial 780-2800. However, if you are calling from outside the 919 area code, then you must dial 1-800-919-2800.

Phone lines and ethernet access are available for use by photographers only in the main press area. UNC Director of Photography Jeffrey Camarati coordinates the photographer's work area.

Note: The on-campus building number for the press box at Kenan Stadium, for which you will be asked, is #519. List Steve Kirschner as the stadium contact for placing the phone.

Fax machines are available for media use. Media should make a representative of the Athletic Communications Office aware of their fax needs prior to the end of the game.

INTERNET AVAILABILITY

The Kenan Stadium press box is wireless. Media with wireless capability should be able to connect to the internet by simply turning on their computers in the press box. Media also have access to the internet via ethernet jacks installed throughout the press box at Kenan Stadium.

INTERVIEWS WITH HEAD COACH JOHN BUNTING

John Bunting will meet with the media at 11 a.m. each Tuesday prior to a game. Bunting will meet with the print media for approximately 30-40 minutes and then meet with the TV media for approximately 15 minutes. Out-of-town media may access the print portion of the press conference by phone. You can listen and ask questions, time permitting, by using this service. Contact Kevin Best for the phone number.

Bunting is also available on the weekly ACC Teleconference on Wednesdays at 11:30 a.m. Contact Brian Morrison at the ACC or Best for the phone number. Bunting will also be available via teleconference for 15 minutes on Sundays (day after games only) at 5 p.m. Contact Best for the number.

CAROLINA FOOTBALL MEDIA INFORMATION

PLAYER INTERVIEWS

All player interviews should be arranged through Kevin Best or John Martin. Players have been instructed not to grant an interview request unless they have been set up in this manner. The interviews will generally be conducted at the conclusion of practice at the practice field or Football Center. All interviews are to be conducted on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday.

Telephone interviews are conducted at the player's convenience. Usually they are handled by players returning calls immediately after practice (between approximately 6:30 and 7:30 p.m.). No home numbers for players will be given out and players have been told not to accept calls from anyone asking football-related questions.

Please do not show up and wait for players unannounced on campus, at players' housing or the Football Center. The players have been instructed to politely decline the request and refer the person to the Communications Office.

Players may do taped radio interviews but will not be available for live call-in radio shows.

Note: Due to the overwhelming number of all-sports radio talk stations, players will generally not be available to appear on these shows. Hometown stations, stations in that week's opponent's market or national shows may be accommodated.

PRACTICE COVERAGE

Subject to change, Carolina will practice each Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday beginning at 4 p.m. on the practice fields located directly across the street from the baseball stadium and adjacent to the UNC School of Law. Please wait at the tunnel (field side) leading into the lockerroom at the Kenan Football Center. Players and coaches are available to meet with the media after practice on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

CAMPUS MAP

DIRECTIONS TO MEDIA PARKING

- From Eastern North Carolina and/or Raleigh/Durham International Airport: Take I-40 West to Chapel Hill. Stay in the left or middle lane because I-40 splits about five miles past the airport (the right lane heads to Durham). Stay to the left and follow I-40 West to Exit 273-A. Follow NC-54 West for approximately three miles. Exit right onto Route 15-501 South/54 West and follow for one mile. Turn right at the traffic light onto Manning Drive. Go up the hill, stay straight through the intersection. The next traffic light will be at the intersection of Manning Drive and Gravely Drive. Press parking is either in the Ramshead Deck on Ridge Road or the Dogwood Deck on Manning Drive.
- From North of Chapel Hill: Take I-85 South to Durham. I-85 will split at exit 174. The right-hand lane takes you to I-40 and Greensboro. Stay in the left-hand lane and take exit 174 (a left-hand exit) for 15-501 South. Stay on 15-501 South to Chapel Hill. Stay to the left on 15-501 Bypass until you turn right onto Manning Drive. See above.
- From Charlotte and West of Chapel Hill: Take I-85 North to I-40 East. 85 and 40 split in Hillsborough, just west of Chapel Hill. Take I-40 to exit 270 and exit onto Route 15-501 South. Stay on 15-501 South to Chapel Hill. Stay to the left on 15-501 Bypass when it splits into 15-501 and Franklin Street. Follow 15-501 to Manning Drive and turn right. See above.
- From South of Chapel Hill: Take I-77 North to I-85 and then follow the same directions as from Charlotte. Or take I-95 North to I-40 West. 95 and 40 converge just north of Benson, N.C. Then take I-40 all the way to Chapel Hill and follow the directions from the airport. See above.

The Tar Heels Sparts Netwark On Air Talent (l-r):
Lee Pace, Woody Durham, Jones Angell and Rick Steinbacher

Learfield Communications begins its seventh full year as the official media rights holder for the University of North Carolina athletic teams, primarily football and basketball.

Based in Jefferson City, Missouri, Learfield purchased Tar Heel Sports Marketing in October 1999, adding the UNC property to 26 other schools under the Learfield umbrella. Among those for which Learfield also owns the rights are Alabama, Clemson, Colorado, Oklahoma, Indiana, Miami (Fla.), Missouri, South Carolina and Wisconsin.

"Our goal is to continue and add to the tremendous tradition and fan following at Carolina," says Gary Sobba, the six-year General Manager for Tar Heel Sports Marketing.

"I have worked on various college campuses for more than last 18 years," adds Sobba, "and if there is a better athletic program in the country than this one, I don't know where it is."

Tar Heel Sports Marketing is in its 12th year as UNC's multimedia rights holder. All Carolina fans have heard of the Tar Heel Sports Network, which broadcasts the play-by-play of football and basketball games, but that is only one facet of the operation.

Tar Heel Sports Marketing is a full-service agency overseeing production and sales of all the University of North Carolina's football and basketball entities including television, print products, internet and radio.

THSM brings you a variety of ways to follow the Heels during the athletic season. Simply, listen to your radio on Thursday nights for the head coaches on their radio call-in shows or watch game highlights Saturday mornings on "Inside Carolina Football and Basketball," and on "Tar Heel Football Review Show" in the Triangle. When you are at Kenan Stadium pick-up the official game program.

The Tar Heel Sports Network continues to bring the great tradition of Carolina sports into your home.

Woody Durham, beginning his 36th year as the "Voice of the Tar Heels," and Head Coach John Bunting give fans an opportunity to phone in and talk with the Coach every Thursday evening during the football season on the "John Bunting Live" call in show.

Durham also will visit with Coach Bunting on "Inside Carolina Football", a daily five-minute program featuring conversations with the Tar Heels' Head Coach. Both of these shows are heard on stations throughout North Carolina and beyond.

"Inside Carolina Football with John Bunting," hosted by Durham, is a half-hour television program seen each week on Fox Sports South. The show features highlights of the previous game, interviews with current and former Tar Heel players, and a preview of upcoming action.

WOODY DURHAM
"THE VOICE OF THE TAR HEELS"
36TH YEAR AT NORTH CAROLINA

A 2005 North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame inductee, Woody Durham enters his 36th year as the "Voice of the Tar Heels" this fall.

Since September 1971, Durham has broadcast nearly 1,600 Carolina football and basketball games, and the Tar Heels have won more than 72 percent of those games.

A native of Mebane, N.C., Durham grew up in Albemarle, N.C., where he began his broadcasting career with WZKY Radio at age 16. He graduated from UNC in 1963 with an AB degree in Radio, Television and Motion Pictures, and spent 19 years as a TV sportscaster with stints in Greensboro and Raleigh-Durham-Chapel Hill.

In 1981, Durham joined Tar Heel Sports Marketing, which produces the Tar Heel Sports Network, on a full-time basis, and in 1984, he permanently moved his family to Chapel Hill. He and his wife of 43 years, Jean, are the parents of two sons. Wes, 40, a former Georgia Sportscaster of the Year, is in his 12th year handling play-by-play duties at Georgia Tech, and his third year handling the play-by-play duties for the NFL's Atlanta Falcons. Taylor, 33, is a network recruitment manager with International Sports Properties in Winston-Salem. Woody and Jean have seven-year-old twin grandchildren, Emily and Will.

Durham has been named North Carolina Sportscaster of the Year on 12 different occasions, most recently in 2005. In fact, Woody and Wes were both honored by the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association in Salisbury on May 1, 2006. It was the fourth time Wes has been chosen the Georgia Sportscaster of the Year.

In 1993, Woody was inducted into the Stanly County Sports Hall of Fame. In 1994, he received the Priceless Gem Award from the UNC Department of Athletics. The following year, the General Alumni Association presented him with its Distinguished Service Medal. In November 2000, the UNC Board of Trustees honored him with the William R. Davie Award. During the 2002 ACC Basketball Tournament, he received the Marvin "Skeeter" Francis Award for special services to the ACC. In 2003, Durham was honored by the North Carolina High School Athletic Association, along with former Carolina football coach Bill Dooley, with the Russell Blunt Legends Award for being a true legend in athletics.

Durham was inducted into the North Carolina Broadcasters Association Hall of Fame in 2004, honoring individuals who have made significant contributions to the North Carolina broadcast industry. He also has received the Lindsey Nelson Outstanding Sportscaster Award from the All-American Football Association (June, 2005).

In addition to his play-by-play duties, Durham also visits with Coach John Bunting on "Inside Carolina Football," a daily five-minute radio program. He is with Coach Bunting every Thursday evening during the football season for "John Bunting Live," a radio call-in show which originates from Lucy's in downtown Chapel Hill. He also hosts "Inside Carolina Football with John Bunting," a weekly half-hour TV show on Fox Sports South.

CAROLINA TRADITIONS

WHY TAR HEELS?

University of North Carolina athletic teams are known as the Tar Heels because North Carolina is "The Tar Heel State."

One legend has the nickname being applied to the state's residents as long ago as the Revolutionary War. According to this story, the troops of British General Cornwallis were fording what is now known as the Tar River between Rocky Mount and Battleboro when they discovered that tar had been dumped into the stream to impede their crossing. When they finally got across the river they found their feet completely black with tar. Their observation that anyone who waded North Carolina rivers would acquire tar heels led to the nickname first being used.

Others say the nickname was acquired during the Civil War. During one of that war's fiercest battles a column supporting North Carolina troops was driven from the field. After the battle, the North Carolinians who had successfully fought it out alone, happened to meet the regiment which had fled to safety and were greeted with the question, "Any more tar down in the Old North State, boys?"

"No, not a bit," shot back one of the North Carolina soldiers. "Old Jeff's bought it all up," he went on, referring to Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy.

"Is that so? What's he going to do with it?"

"He's going to put it on you'ns heels to make you stick better in the next fight."

Upon hearing of the incident, Robert E. Lee smiled and said to a fellow officer, "God bless the Tar Heel boys."

A letter found in 1991 by State Archivist David Olson lends credence to another more direct theory. A letter from Maj. Joseph Engelhard describes a fight involving men from North Carolina in which Lee was heard to have said, "There they stand as if they have tar on their heels."

The letter, dated August 24, 1864, told the tale of a battle on the outskirts of Petersburg, Va. Engelhard was elected secretary of state for North Carolina in 1876.

RAM MASCOT

Since Carolina's nickname is Tar Heels, it might seem strange to have a ram as a mascot. It is. But, there is a good explanation. It's offered by Vic Huggins, Carolina's head cheerleader back in 1924.

"In 1924 school spirit was at a peak," Huggins once explained. "But something seemed to be missing. One day it hit me. Georgia had a bulldog for a mascot and State a wolf. What Carolina needed was a symbol."

Two years earlier the Tar Heels had posted a brilliant 9-1 record. The star of that 1922 team was a bruising fullback named Jack Merritt. Merritt was nicknamed "the battering ram" for the way he plunged into lines. It seemed natural to Huggins to link a mascot with Merritt's nickname.

"Charlie Woollen, the athletic business manager at that time, agreed with the idea and gave us $25 to purchase a fitting mascot," said Huggins.

Rameses the First was shipped in from Texas, arriving just in time to be introduced at a pep rally before the VMI game. Complete with a monogram blanket on his back, Rameses helped make the pep rally one of the school's greatest.

Then the ram was taken to Emerson Field where Carolina was an underdog to a strong VMI team. But, for three quarters the Tar Heels battled the visitors to a scoreless tie.

Late in the fourth period Carolina's Bunn Hackney was called upon to attempt a field goal. Before taking the field he stopped to rub Rameses' head for good luck.

Seconds later Hackney's 30-yard dropkick sailed between the goalposts, giving the Tar Heels a 3-0 victory and a legendary mascot.

SCHOOL COLORS

The adoption of light blue and white as UNC's colors dates back to the 19th Century. When the University reopened following the Civil War, most social activities were directed by two literary societies, the Dialectic and Philanthropic. The official color of the Di was light blue and that of the Phi white. On public occasions the student officers, marshals and ball managers were chosen equally from the membership of the two societies. It had long been the custom of each society for its members to wear its color on such occasions. However, the chief marshal and chief ball manager, one from the Di and the other from the Phi, wore combination light blue and white regalias and rosettes signifying that they represented the whole student body.

So it seemed only natural for the fans to adorn themselves with the same combination as that used by the chief marshals and ball managers, colors which represented not membership in a society, but a University student body.

CAROLINA FIGHT SONGS

• HERE COMES CAROLINA

Here comes Caralina-lina
Here comes Caralina-lina
We hail fram NCU.
We've got the spirit in it
We've got the team ta win it
We wear the calars White and Blue –
So it's Fight! Fight! far Caralina
As Davie did in days af ald.
As we gather 'raund the 'Well
Cheer that Tar Heel team like hell –
Far the glary af NCU.

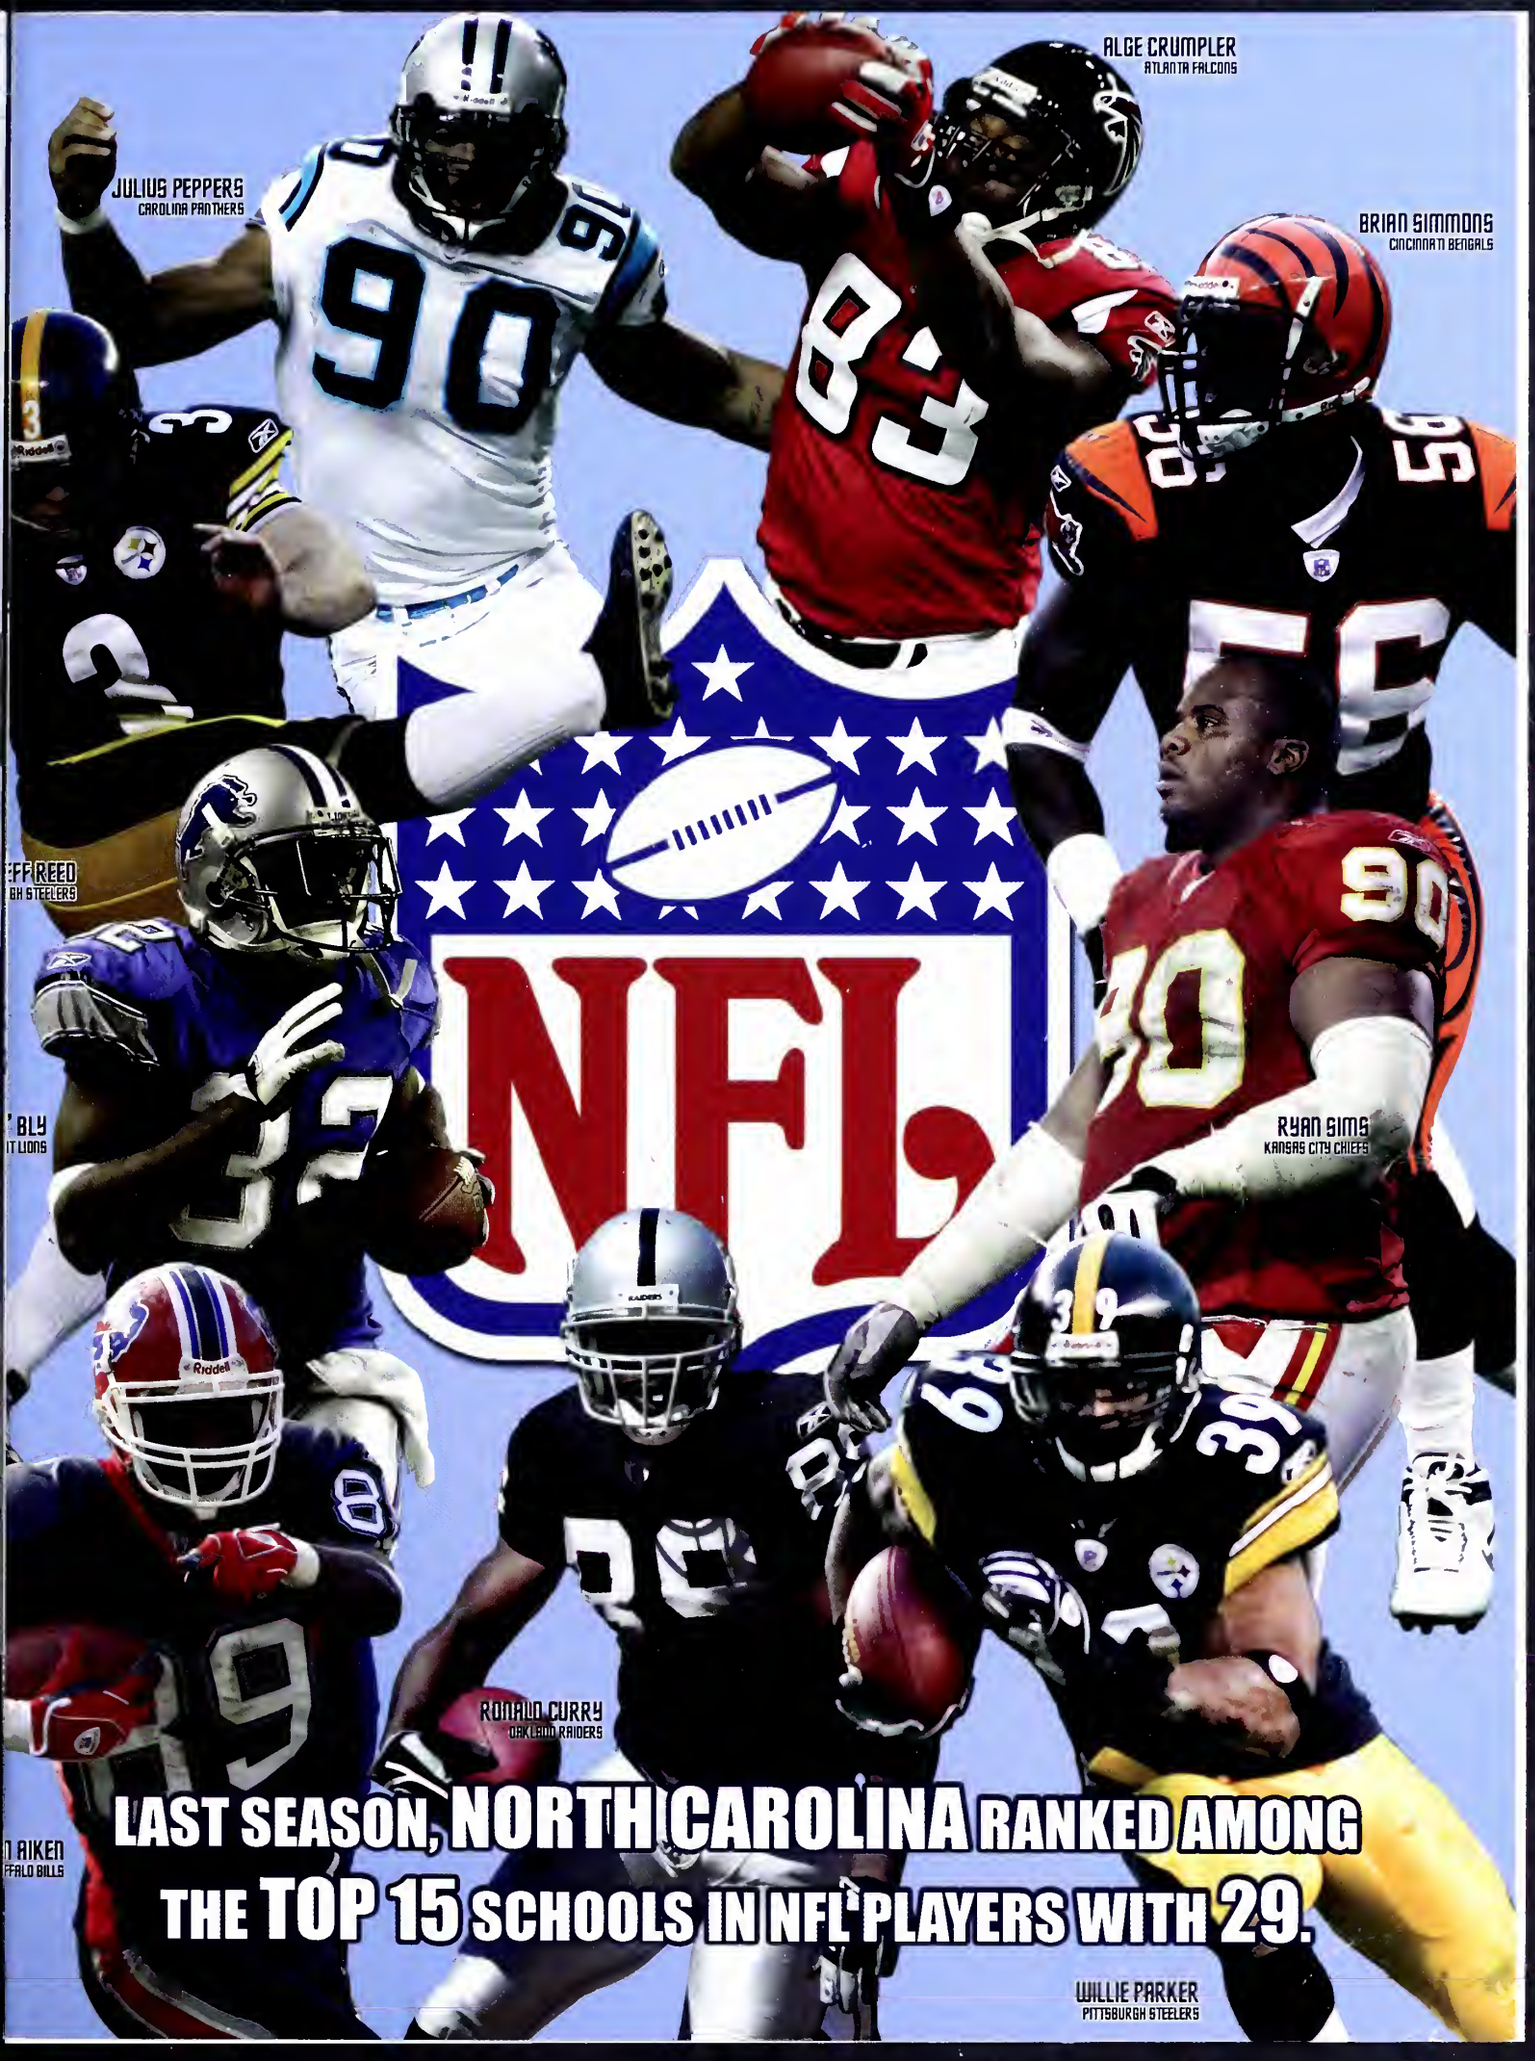

• CAROLINA VICTORY MARCH

There'll be a Caralina victary,
When crass that field the fae has fled.
Cheer that team ta victary,
Far we are Tar Heels born and bred.
Rah! Rah! Rah!
Glary, glary, UNC.
Our hearts will live with thee
Fight! Fight! Fight!
Far the Blue & White are ralling ta victary.

• ALMA MATER

Hark the saund af Tar Heel voices
Ringing clear and true,
Singing Caralina's praises, Shauting "NCU."
(charus)
Hail ta the brightest star af all!
Clear its radiance shine
Caralina, priceless gem,
Receive all praises thine.
(refrain)
Far I'm a Tar Heel barn
I'm a Tar Heel bred,
And when I die I'm a Tar Heel dead.
Sa it's – Rah, Rah, Caralina-lina
Rah, Rah, Caralina-lina
Rah, Rah, Caralina!
Rah! Rah! Rah!
